France to Ask Great Britain
If She Intends to Stand by Treaty

PARIS, April 9.—The British attitude regarding the French occupation of Frankfurt will cause the opening of a diplomatic conversation between the powers of the entente concerning the whole subject of action with regard to Germany. It was said today in official circles.

In this conversation the French attitude will be based first on maintenance of the entente, and second on strict execution of the treaty of Versailles. The French, although declaring themselves not satisfied with some of the terms of the treaty, accepted it as finally signed and now consider it sort of a charter as regards relations with Germany. Great Britain, it is thought here, considers it rather as a sort of plastic basis of settlement of European affairs which is capable of diverse modifications.

Conciliation of these viewpoints will be the object of the ensuing conversations, during which France, it is stated, will probably ask Great Britain whether it stands for execution of the treaty.

CAUSE OF COLLISION

Crash in Which 24 Were Killed Due to Misunderstanding of Order

AGUSTA, Me., April 9.—The primary cause of the collision on the Canadian Pacific Railway at Onawa on Dec. 20, by which 24 persons were killed and 33 received injuries, some of which were of a serious nature, was the misunderstanding of an order, received at Onawa, by the conductor, and engineer and a brakeman of the freight train which collided with an immigrant train. According to a decision by the public utilities commission, to-

LOWELL'S MAYOR IS UNDERPAID

This Fact Disclosed by Canvass of Seven Representative Cities

School Superintendent's Salary Below Average, Despite Recent Increase

The salary being paid to the mayor of the city of Lowell is $1357 below the average being paid chief executives of seven representative Massachusetts cities and the Lowell executive is the lowest paid mayor of those seven cities.

Furthermore, only two of those cities are paying less salaries to their superintendents of schools than Lowell.
The local superintendent is receiving $209 a year less than the average salary of school superintendents of the cities in question, despite his recent increase of $950 per year.

Since the recent action of the school committee in increasing Supt. Hugh J.
Molloy's salary to $1800 per year, there has been considerable discussion as to the comparative salaries being paid to mayors and superintendents throughout the state. Supt. Molloy is today the city's highest paid official, receiving $1800 a year more than Mayor Ferry. D. Thompson, whose salary still stands at $3000.

In order to furnish some idea of how other cities judged the comparative worth of their mayors and superintendents of schools, The Sun made a canvass of six representative municipalities in various sections of the state and found that Lowell is paying her mayor less money than any of those cities canvassed. However, most cities inclined to the belief that the superintendent of schools is deserving of greater remuneration than the chief executive for in only one city, New Bedford, is the superintendent getting less than the mayor.

POLICE CHIEF TALKS

Says City Will Be Well Protected if Mayor Adopts His Suggestions

That the city of Lowell will have ample police protection if suggestions made by him recently to Mayor Perry D. Thompson are adopted was the statement made today by Supt. Welch in discussing the criticism levelled at the local police department in the past weeks in which it has been alleged that some sections of the city, particularly the Highlands district, are at present inadequately policed and that local insurance firms are to increase their rates as a result of the activities of thieves and burglars in the city.

These suggestions, the chief said, were as follows:
First, that four members of the department who were recently appointed and have not yet been assigned to any specific duties other than theatre work—the expense of which is borne by the management of the theatres—shall be assigned to cover the routes left more or less unguarded during the regular patrolman's "day-off"—which is at present one day or night in every fifteen.

Under the existing system it is customary, when a patrolman has time off, for the two men on immediately adjoining routes to "double up" in an attempt to cover the territory left unguarded, thus making it almost impossible to give the entire district adequate protection.

By assigning the four men new on theatre duty to cover these routes when the regular patrolman is out, the superintendent believes that a long step

REAL ESTATE

T. C. Entwistle Co., Purchases the Gates Property

What is known as the Gates property extending from the Community club building in Dutton street through Market street to Worthen street, which was owned by Joseph Marin, has been sold to the T. C. Entwistle Co. The amount involved in the transaction is not mentioned, but is said to be over $10,000.

This property was purchased by Joseph Marin a few months ago. It consists of a three-story brick building in Dutton street, a three-story wooden building in Market street and a four-story brick building in Market and Worthen streets. The assessed valuation for the entire property is $11,500.

The T. C. Entwistle Co., the purchaser, has been a tenant of the Market street and Worthen street buildings for a great number of years, the wooden building being used for the office and the brick structure for manufacturing purposes. The company will continue to occupy these buildings.
No plans have as yet been made relative to the Dutton street building.

ROY M. TAYLOR RESIGNS

Assistant General Manager of U. S. Cartridge Co., to Leave Lowell

Roy M. Taylor, assistant, general manager of the United States Cartridge Co. of this city, has tendered his resignation, it became known today, and at an early date is to become associated with the Industrial Co. of Boston, which controls and operates throughout the country several large manufacturing plants.

Mr. Taylor first came to Lowell in 1914 when he was appointed purchasing agent at the big ammunition works and assistant to Officer Manager Cohn and was a potent factor in the successful reorganization and upbuilding of the United States Cartridge company.

For a short time following this he was assistant general purchasing agent for the mammoth Remington works at Bridgeport, Conn., where he made an enviable name for himself as a shrewd, efficient buyer for their five large plants.

Later when it seemed certain that this country would enter the great war, Captain Doe, general manager of the local Cartridge company, prevailed upon Mr. Taylor to return here as manager of materials and upon the resignation of Mr. Cunningham, he became assistant general manager, the position which he now holds.

Because of his marked ability, absolute squareness and uniform, unflingling courtesy, Mr. Taylor has endeared himself to all with whom he has come in contact and, although regretting his departure, his friends and business associates wish for him continued success and prosperity.

COURT STENOGRAPHER TAKES OWN TESTIMONY

The action of contract in the sum of $2000 brought by Felix Albert against Narelisse Clairmont and which went to trial in the superior court here yesterday, was given to the jury shortly after the court re-convened today for the afternoon session.

An unusual event occurred during the morning session when Alexander M. Gilbert, court stenographer, was put on as a witness by plaintiff's counsel, to testify as to the contents of certain stenographic reports of evidence given at a previous trial of the case. Mr. Gilbert continued his sten-ographic work while on the stand, writing out questions of counsel and his own replies.

The next case on the list for trial in an action of contract brought by Finlay Christensen against Lilla M.
Baker. The plaintiff declares defendant owes him $210, loaned in varying sums during August and September, 1918. The defendant denies all allegations and further states that if the suit is on a bill or note, the same has been procured by fraud and calls upon the plaintiff to prove her signature.

In the case of LeBlanc vs. Delany, whereby the plaintiff brought suit, charging the defendant with causing the death of his wife in an automobile accident on the Lawrence-Lowell road, and in which defendant defaulted, the jury has awarded damages of $5000.

LOWELL FIRE HAZARDS

Discussed in Boston—Mayor Thompson Opposed to State Interference

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 9.—
Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Commissioner John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection in Lowell, appeared before the ways and means committee of the house today to discuss a resolve introduced by Senator Frank H. Pulfam of Lowell which directs the state fire marshal to make an investigation of fire hazards in Lowell with particular reference to the Highlands section.

Mayor Thompson told the committee that in his opinion there is no serious fire hazard in Lowell which would justify an investigation by state officials. During the period of severe weather in the past winter, he said, when it was particularly difficult for fire apparatus to get about, two or three fires occurred in the Highlands, but he believed that under ordinary conditions the fire danger in that section is no greater than in other residential sections.

Commissioner Salmon said that three new pieces of motor-driven apparatus had been ordered and that two would be placed in the Highlands.
Mayor Thompson at the conclusion of the hearing assured the committee that the city government would welcome any investigation made in an advisory, co-operative spirit, but that it is not willing that radical changes be enforced by the state authorities.

THEY'RE ENGAGED

These little Albanian youngsters, who applied at Red Cross headquarters for clean clothes, are engaged. That's the way the Albanians do it. The bridegroom-to-be is five years old and his wife-to-be is a bit younger. When they reach 15 years of age she will be his honored "first wife." Later, if the husband needs more help about his farm he can buy a second wife and even a third wife. One wife costs two goats and one lamb under the 1920 price. The "pay" goes to the wife's father.

ENLISTS TO FIGHT UNDER 4TH FLAG IN 4 YEARS

WARSAW, April 9.—Major Joseph C. Stehlin, a 23-year-old aviator, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who already has fought in three armies, has gone to Riga to enlist under the Polish flag in the war against the Russian Bolsheviks. If his services are accepted he will have served under four flags in four years. The colors of France, America, Poland and Latvia, in turn, have won his allegiance.

Since last fall Major Stehlin has been fighting in the aviation branch of the Polish army and in that service took part in the Polish drive which threw the Bolsheviks out of Dvinsk.

Stehlin, who was formerly a life guard at Sheephead Bay, Brooklyn, went to France in January, 1917, and joined the French Flying Corps where he won two citations and was promoted to be sergeant for aiding fellow aviators attacked by German planes.

When the American army came over to France Stehlin transferred his allegiance to the American flag, received a commission as first lieutenant of aviators and took part in action in the Champagne, Verdun and Soissons sectors. After the armistice he returned to the United States and he said to have joined the aviation section of the New York police as a captain.

Last September he joined the Polish forces recruited in New York, was commissioned as captain, came to Poland and was assigned to duty on the northeastern front. He spent four months with a Polish flying squadron, the only American with the Poles on that particular front, and participated in all the aviation work preceding and during the Polish attack on the Bolsheviks in the region of Dvinsk.

Stehlin has flown over parts of France, Belgium, Spain, Russia, Poland, Lithuania and the United States and has hopes soon of seeing Letty and Rita from the air in his service with the Lettis.

Major Stehlin says he has no idea what vocation he will take up if the war should end over here but he feels certain that he can never go back to the prosaic duties of a life guard at the beach. That game is not exciting enough for a man not yet 24 who has fought under four flags.

MARRIAGE LAWS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

LONDON, April 9.—A Russian wife is required to support her husband if she is able to do so and he is unable to work and in need of her support, under the marriage laws of Soviet Russia. A copy of this code, translated into English has just reached London from the Russian people's commissariat of justice.

It provides that married persons shall be expected to support each other. Should one refuse and the other be what is classed as a "needful" unit to work, the latter has the right to apply to the department of social security to compel the husband or wife, as the case may be, to pay support.

Mutual consent of husband and wife or merely the desire of one of them to be freed from the other may be considered as grounds for divorce. Local judges are authorized to hear divorce cases but their decisions are subject to appeal.

The matrimonial age is fixed at 18 for men and 16 for girls. Both must be of sound mind and mutually desirous of marriage. Differences of religion or vows of celibacy are no impediment. Married persons may choose to bear the surname of the bride or of the bridegroom or their joint names. Marriages contracted in accordance with religious forms are not binding unless the union is registered under the prescribed form of civil or Soviet marriages. Old forms of marriage law or, as it is termed, "the legalized forging together of men and women" are abolished.

Under the laws of succession in the Soviet code, none but the "needful" and the state may inherit property. The estates of emigrants and of rebels are subject to confiscation by the state.

THE FLAMINGO

One of America's Most Distinguished Bird-Citizens

It's some argument which is America's most distinguished bird-citizen—the eagle, the robin or the flamingo. But if the flamingo could endure the chill blasts that occasionally make the northern summer bluish, you may be sure he would be champion. A giant red bird, standing sometimes over six feet tall from toe to beak, he easily abounds other landscape effects in the borders of the gulf and the lower Atlantic. Look for him where there is plenty of good, juicy mud.

Florida especially knows him, and there are great colonies in the Bahama Islands, which are only a few miles off the Florida coast. The flamingo has a rather small, goose-like body, long spindle legs that trail along behind when he flies, and an extremely long neck and beak which, in flight, he sticks out straight before him as if he were intent on plucking a star out of the firmament.

The neck has 18 bones, and each bone is remarkably long. The nose of him is so Roman as to out-Roman the Romans. Starting in the middle, the beak rounds out and turns downward, the upper part overlapping the lower. Just like the human you occasionally see whose long upper lip carries down over his lower lip. This, reinforced by a tongue set with horny spines, makes it easy for him to hold crabs, water bugs, small fish, worms and other eats that his web feet rake out of the mud.

When it comes time to have a family, Ma Flamingo scrapes a lot of mud together into a heap. In a few hours the water drains away, and then she rounds out a hole in the top of it and lays two white eggs in the bare nest.

But it is the bird's wonderful red color that is his greatest attraction. Imagine witnessing the flight of a hundred or two of six-foot red birds!

While one hates to wash and boil dishcloths with tablecloths and napkins it is just as essential to have clean water for these humdrum hard-worked and stained pieces of linen as for the fine and snowy table linens. It is a good idea to wash the dish towels all by themselves. A dish towel comes in direct contact with the same spot that our food is served on. And on the condition of the dish towel depends the condition of the dish. Dish towels carefully washed in hot soap suds, rinsed and boiled in clear water and dried in sunshine mean easily wiped dishes and healthy families.

Dinner—Chicken loaf, sweet potato apples, creamed onions, cabbage salad, lemon ice, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Stewed figs make a change for breakfast, and are a valuable food. The black figs are a bit richer and sweeter for stewing, but are rather more difficult to get. If allowed to soak for several hours and cooked slowly in a double boiler and served with the syrup in which they were cooked, the figs are delicious. Sugar and lemon juice are added to the syrup after the figs have been removed and the syrup is then boiled for 10 minutes.

Chicken broth
Boil chicken till tender. Remove from broth and pick the bones. In a buttered baking dish put a layer of bread crumbs. The crumbs should be very coarse, the bread pulled in pieces with the fingers. On the crumbs dot generously bits of butter. Add a layer of chicken. The chicken should not be chopped, but prepared in thin slices. Add bread crumbs and chicken alternately until all is used. Pour over the whole 2 cups of chicken broth. The chicken should be cooked in as little water as possible and the broth reduced after the meat is removed to 2 cups.

A DECIDED SUCCESS

Our Corset Dept.

Is conducted with the idea of making it a service department and it is a decided success.

Our saleswomen were trained to fit carefully and correctly, and when making selections from various lines, we select models only after a thorough study to discover those most satisfactory. Results have proved that our plan was correct.

Many customers because of the personal, almost intimate, attention they receive, patronize our corset department and they invariably return.

We would appreciate the opportunity to extend our corset services to you.

Because you pay high prices for some cuts, such as steak, you may think food is terribly high. YOU CAN LIVE just as well, if not better, by eating different cuts, such as chuck roasts for pot roasts, corned beef, and fresh thin ribs and sticker pieces for different dishes. These cuts are very much cheaper, and are delicious when properly cooked. Be economical and cut out the "quick to get" foods and you will be surprised at the money you save.

SAVED FROM ELECTRIC CHAIR

Teregno Sentenced to Die
Granted New Trial by Judge Brown

Verdict Set Aside Because
of Conduct of Jurors and
Deputy Sheriffs

BOSTON, April 2.—With the death by electrocution less than 36 hours away, Antonio Teregno was last night given a stay of execution by Judge Nelson B. Brown. The verdict against Teregno was set aside and a new trial ordered.

Judge Brown made this finding at 7.30, after two hours and a half of deliberation on the testimony which was presented yesterday afternoon by Frank Zottoli, Teregno's tireless attorney.

Mr. Zottoli brought witnesses to show that during Teregno's trial one juror was permitted to leave the jury while it was out for a walk and to go into his house all alone; another was allowed to spend much of his evening riding in an elevator at the hotel and chatting with the girl operator; still another had been noticed sitting on the back stairs of the hotel and talking with a chambermaid; and a fourth constantly visited his fiancée, who was staying in the hotel with her aunt, and even took other jurors up to call.

To this was added testimony that one of the deputy sheriffs in charge of the jury, Harry B. Hartley, said to a juror that "Mr. Zottoli, Teregno's lawyer, was 'no damn good' and that 'every one hated him.'"

Judge Brown refused to consider whether these things had created prejudice in the minds of the jurors, so that they were unable to give a fair trial; when the fact was established, he granted a new trial on that much.

How Teregno Heard the News

Warden Shattuck, Attorney Zottoli, Hon. Lewis R. Sullivan of the governor's council, and two or three newspapermen went up into the detention room where Teregno was waiting, attended by Joseph Semanara, the court interpreter, who had stuck to him all the afternoon.

Mr. Zottoli shouted as he ran into the little anteroom, and Teregno rose, his round face flushing. The two men clasped each other in a strenuous embrace, and kissed on both cheeks. Then came Mr. Martinelli, Mr. Zottoli's associate. Finally it was the turn of Councillor Sullivan, who has been indefatigable in Teregno's behalf.

Mr. Sullivan was as visibly moved as the prisoner himself. He has had the case much at heart and is famous for his warm-heartedness. When the prisoner embraced him and kissed him, the mixture of honest emotion and surprise on Mr. Sullivan's face was worth going far to see.

Unique in This State

The whole proceeding was unique in the history of criminal procedure in this state, so far as the memory of any man present went. Never before has a prisoner under sentence of death been brought out from the "death house" in Charlestown state prison and taken into court for a hearing on the motion for a new trial.

It came as the climax of an extraordinary story. The homicide for which Teregno was sentenced to be electrocuted was done upon Raffaele Camerrotta of Westfield, Mass., on Jana great and unique merchandising idea that for years past has taken the high price out of high-class clothes. As manufacturer and seller, I eliminate all in-between profits and unnecessary costs without sacrificing quality or style essentials.

I REPRESENT

I CREATE

styles through a staff of skilled designers devoted to the purpose of making Americans the best dressed men in the world. My fashions are not extremes or fleeting fads, they are sensible versions of a real he-man's style requirements—original—new—but never freakish.

I BUILD

into every Mitchell garment the fullest measure of genuine worth—an inner construction carefully conceived and honestly tailored, and into the minds of men, these clothes, my own products, build confidence, good will and the firm conviction that I do as I say.

uary 30, 1918. The trial began September 23, 1918, and lasted two and a half weeks. Sentence was not pronounced until Dec. 22, 1918, the interval being occupied by fighting for the exceptions saved by the defense during the trial.

Zottoli Tried Everything

Mr. Zottoli had used every weapon known to his profession. He did not give up when his client was sentenced, but appealed for a writ of habeas corpus. He tried the supreme court of Massachusetts and the federal court—which denied him the writ on the ground that it did not have jurisdiction. He went to Gov. Coolidge asking for clemency or for a stay and a chance to try for a new trial.

Up to Monday of this week, the very week set for the execution, he had no success. Then he found this new evidence of laxity in the care of the jurors and went to Judge King to ask for an order on Warden Shattuck for a stay of execution. The judge told him he did not need an order and that fixing the actual moment for the electrocution lay wholly in the warden's hands.

Warden Granted Reprieve

Mr. Zottoli went to Warden Shattuck with his plea, and though the execution had already been fixed for

Tuesday morning, shortly after midnight, and the notice to the official witnesses had been sent out, Mr. Shattuck was humane enough to give Teregno every chance in the world for his life. He postponed the execution.

Mr. Zottoli next took the affidavits he had secured to Salem, where Judge Nelson B. Brown was sitting, and asked for a hearing. Judge Brown granted the request, and yesterday's hearing was the result.

Story of the Crime

The story of the crime as told to the newspapermen by the attorneys for the defense, was that Teregno, was, during 1917, a boarder in Camerrotta's house, and that Camerrotta's wife made love to him and won him. Teregno finally moved away, and had come back on January 30 to get some of his clothing, which was still in the house.

The man was asleep in the house at the time—which was in the evening. Mrs. Camerrotta teased Teregno for one last embrace, and the husband woke and attacked his former boarder with an axe. Teregno was chased round and round the room, and caught up a revolver which was lying on a table, firing four bullets into Camerrotta. Then he escaped, and Mrs. Camerrotta took the axe and struck her husband also stabbed him many times. The defense even claimed that it was not from bullet wounds but because of the injury with the axe, that Camerrotta died. But Teregno was convicted and the woman was also convicted as an accomplice and sentenced to Sherborn, where she now is.

HIGH SCHOOL BATTALION NIGHT

This evening the customary battalion night of the high school regiment will be held in the drill shed of the annex and the occasion will be marked by novel features. The usual individual competitive prize drill will be held, however, with thirteen young cadets, who were chosen from the elimination contest held last Tuesday, competing. The following young men will drill for the prize: Foster Brown, Karl Marshall, Fred Ordway, Thomas Delaney, Philip Payton, Leo Leclair, Francis Leary, John Boyle, Louis Rheault, Eugene Labrie, Daniel Hanson, Leslie Atkinson, and Frank McDonough. Two squads from Companies A and E respectively will compete for the honors usually awarded to companies. These two squads have been selected as the best.

PARK LABORERS GET WAGE INCREASE

The wages of laborers in the park department were increased from $4.02 to $4.50 per day by the park commissioners at their regular monthly meeting at city hall last evening. The increase was granted to bring the park department men on the same schedule as laborers in other departments.

The commission failed to take any action on the appointment of a life guard for the new bath house off the boulevard although several applications for the position were at hand. Action was delayed until the certified civil service list is secured.

Other business consisted chiefly of tree petition hearings. The petitions of Graham R. Whidden, (Wyman street); Mark J. McCann, 417 Merrimack street; and Joseph F. Hurley, 75 Durrant street, for tree removals, were granted with the understanding that the petitioners should bear the expense.

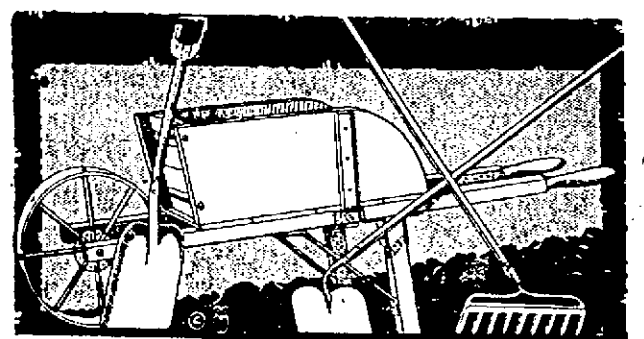

The petitions of Alice M. Kunsman, 10 Grove street, and Dr. Maurice Fishman, 450 Bridge street, for tree removals were denied. There were many remonstrants to the Grove street petition. The petition of Dan O'Dea for the removal of a tree at 1 Colburn street was granted with the understanding that he pay the expense. The request of the same petitioner for the removal of a tree at 154 Moody street was denied. A petition from the United Polish Workers' bakery at 201 Lakeview avenue asked that three horse chestnut trees in front of its premises be removed, and it was voted to give the tree committee authority to have such removals made following an inspection.

Plans for the development and beautifying of numerous small parks were discussed and a program laid out. Tree planting will continue this summer with Victoria and Viola streets the next to be attended to. It was voted to grant the use of the South common to the Community Service authorities for a pageant on June 5.

JEANNE EAGLES

SINGLE TAX WOULD TAKE ROMANCE OUT OF LIFE

NEW YORK, April 9.—"If they wish to take the romance out of life, let them try it!"

"A tax on celibacy, applied to spinsters and bachelors alike, would soon result in women extending the leap-year privilege to every year, and seeking and courting mates. Such a law would give women the right to propose, if for no other reason than to evade the tax! And marriage to evade taxation would certainly be little short of commercialism."

Such is the dictum of Jeanne Eagles, herself of French extraction, now starring in "The Wonderful Thing," on the report from Paris that the French government plans an indiscriminate celibacy tax to encourage marriages and hold up its sagging birthrate.

"No one could say what would be the far-reaching effects of a commercialization of marriage such as this celibacy tax would bring about," continued Miss Eagles. "When I marry, I want romance in my courtship. I do not want to be married in order that somebody shall not have to pay a miserable old tax! Why do legislators and parliamentarians always have so little imagination? The idea of taxing non-marriage to make marriage attractive! Nature can't be interfered with in any such way. It will be like the 'slacker-marriages' we had during the war. What bride could respect a man who married her in order to get out of going to war? And what bride could respect a husband who married her merely to get out of paying a few extra francs? They will destroy the beauty, the romance, the thrill of courtship and put it on a money basis."

WOULD TAX BOTH.
PARIS, April 9.—The French chamber of deputies is discussing a measure placing a 10 per cent. tax upon celibacy. The measure is not limited to men, but includes both sexes, on the theory that women are just as much responsible as men for failure to marry.

It has been argued that celibacy amounts to taxable wealth. Furthermore, the low French birthrate makes a premium on marriage necessary, in the opinion of many economists, if France is not to be menaced in the future as she has been in the past.

The effect of the status of women, the economic effects, and the effect upon illegitimate unions is being frankly discussed by the Paris press. The general verdict is that the measure would increase "women's egotism."

BLAME "RAMPS" FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING

N.E.A. Staff Special

LONDON, April 9.—Members of the British parliament charge that the high prices of men's clothing and of women's serge and merino dresses are plain cases of "ramp."

"Ramp" is British slang for our word profiteering. It is pointed out that the government will have monopolistic control of the world's best wool supply until June 30 next. Also, that it expects to have on hand at the end of this year about 530,000 bales of wool, which is about one-quarter of the world's best annual clip.

Make Large Profit

It has been estimated that owing to its buying wool at controlled prices and selling for civilian purposes at market prices or something near it, the British government has made a profit of $300,000,000.

The next step is in the sale by the middlemen of the merino "tops," or prepared and cleaned wool. The pre-war profit used to be about 1 cent per pound. Now it is claimed it is as much as 50 cents in some cases.

Prices Go Sky High

The cloth manufacturer is charging from 4 to 6 times his pre-war price and his profit is in even greater ratio. Indigo serge weighing 20 ounces to the yard and made of merino wool sold here in 1914 for $1.40 per yard. The manufacturers now get $7.50 to $8.75 per yard for some of it.

It is contended here that government control of wool has not contributed in any measure to the high prices of clothing in America. If all the wool had been free of control and sold in the open auction market, the demand would still have been so keen that American buyers would have been forced to pay very high prices.

Exported woolen cloths have increased fourfold in price compared with 1913. Furthermore, it is suspected that a very great amount of this cloth is going to Germany.

WHY SO MANY LEAVE THE FARM

There is a good deal of irony in this story, though we call it a joke; a good deal of pathos, too; a good bit of the reason why the census threatens to show that half of our population is in town:

Great Excitement in Duesseldorf—General Strike Impending

BERLIN, April 8.—The German regular troops which had crossed the river Ruhr were withdrawn yesterday to the northern bank of that stream, it is announced here.

(The Ruhr passes just to the south
of Essen, in the northern central part
of the industrial district.)

The burgomasters of the cities of Barmen and Elberfeld, it is stated, requested the minister of defense not to allow the troops to enter those towns.

Great excitement prevails in Duesseldorf, in view of the threatened entry of the regulars.

The majority socialist newspaper
Vorwaerts has advised from Duesseldorf which declares that a general strike is impending there in which all the parties will unite. The town council has sent a petition to the minister of defense asking that the regular troops be kept out of Duesseldorf.
Their entry would be inexpedient, the petition declares.

The number of persons who have crossed the line from the Ruhr region
into occupied territory, is in excess of a thousand, according to the British authorities.

Several of the Berlin newspapers
print the report that the American member of the Inter-allied Rhineland commission had informed the president of the commission that he refused to participate in any decisions of the commission favoring the advance of the French into unoccupied Germany.

The Vossische Zeitung says that envoys already have arrived in the industrial region to supervise the evacuation of the neutral zone.

with a serious food shortage, according to a statement today by J. J.
Mantell, head of the railroad managers' organization. He added that during the night "sixty-five car loads of milk were moved into the city to protect the infants" and railroad officials are now manning engines and switches in the Erie, West Short and Pennsylvania yards.

"The yard switchmen, conductors
and brakemen in the freight terminals
on the Jersey shore are all out," said
Mr. Mantell.

notals, however, declared that these gaps were not affecting operations and the men who failed to appear probably had been kept away by illness. Vacancies also were reported
in New York Central yards.

Several thousand railway strikers
held a party this morning in a hall
in Jersey City. They were joined by 200 employees of the Hudson and Manhattan Railway company, which operates the Hudson tubes. This action of the tube workers, who previously had held a separate meeting, served to increase fears that a strike might be called on the tubes during the day
further inconveniencing commuters.

Workmen Dragged Out

Working with fellow officials in the Erie yards, Mr. Mantell expressed belief that "radicals are responsible for the strike."

"These men got hold of our workmen and fairly dragged them out of our yard, not even giving them a reason for the strike," he said. "The strikers have violated the rules of their own brotherhood."

Strike Spreading

CHICAGO, Apr. 9.—Continued spread
of the insurgent strike of switchmen and engineers on railroads throughout the country was indicated by reports today showing that more than twenty thousand men had joined the strikers. Eight thousand insurgents were out in the Chicago district, where the strike had its inception nine days ago, and reports from a score of cities from coast to coast, in which walkouts have occurred, predicted additions to the strikers' ranks during the day.

Railroad brotherhoods' officials, who have denounced the new "rump"
unions and appealed to loyal union
men to assist in breaking the strikes, declared, however, that the walkout
in the Chicago district had reached its maximum, and would be broken within 48 hours and strikes in other parts of the country then would end. The spread of "strike fever" to other cities,
they insisted, was only an indication that the strike was running its natural course. They asserted that freight traffic was 60 per cent normal.

On the other hand, leaders of the revelling yardmen's union declared the strike was growing and that the men would continue to remain out of the parent unions, ignoring notices from chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, threatening expulsion
unless contracts were respected.

1000 Strike Breakers Arrive

One thousand brotherhood men from other cities had answered the call for strike breakers here, officials said.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 packing house and stockyard workers had been thrown out of employment today
as the result of stoppage of cattle
shipments, packers announced.

Nearly 1000 employees of 23 railroads
entering Toledo, including switchmen, engineers and firemen, were reported
idle today.

In the St. Louis district, including
East St. Louis and Madison, Ill., freight traffic was reported virtually at a standstill with yardmen of 27 roads on strike.

All railroads in Kansas City, Mo.,
operating under contracts with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen
were affected and the strike had spread to Kansas City, Kas., and Rosedale, an industrial suburb.

Points throughout the southwest reported that embargoes had been placed on freight and cattle shipments to St.
Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, and freight traffic between New Orleans and Chicago on all lines was suspended.

Rail centres throughout California
felt the freight restrictions and along the trans-continental lines, several terminals reported strikes.

Syracuse, N. Y., and Jersey City were the furthest eastern points affected, according to reports here.

BOYLE BEATS DUFFY LOWELL DEFEATED AT SALEM, 7 TO 2

Lowell Boy Wins Award in One of the Best Bouts Ever Seen in This City

Boxing like a champion, Phinney Boyle, of Lowell, won the decision over Jimmy Duffy, of New York, in one of the greatest bouts ever staged in Lowell before the largest crowd of the season, at the Crescent A.A. last night.

The bout went the distance, 12 rounds, and the principals travelled at a terrific clip all the way. Boyle's bewildering speed and lightning-like hitting at times baffled Duffy and elicited the crowd's loudest applause. Boyle arrived at the ropes and rocked like a canoe on rough water many times, but he always returned to the fight. Duffy's heavy right hand, which was the main weapon, and several times during the bout the New Yorker's dome of thought was sent bobbing up and down like a cork in the water. Never did he fight better. Boyle is primarily a boxer, but last night he showed remarkable fighting abilities. When a man will stand in the center and swap punches with a heavy hitter like Duffy and hold his ground, he possesses much fighting class. He out-boxed and out-fought his adversary and piled up a lead that could not be disputed.

Boyle entered the ring in perfect condition, again justifying the statement of Jack Leahy, his trainer and manager, and though the bout was fast and furious over the entire distance, he was subjected to many stiff blows in the mid-section. He left the ring as fresh as a daisy, and while early he established a lead he took no chances with his hard hitting opponent and tied him away. Blocked when the occasion demanded, Boyle's distance could not be improved upon and his footwork was exceptional. In fact his entire exhibition will be recorded as a historic event.

Duffy came here with a record a mile long, and his previous bouts have been well remembered by the fans. He had beaten Tommy Leonard, Lew Tendler, Eddie Fitzsimmons, Johnny Dundee, Patsy Byrne, Joe Welling, Benny Walker, Barney Adams, Chickie Smith and many others. He went the entire distance with all and boasts of never having been knocked off his feet. The fact that these battles led under the attack of the New Yorker to some stiff jolts to the head and crossed with heavy ones to the stomach, while Boyle led in all but two rounds the manner in which he finished brought the fans to their feet. With but one minute to go, Boyle opened up on Duffy and sent in a shower of blows, all of which found their objective and the pair were battling furiously as the bell sounded. The applause that greeted Referee Tommy Sullivan's decision rocked the fans. Both boys were vigorously cheered as they left for their dressing rooms.

Jimmy Demas of Lowell, and Jimmy Starks of Montreal, appeared in the first bout of the evening. The Montreal boy proved an easy mark for Demas and took a bad beating for two rounds. Referee Tommy Sullivan, of Lawrence, called off activities and declared Demas the winner.

Joe Stack, of Lowell, and Al Blades of Lawrence, met in the second preliminary. It was a peachy bout while it lasted. The pair set a fast pace and both gave and took considerable punishment. In the fifth round Blades got over a stiff one to the jaw and followed with several to the body. Stack weakened, but was far from being out. One of his seconds, however, tossed in a towel and Blades was awarded the verdict.

Young Stone, veteran local battler, substituted for Mike O'Dowd in the semi-final and he put up a great battle against Billy Mulvey of Lowell for seven rounds. In this session Mulvey launched a terrific attack, showing Stone with a series of blows to the head and body. Stone was groggy, but not out. Referee Sullivan, however, deemed Stone had enough and stopped the bout and pointed to Mulvey. While Mulvey had the advantage, Stone put up a very creditable exhibition and his gameness throughout the bout and even after the referee's intervention made a hit with the fans. It was a great number and both victor and vanquished left the ring amid applause.

Frank Walsh of Lowell won from Battling Mitchell at Natick in a fast eight-round bout last night. Walsh was seeking bouts with any boy in this vicinity at 125 pounds.

Frank Molloy continued his winning streak by beating M. O'Dowd in two rounds at Camp Devens the other night.

BASKET BALL CHALLENGE

Seeing that the basketball season is nearly over, Manager William King would like to decide with any team in the city by playing one or any amount of games for the championship. All amateur teams are included. All that is wanted is a toss up for the first and last games unless they are to be played in a neutral hall. We will also play the Cadets in a neutral hall for money if they think they can beat us or we'll play in the Cadet hall if they pay doctor's expenses for the men. No excuse for any team now, so say yes or no, money or marbles.

MGR. WILLIAM KING, Lowell Boys Club.

PROKOS WINS

Jim Prokos of Lowell defeated Bill Conrad in two straight falls before a crowd at Burlington. Last night, Prokos will now go into training for his bout with Lerich of Springfield here on Monday night, April 12. The American who will meet a Cyclone Bill on the same evening, is training daily for the match.

"Jigger" Higgins and his Worcester pals will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.

The Crescent and Lawrence amateurs will play before the league game tonight. The Crescents have considerable strength to their lineup.

A delegation of fans plans to call on Barney Mulvey at the dressing room before tonight's game to request him to give his famous fancy skating exhibition.

Worcester, like Lowell, is hot after a place in the money, and will play hard to land tonight's verdict.

While Ted Lewis, now playing rush for Lowell, was a member of the old Lowell championship club of 20 years ago he is still much younger than many others in the league. Lewis was 19 years of age when he broke in here and was then the youngest player in the league. He is now under 40.

BILLIARD MATCH

Shakespeare McKervey, the billiard expert, takes exception to the report that he was beaten by B. J. Mahoney at the V.M.C.A. last night. He admits that when play stopped Mahoney was leading, 5 to 3, but says that it was only an exhibition and not a regular game. It was a handicap match, with B. J. Mahoney as referee and George Cobb as scorer. Many watched the game with great interest, and enthused over the deft cue which McKervey handled.

When the match was over the expert gave an exhibition of fancy and trick shots.

OLYMPIC GAMES PLAN

Elaborate Ceremonies Will Mark Formal Opening at Antwerp in August

ANTWERP, April 9.—Elaborate ceremonies will mark the formal opening of the Olympic games stadium here next August, according to the plans of the Belgium Olympic committee. The date for the inaugural has been set for Saturday, August 14, and the event will be followed by more than two weeks of continuous competition in which the leading athletes of some 30 nations are expected to participate.

The ceremonies will be much the same as those which marked the beginning of the Olympic games at Stockholm, in 1912. The athletes and teams of every country entered will form outside the stadium proper and at a signal from the royal box, a fanfare of bugles will announce the coming of the men and women who on the following days will contest for Olympic honors. Each nation will be assigned a place in the parade, which will file past the royal box in a circuit of the running track and later stand at attention on the infield.

The flag of each country will be hoisted in the forenoon of that particular section or group and the athletes will wear a distinctive civilian uniform, which in the case of the United States team at Stockholm consisted of white duck trousers and ties, blue sack coats and straw hats with a red, white and blue ribbon band. In passing the royal box, which will be occupied by the king, queen and royal prince of Belgium, the flag of each nation will be dropped in salute and the team members will carry their hats or caps at attention. Titled and notable personages from all parts of the world are expected to be in attendance for the grand march of the nations and other ceremonies in connection with the opening of the stadium.

King Albert and Prince Leopold of Belgium, will also attend the contests regularly, both in the main stadium and those adjacent, which will be devoted to special competition such as swimming and bicycle racing. A secondary stadium to seat 10,000 spectators, is being constructed for the aquatic events, with a swimming pool 300 feet long, 60 feet wide and 15 feet deep. It will be located on the outskirts of the city, about 20 minutes' walk from the main stadium. The velodrome, where the bicycle races will be held, is a permanent sport fixture, having been used for cycling events in past seasons.

RECTOR AND REIMER DRAW

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 9.—Owen Young Rector, the Jersey City lightweight, and Bobby Reimer of New Britain fought a sensational fight before the Armory A. A. here last night. It was called a draw.

LOWELL SCHOOL GAMES

Baseball Schedule and Rules Governing Grammar School Games for 1920

The baseball schedule of the grammar schools of the city as arranged by Major Walter Jeyes, physical instructor in the schools, includes 107 games to be played by members of the league which consists, this year, of 11 teams. Major Jeyes stated today that the baseball season will be one of the most interesting in many years, and he fears it will be difficult to complete the schedule unless more grounds are secured for the contests. The season will start next week with a game every day.

The baseball fields now available are the Chambers street, Lincoln school, the North and South commons. Maj. Jeyes said that he expected the park department to put the Lincoln school grounds in condition for the school teams. The Burnside field is unfit for use as a baseball diamond, and permission to use the Lawrence Hosley field, and Washington park could not be obtained. Shedd field is unfit for use because of the fact that water from the skating rink still remains.

Mr. Bennett of the Moray, Mr. King of the Edison, Mr. Ginty of the Butler and Mr. Cummings of the Lincoln were in session with Major Jeyes yesterday discussing the baseball plans and they agreed to assist in any way to enabling an early start to be made. In order that the 108 games may be completed by the end of the season.

They decided that it was necessary to begin the games immediately on the South common, with a game on the five school days at 4 p. m. Beginning with Monday, April 12, the schedule for the week will be as follows: Green vs. Washington, Moody vs. Colburn, Edson vs. Greenhalge, Moray vs. Lincoln, Varman vs. Burnside.

Another serious difficulty met by the school principals mentioned and Maj. Jeyes is the matter of obtaining umpires for all the games. On next Friday there will be another meeting at which efforts will be made and plans laid to obtain the use of the other grounds mentioned.

School League Rules.

The rules governing the baseball season of the Grammar School League for the season of 1920 as arranged by Major Jeyes in charge of the sport are as follows: All decisions of the umpire will and must be final.

In case of protest the game must be played out and a written protest sent to Major Jeyes. Any team refusing to finish a game forfeits the game and is subject to any discipline the committee wishes to impose. Appeal to Major Jeyes allowed.

A team forfeits the game by not being on the field ready to play within a quarter of an hour after the scheduled time.

All games to be played on the grounds allotted to competing teams. All games to start at 4 p. m.

No boy is eligible to play who has reached his 17th birthday.

Any swearing, smoking, or other ungentlemanly or unsportsmanlike conduct, or encouraging such conduct in others, will mean suspension or expulsion.

All who play must be named on a list and on file and countersigned by the master of the school. In an emergency arrangements may be made by unanimous consent of umpire and team captains. Provided the player is otherwise eligible to play then a substitute may play.

All matters in dispute will be referred to the committee. If the decision is unanimous the decision will be final, if not, the final decision is to be made by Major Jeyes.

Unless supplies are furnished by the committee, the home team is to furnish two balls and base bags. Such supplies will be retained by the home team whether they win or lose.

Weather permitting, any scheduled game must be played on time unless arrangements are made through Major Jeyes 36 hours in advance of postponement or change of said game.

Teams leaving the league without proper notification may be permanently barred from membership.

Any team using a "ringer" forfeits the game and all rights to any honors or rewards.

All protests must be in the hands of Major Jeyes within 24 hours after the completion of the game. All protests must be in writing signed by the captain of the team making the protest, and countersigned by the master of the school.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

Sporting Editor.

Dear Sir:—Young Williams accepts the challenge of Kid Anastas of Lawrence, and he is ready to meet him any time, any place for any number of rounds; also he is challenging Young Parker of Lowell. Now it's up to Anastas and Parker's managers to come and see me. Yours truly,

BASIL JOHNSON,
Manager of Young Williams,

MUSICAL ODDITY AND HOP

The Broadway Social and Athletic club, which has attained considerable prominence in local musical circles, with present a musical oddity and hop in Asseculat hall tonight and indications point to another success being scored by the organization.

During the past month rehearsals have been held at the club rooms, under the able direction of Charles D. Shattery, with William Paul McCarthy having charge of the music, and all those who have heard the troupe of 25 well trained male singers, aver that the show will be one of the best of the season.

Following the concert there will be general dancing with music by Minner-Doyle's orchestra.

Buenos Aires is one of the fastest growing cities of the world. The census of 1911 showed 1,575,000 inhabitants, and it is now estimated to be over 2,000,000.

"We're always meeting friends"

—Chesterfield

OVER three million smokers — over three million friends — know the "satisfying" goodness of Chesterfield's expert blend of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos.

These smokers know that such richness of flavor, such mellowness of taste, can only come from the choicest tobaccos, bought and blended by experts.

And they know that the Chesterfield blend is an exclusive blend, that it cannot be copied or even closely imitated. They know that only Chesterfields can "satisfy."

But—how about you?

NURSE INDICTED ON MAN- SLAUGHTER CHARGE

DEDHAM, April 9.—Miss Margaret E. Coumans, a 22-year-old nurse of Newton, was indicted by the grand jury late yesterday for manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Mary E. Lotz of Malden, at a private sanitarium in Wellesley, on Nov. 10, 1919. It is alleged that Miss Coumans was in charge of Mrs. Lotz when the patient was given a bath that resulted in her being scalded to death.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatrical Own Press Agents)

THE STRAND

Locklear, the daredevil of the air, in his marvelous and thrilling photo-drama, "The Great Air Robbery," is winning the unquestioned admiration of motion picture lovers who like daring, fearless action. It is the most unusual film story ever shown, and can't help but please. Madame Traverso, charming and attractive as ever, in "The Hell Ship," is the other attraction for the week end that will give a full measure of enjoyment to all, to say nothing of the comedy and the Universal

Weekly. It's the biggest and best bill in town.

OPERA HOUSE

If you are in need of a laugh—or of a long and hearty series of laughs—then we recommend your attendance at one of the remaining presentations by the Lowell Players at the Opera House of Mark Swan's delightful farce comedy, "Faint of Heart and Bath." It's a riot of fun, with Miss Elliott, Mr. Atchley and Miss Wilkes the chief contributors. If you have never laughed before you will surely laugh at this. And the players are presenting it in a most commendable manner. Tickets are selling fast, so it's advisable to order early and avoid possible disappointment. Box office open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Beloved Mark Twain lives again in "Huckleberry Finn," which has been presented on the screen for the millions who have laughed over the immortal works of the great American humorist. This picture is being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow and those who have come to know Mark Twain through the printed page now have an opportunity to see his characters enacted in flesh and blood. Not only has every character been selected with the utmost care by the directors of the production with a view to adhering strictly to every type associated with the "Finn" and "Tom," but the Mark Twain atmosphere is carried out in every detail. Other features of the current program are "A Roaring Love

B. P. KELTH'S THEATRE

Lots of kick and comedy to the present week's bill at the B. P. Kelth theatre, in fact one's funny bone is continually tickled. A travesty on a historical subject, called "When Caesar's Hair" is admirably presented by James and Sadie Leonard, with Richard Anderson. It is unusual, and it tickles the fancy of everybody. Jimmy Duffy and Mr. Sweeney, Russian entertainers, are very, very different in their comedy offering. It is indescribable, but very funny. And Larry Crane, a Lowell product, is there with his wizardry. His work is neat and very quick. One mustn't overlook Home and Cullen, two of the best dancing boys seen here this year, and Edna Morris, singer of modern songs, is also to be rated with the topnotchers. Other acts include the Three Bilguy Girls and the Marco Twins.

THE OWL THEATRE

There can absolutely be no doubt of the tremendous drawing power of "Daddy Long Legs," which opened yesterday for the week and attraction at the Owl theatre. Capacity audiences were the rule at all performances and Mary Pickford and her supporting company were well received. Our little friend Wesley Barry and his dog got the usual laughs. It's a wonderful production, and a great supporting cast. Offered this time at the usual prices. It ought to pack the theatre as everybody who didn't see it the first time it played here will certainly not want to miss it now, and those who saw it before will have no objection of sitting through it again. The plot and production is entirely apart from the average production. The "Lost City" Selig's masterpiece, was thrilling and novel. Every grownup will enjoy it, but above all don't let the children miss it. Herbert Rawlinson in the "Silkless Banknote," the first of the Wm. J. Flynn detective series, was very interesting. There is enough action in the three reels to make an average five-reel feature. These stories will be released at intervals of about six weeks. Fourth and last feature, Mrs. Joe Martin, the human mink, in the "Good Ship Rock and Bye," was as wonderful as ever. The grownups laughing heartily while the children have the time of their young lives. Continuous performances daily, starting at 1 p. m. are the rule. Night matrons arriving before 7.45, see the main features of the big bill.

REAL OPERA WILL BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Real Opera is what the people of Lowell and vicinity will hear when the Boston English Opera company comes to the Opera House next Monday night and Tuesday afternoon and night. And the best of all is they will not be forced to pay fabulous prices for their seats. The company and the productions are in every way the highest, but the prices are the lowest. With an orchestra of 20 pieces, a chorus of 16, and a double cast of principals, the performances of "Il Trovatore," "Roberta," and "The Bohemian Girl" will excel any production of those operas ever before given in this city. The list of leading singers includes Joseph P. Sheehan, Stanley Deacon, Harold Gels, Leonard Sanford, Hazel

Eden, Maria de Solten, Alice May Carley and May Barron.

AGREEMENT ON WAGE ADVANCE FOR CUTTERS

BOSTON, April 9.—An agreement recommending wage advances for granite workers has been drawn up by the national committee of Granite Manufacturers and a committee representing the Granite Paying Cutters' Union of the United States and Canada. The agreement was made public today by James J. Tobin, representing the manufacturers following a joint conference here of the committee.

Wage increases recommended include an advance on May 1 of $2 per thousand blocks and a similar advance on July 1, a day rate of not less than 75¢ an hour, and $5 per thousand for duxes blocks.

The recommendations are to be submitted to locals of paying cutters in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. If accepted the agreement will extend for one year from May 1.

CUBA TO HOLD SEIZED SHIPS

HAVANA, April 9.—Enemy ships seized during the world war will remain Cuban property, according to an official statement issued following today's session of the cabinet.

A committee composed of members was named to arrange for the leasing of such vessels, at public auction, to private companies. They must be used in Cuban commerce and fly the Cuban flag.

STEAMER CALLAO ARRIVES

RIO JANEIRO, April 8.—The steamship Callao, the first of the large steamers formerly owned by Germany to be placed in the regular passenger service between the United States and Rio Janeiro and Buenos Aires, arrived here today.

TO PRESENT DEMANDS TO ALL RAILROADS

CHICAGO, April 9.—Wage demands of five groups of railroad employees, numbering 250,000, will be pushed immediately as the result of the spread of unauthorized strikes of switchmen and engineers, G. A. Worrell, general chairman of the railway clerks' organization of the Chicago & Northwestern system, said today.

Railway clerks, telegraphers, signal men, maintenance of way employees and stationary firemen and others, the groups involved, will present demands to every railroad in the United States within a week, Worrell said. Wage increases of 25 cents an hour and restitution of the pre-war differential wage scale will be demanded and 15 days of grace granted for compliance of the companies, he said.

"The men are at the end of the rope," said Worrell. "President Wilson promised to increase the wages if in six months the cost of living was not materially reduced. The living costs are just as high, if not higher. We cannot live on our present wages."

ENTERTAINMENT IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

Before a large assemblage of the younger students, the members of the senior class of the evening high school presented a very elaborate entertainment program last evening in the school hall. The presentation of the program was in accordance with the plan of giving one or more socials for the enjoyment of the students during the evening school term. After the program the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed to 11 o'clock with music furnished by the Ladies' Lenox orchestra. The program, which included recitations, songs, musical selections and fancy dancing was published Wednesday in The Sun.

CRESCENT A. C. DANCE
Attended by a large crowd of Low-

ell's young people, the annual dancing party by the Crescent A. C. staged in Lincoln hall last evening proved one of the most successful events of the after-inton season. The decorations were handsome and appropriate. The music excellent, and everyone found real enjoyment in the splendid program arranged by the committee in charge. During an intermission tea were served. The officers of the dance were: Samuel McDonald, general manager; Thomas Higgins, assistant; John Brooks, floor director; Thomas Quinn, assistant; Stephen Shugrue, chief aid, and Edward Blain, treasurer.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrh of the ears, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Ears (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrh trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

BY MILTON BRONNER
European Manager N.E.A.

LONDON, April 9.—Two flower girls of London, celebrated in song and story for centuries, still flourish here. The other day one of these "girls" died after having sold flowers at one corner for 50 years. And her mother had the same post before her. Any morning in January, February or March they may be seen coming from Covent Garden market with their fairy freight of violets, jonquills and primroses done up in willow baskets.

In spite of Pussfoot Johnson, Kingfish brewers are not above reciting humorous verses. Not long ago Col. G. Winch, of a famous brewing firm, gave a dinner to his tenants and recited the following lines:
George Winch, the brewer, lies buried here.
In life he was both (h) ale and stout;
Death brought him to his bitter bier (beer).
Now in heaven he hops about.

A South African colonial told me a funny one about two self-made millionaires down there—Sir Abe Bailey and the late Sammy Marks. Bailey had entered politics and took himself very seriously. "Well, Abe," said Marks one day, "they say that the political mantle of the great Cecil Rhodes has fallen upon you."
"They do say so," assented Bailey.

Marks then said:
"Take the tip of a fellow who has dealt in old clothes. Second hand garments never fit."

The latest from Russia shows how a priest turned the laugh upon Lunatschski, the Bolshevik minister of education. The latter attended a lecture by the priest on the subject of Christian doctrine. Wishing to embarrass the clergyman, he said: "Is your argument that all authority is ordained of God?"

"Yes," replied the priest, adding after a pause, "even our present government is of God . . . it has been sent us by God . . . for our sins."

Recently when Gaby Deslys died it was stated she used to take a coop of hens on board ship to provide fresh eggs for her table when she crossed the Atlantic. This recalls the fact that the great South African statesman, Cecil Rhodes, used to do the same thing on his frequent trips between London and South Africa. Another great South African millionaire was asked why he did not do likewise.
"Why, both?" said he. "I just tip the boatwain who looks after Rhodes' hens and I get the eggs."

What strikes one about London crowds is their eminent sense of fair play. Take this matter of busses, for instance. A man will be waiting at one of the regular stops for his bus. Another man will come along wanting that same bus. He will just naturally, as a matter of course, fall in line behind the first comer. First thing you know there is what London calls a "queue." Can you imagine a New York crowd doing that?

CALL WASTING TIME BY WORKERS "CRIME"

LONDON.—The Russian soviet government has threatened to put the workshops of the northern railways under martial law to put an end to what it calls the "crime" of the workers in wasting time in holiday making, according to a wireless message from Moscow. The government asserts that 1600 working days were thus lost in one month and that "the railway men are arranging to have two days of idleness each week at a time when millions of people are hungering and when it is impossible to transport bread, owing to lack of railway engines." It notifies the idlers that they will either have to make up for the time of which the republic has been robbed or receive full penalty under martial law.

The message issued by the government is headed "Shame, comrades," and declares that Russia cannot await salvation from foreigners but must fight her own internal blockade in order to "end the ruinous condition of things, conquer hunger and save the soviet republic."

TANGO HAS CALL OVER JAZZ IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES.—The Argentine has retained its affection for his national dance, the tango, despite the introduction of American "jazz" music and syncopated melodies in the programs of Argentine balls and dances. This was shown during the tango ball in a recent carnival when tango tunes outnumbered the fox-trot and one-step in a proportion of three to one. Several American waltzes, however, are very popular. The Argentines call the syncopated music "Tanguito" tune.

Some native musicians have grown rich composing tangoes. One of the most popular has a tune called "Pan y Agua" (Bread and Water). The title of another is translated as "Flower of the Mad."

BARNEGAT LIGHT TO BE TORN DOWN

PHILADELPHIA.—Barnegat Light, one of the oldest lighthouses on the Atlantic coast, which has afforded a great deal of material for fiction writers, is to be torn down, because its foundation is being undermined by the sea.
The lighthouse bureau at Washington has decided it would cost too much to save the structure, and it will be replaced, probably, by a lightship and a beacon light at the mouth of Barnegat bay.

LATER CAR SERVICE

Street Railway Home Rule Committee Considers Matter at Meeting

Agitation for later car service in all parts of the city on week nights and the discussion of transfer privilege extensions on various lines featured yesterday afternoon's regular semi-monthly meeting of the street railway "home rule" committee.

Manager Thomas Lees of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. agreed to try out midnight service on various lines on Saturday nights to see how much business it would bring but he pointed out that doing this every night in the week would mean a complete re-arrangement of schedules which in itself would take two or three weeks.

A petition from residents of Belvidere, patrons of the High street line, asking that they be allowed to remain on the High street car until it gets to Dutton street without paying a ten-cent fare was not looked on with favor as it would involve if granted, Manager Lees said, the possibility of residents on other lines in the city wanting the same privilege. The petition was laid on the table at the suggestion of John B. Sullivan until the railway company finds itself able to afford universal transfer extension privileges.

The meeting was called shortly after 4 o'clock in the aldermanic chamber with Chairman John J. O'Hanlon presiding. Abel H. Campbell was absent.

Secretary John B. Curtin reported for the sub-committee appointed at a previous meeting to investigate the establishment of a waiting room in Merrimack square and said that Samuel McCord of Carter & Sherburne's store in the square had been interviewed and that Mr. McCord was told that unless the waiting room could be located in the square the committee would be forced to look elsewhere for a location.

"This seemed to impress Mr. McCord," said Mr. Curtin, "and he asked that he be given more time to look into the matter."

Mr. Regan, the proprietor of a former saloon in the square near the old waiting room, had also been interviewed on the proposition. It was reported, and had expressed himself favorable toward the idea of having his place used as a waiting room in conjunction with a confectionery or book store, but the nature of his lease would not permit.

Mr. Ricard said that he did not believe that the waiting room was as important now as some other matters, owing to the fact that good weather was coming. On motion of Mr. Sullivan it was agreed to delay further action on the matter until the Carter & Sherburne people were again heard from.

Mr. Sullivan, discussing the new time schedule recently put into effect by the railway company, said that it provided for later Sunday night service but not for later week night cars.

"It's pretty tough," he said, "when a community of 115,000 or 120,000 inhabitants can't get car service later than 11:30 p. m. People expect at least midnight service. In the olden days the last cars didn't leave the square until 12:30."

He referred to a number of people who take late trains from Boston and who are forced to walk home after they arrive in Lowell.

Mr. Lees said that even though the company should get several cars full of people as a result of operating later, the revenue from these wouldn't pay the cost of operating some 15 cars to cover the entire city. He pointed out that beyond the convenience that would be furnished the few people coming up from Boston there would be little other justification for later service.

Mr. Ricard agreed that it wouldn't be a business proposition for the street railway company. Manager Lees said that a good way to judge the proposition would be to observe the business being done on late trips now.

Mr. Carney asked if it would be very expensive to have just one car at the station to meet one of the late trains and have that car connect at the square with other lines. Manager Lees admitted that such a scheme would be feasible.

Mrs. Burke said that it often takes as long to get from the railroad station to one's home as from Boston to Lowell.

It was finally voted to ask Manager Lees to do all in his power to establish 12 o'clock service on week nights and the latter agreed to try it out on Saturday nights.

There followed considerable discussion.

April 24 is proclaimed Arbor Day, which should be observed by planting trees, shrubs or vines, or perhaps laying out the lines of a vegetable garden. Unfortunately Arbor Day is allowed to pass like many of our holidays, with little attention to its real meaning or purpose.

Our exports have shown a decline in February as compared with January, owing undoubtedly to the low rate of foreign exchange. The countries whose money has depreciated do not want to buy from us if they can get what they want elsewhere.

The value of the pound sterling has recently advanced from $3.11 to $4.00 or more than half the way towards par, which is $4.86. This indicates that production in Great Britain is gaining so fast that prices have begun to tumble. It indicates speedy recovery from the effects of the war.

Congress is going to end the war, but is afraid that President Wilson will block its efforts, just as the senate blocked the president's efforts in that direction by refusal to ratify the treaty. The constitution may also be brought into the controversy to prove that congress is overstepping its powers. It is certain that the country longs for official peace that will stand the test of constitutionality.

It is alleged now that the republicans plan to offer a $2,000,000 bonus to the soldiers at one gulp, so to speak. They plan to raise the money by a tax on consumption, or in other words upon purchases, say at the rate of one cent or over on every dollar's purchase. The direct taxes are too high already. The people should not be called upon to meet such heavy imposts while the other war taxes are still in force.

The immigrants coming to our shores are chiefly women, many of them widows. They are needed; but it is estimated that 4,000,000 men would barely relieve the present labor shortage. They cannot be found. If such men come to our shores, they should not be barred because of inability to read and write English. In the work for which men are most needed it makes slight difference whether they can speak English, if they can only understand the orders given them. For the purposes of citizenship later on, it will be necessary for them to be able to read English.

MCKNIGHT'S BILL

There is much surprise at the action of the state senate in refusing to offer Attorney General J. Weston Allen further power to investigate shady stock transactions and investment securities by which many people are being swindled at the present time. A substitute measure has been proposed but the attorney general should know what he wanted and what is necessary to protect the public against these investment sharks.

President McKnight of the senate has not strengthened public confidence in his good judgment by putting forward his own plan instead of that of Mr. Allen. Yet if his measure passes it will help to combat the evils of which the attorney general complains.

VIRGINIA WOMEN

Old Virginia which has furnished seven presidents of the United States, has some distinguished women who, after they get the vote, are likely to cut a wide swath in politics. One of these is Miss Bertha Gray Robinson who prides herself upon the fact that she has owned and edited a democratic newspaper for thirty-two years. This does not mean that Miss Robinson is not still on the sunny side of fifty and ready to go on the stump if necessary in the interest of democracy and her favorite candidates.

In addition to running her paper, Miss Robinson has been a leading member of the Virginia Press association, the history of whose activities during twenty-four years of growth she has written with a wealth of interesting tales and political reminiscences. Miss Robinson regrets that her state has failed to be recorded on the side of suffrage for women but she is confident that some other state will have the gallantry to put the capstone on the suffrage arch which the nation is building for women. In this let us hope she will not be disappointed.

BUILDING OUTLOOK

in the high school lot, while Contractor Dupeau is making progress in leveling and grading the site of the auditorium. Several mill buildings are in progress of construction and the prospect is, that this will be one of the greatest building years in the history of the city. In spite of the great scarcity of dwellings, however, it is already apparent that very few will be built during the coming season.

The cost of labor and material is practically prohibitive. Those who desire to build have come to the conclusion that they cannot do so without incurring financial loss. To build at present prices, they would be obliged to charge rents which would be much higher than the people would be willing to pay. Besides, when production shall have caught up with the demand, prices will take a tumble and the owners of buildings constructed under present conditions are likely to lose on their investment. It is this outlook that prevents the building of dwellings. Otherwise, the building prospects for the season are excellent. The only factor that can interfere with them is the difficulty of getting material and the uncertainty of having all the building trades remaining continuously at work. It is to be hoped, however, that all arrangements will be completed before May 1st for steady work during the entire season.

LEGALIZED POLYGAMY

Only the other day a Chicago judge resigned because he said he was tired listening to the tales of infidelity in the divorce court. He had almost lost faith in the ability of men and women to adhere to their marriage vows. In this respect he was a pessimist and it is probably well for the court that he resigned.

He expressed the opinion that it was idleness that led most of the women astray. The married women who keep busy in their homes are not the ones who get into the divorce court. Many divorcees are granted for incompatibility of temper, a very elastic cause which can be made to suit almost any case. Mesalliance, non-support, desertion, cruel and abusive treatment, are causes frequently set up in court when the real cause is a desire to be free in order to make another venture in the matrimonial market.

The free love advocate finds his or her "soul affinity" and puts forward the claim of ardent attachment for another as a legitimate cause for annulling the marriage tie. The great trouble with those who resort to the divorce court is that they never at any time regarded the marriage tie as binding, and never pretended to comply with its obligations. When divorced persons get married a few weeks after securing the decree, it is reasonable to infer that the divorce was sought merely to remove the legal obstacle to a second marriage and that the causes, therefore, were merely trumped up from circumstances which with well intentioned people would never occur.

Easy divorce that permits remarriage is little better than legalized polygamy.

KILLING OLD TYPHOID

It is fine news that control of the scourge of typhoid has reached such a satisfactory point that the certain elimination of the disease from these United States is in sight.

Since the opening of this century one city after another has taken on the attack on typhoid, until now there is no city of any size which is not campaigning against it through the water supply and by means of sanitation. For several years past the Journal of the American Medical Association has presented an annual survey of typhoid mortality to the physicians of the country. The survey for 1919 is now announced, and the figures are nothing less than amazing.

The honors go to the cities of Chicago, New York, Boston and Cleveland, in order. The average deaths from typhoid per 100,000 population for the period 1905-16 in Chicago were 15.8; in 1919 the average was 1.2. In New York, 1905-16, average deaths per 100,000 were 14.5; in 1919 the record stood 2. Boston reduced the mortality from 16 to 2.2 in 1919. Cleveland reduced from 15.7 to 2.4 in 1919.

There are other cities where the mortalities are as low or even lower—for example, Spokane, without a single death—but the honor cities have very large populations, with great numbers coming in and going out every day, making control of any disease difficult. In Chicago the value of the great engineering work of turning sewage away from Lake Michigan is beginning to tell. The drinking water of Chicago is today probably the purest of any city in the world. In Cleveland the great results are mostly due to water filtration and liberal use of chlorine of lime.

There are some interesting exhibits from other cities. Ten years ago the average typhoid mortality in Columbus, O., per 100,000 was 40. In 1919 it was 3. Louisville, Ky., was 52.7; now 11.2. Pittsburgh was 65, but Pittsburgh has cleaned it down to 6.2. Scranton, Pa., was 31.5, but is now next to Chicago with only 1.3. The worst place in 1919 was Memphis with 58.4, an increase of 23.1 over ten years ago.—N. E. A.

CONGRESSIONAL JOY RIDES

A real congressional "joy-ride" to the orient is what has been planned by members of congress for the coming summer. It will be the most extended jaunt of the many made by the members of the present congress.

The tour is to be "unofficial," which means that the government will not pay the entire expense. A government transport will be furnished and each member of the party will be required to pay $1.25 per day for subsistence which is somewhat below the hotel rates in our leading cities. The transport Mr. Vernon will be used for the purpose, starting from San Francisco early in June, and visiting Hawaii, the Philippines, China and Japan. The entire trip is to last about sixty days, if not prolonged. Many of the congressmen will bring along their families and private secretaries to enjoy the delightful voyage.

Criticism of the various expensive trips made by members of the present congress does not seem to have changed the policy of the leaders, although that policy does not accord with their avowed efforts to promote economy. The republicans have had a continuous series of junkets since they came into control; but with the exception of that to the orient the tours were projected for the ostensible purpose of investigating government extravagance and other abuses. Already delegations have visited practically every state, traveling in special cars and enjoying all the luxuries of the day at the expense of the government.

It is now proposed that investigating committees shall visit all the Indian reservation, Alaska, France and Hawaii. One party has been to the Virgin Islands and another to the Panama Canal. These junkets may explain why congress has done so little in the line of constructive legislation. The republican leaders will find it difficult to show any compensating benefit derived from the widespread investigations. Thus far, it appears they have not found the evidence of graft and fraud for which they have been hunting.

SEEN AND HEARD

Whether or not we save daylight, let us not waste any of it.

O you April bride! You're one of the surest signs of spring.

It's better to forfeit a little "retro-active" salary than to give back some already received.

Why not exercise the new one-man cars on Fletcher street? They wouldn't be in the way there, surely.

May we expect another boost of coal prices now that the handlers have returned to work with a wage increase?

We admit that a steam shovel has its purpose in the world, but surely it will never win a prize for gracefulness.

Central bridge is beginning to creak and groan. Mr. Commissioner, are we right in the midst of a Safety First campaign?

It hasn't occurred to the daylight savers that they may accomplish all they seek by setting up in time to do their golf before going to work.

Quint Almer Harrington believes that there are more happy marriages in love was as blind after the honeymoon as it was in the courtship days.

The first street oval is not the only place where motorists acquire by seizure. That term "seizure" by the way, is not as heartless as it sounds.

An Honest Jeweler

Jones was very much surprised to see a lot of quite nice looking clocks displayed in a window, marked 45¢ each.

He went inside and asked to see one.

"I don't know how you can do it at the price," he remarked. "It must cost that to make one of these."

"It does," replied the jeweler. "Then where does your profit come in?" asked Jones in amazement.

"In repairing them," the jeweler informed him bluntly.

Age of the Sun

Here is a new calculation of the age of the sun. M. Perrenet read it recently to the French Academy of Sciences. On the principle that the mean temperature of a star remains approximately equal to the surface temperature it had when first formed, and giving the sun an internal temperature of 12,000 deg. C., or double that of its surface, and calculating its mass to be 2,193,000 kilograms, the sun cannot have been formed more than between two and six millions of years ago. A star with a surface temperature of 600,000 deg. C. would have been formed from a nebula in 300 days and one with 2,000,000 degrees in seven hours.

Feeling the Farmer

Old Farmer Turnout went to London for a visit, and, on a friend's advice, stayed at a quiet hotel in Bloomsbury. On his return to the village this friend asked how he had got on.

"Hutten!" retorted the old chap shortly.

"Why, weren't they nice to you at the hotel?" asked his friend in surprise.

"Nice?" Old Turnout's tones were withering. "Well, if you call it being nice to fool a man because he comes from the country, they were. Why, the very first night that I stayed there they gave me a big bottle to take to bed, and when I unscrewed the stopper there weren't nothing in it but hot water."

His Lesson

Some days the way appears so dark
That life most useless seems.
It takes so long to reach a path.
In which the shining gleams,
That hope will almost fly away.
And leave us in despair.
While life appears so very hard;
And often so unfair.

We wonder why it thus must be,
And lift our hearts in prayer
When we comfort seek from God.
He drives away our care.
And sends sweet sunshine in our souls.
To bring us brighter days.
And show how earnest only come
To reach us wiser ways.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A friend of mine has a most perplexing telephonic problem he is trying to solve and inasmuch as his present is entirely novel to me, at least, I'll chance it and outline the tangle without attempting to unravel it. A little over a week ago "friend" moved from one house to another. In the new house was and still is a telephone in good working order, and it had a party line number. The folks who moved out of the house "friend" moved into had a telephone installed in their new home. These facts led up to the tangle, or in fact, created it. "Friend" now sits in his office and endeavors to call his home. He gives the number originally assigned to that instrument and the operator sweetly says, "That number has been changed to such and such" and proceeds to ring the phone at the new home of the folks who used to occupy the house now owned by "friend." "No, no," frantically calls "friend." "I don't want the new number. I want the original one." And he can't get it. He has a sort of a one-way phone and when he attempts to explain to supervisors and chief operators he runs up against the "rules." "Friend" swears, literally so, and also swears he will take the problem to the United States supreme court unless he can have that telephone working from both ends. We might suggest that the next time the operator asks "Number, please," that he ask: "What numbers have you?"

The Middlesex street railroad station is the setting of many a happy scene these April days with brides passing through its confines almost every hour of the day and early evening. I happened to be at the station about 5:15 the other afternoon and two bridal parties were then waiting for a Boston-bound train. Each group seemed to be rivaling the other in the amount of interest it was attracting for there were very few men or women who do

MR. RUBADUB FINDS HELP

This was Nancy's plan, and she told it to the fairyman right away. "We'd love to help you, Mr. Rubadub. If you'll let us, shouldn't we, Nick? If you'll tell us what you want done, we can help you to scrub up the birds and paint the flowers. I'm sure. Once I painted a tulip in my painting book at home and it looked so real, Daddy said he could almost smell it. And Nick painted the cat's tail pink, one time, too."

"Is that so?" beamed the fairyman.

"Yes, I do need help very much," he went on, "but the work is easy to learn, for I keep a big picture book of birds and flowers with all the colors, and if you follow it you can't go wrong. Only," turning to Nick, "don't put pink tails on things, please, unless they belong there."

Nick promised, for he was as eager as Nancy to get to work.

The magical mushroom said he'd stay right with them to help them understand bird talk and flower language, and then green shoes said it was all the same to them, no matter

"I KEEP A BIG PICTURE BOOK OF BIRDS AND FLOWERS WITH ALL THE COLORS," SAID THE FAIRYMAN.

"This is what I call luck. Maybe you came true because I waved my wand this morning. I was beginning to think it must be worn out because nobody appeared, and I intended to ask the fairy queen for another one the next time she came around."

"Yes, I do need help very much," he went on, "but the work is easy to

how long the twins stayed in Scrub-Up land.

So it was settled. Mr. Rubadub got some brushes and things for them and the twins were soon very busy.

Nancy reached up for the robin, who had perched himself on Mr. Rubadub's shoulder to attract attention. "Come on, birdie," she said, sweetly, "I don't need a book to fix you up. I guess I know what a robin should look like."

MONKEY TESTS MAY REVEAL FLU CURE

Monkeys, like humans, are susceptible to the attacks of influenza. Under the direction of Major F. G. Blake and Major R. L. Cecil, the Army Medical School of Washington, D. C., recently completed tests with 22 monkeys to determine the effects of influenza on the ape family.

The monkeys were inoculated with B. influenza by swabbing the upper respiratory tract with a culture of the disease germ, isolated from a case of influenza pneumonia, which had developed in a man. The virulence of the disease was subsequently raised, but instinctively gathered around a bride and bridegroom at a railroad station. Confetti was being showered without stint and the station floor looked as though a healthy snow storm had just descended on it. Later in the evening upon my return to the station there was another trail of confetti out on the platform, the memento, I suppose, of another happy couple's send-off.

RECEIVED BY POPE

Dr. Renner Thanks Pontiff for Saving Children

ROME, April 8.—Dr. Karl Renner, chancellor of the Austrian republic, was received in private audience today by the pope, who showed great interest in the present state of affairs in Austria, and anxiously inquired as to the condition of the Austrian population, especially the children. He also expressed pleasure at the recovery and well being of the Austrian children who have been brought to Italy so that they might receive better care.

Dr. Renner, greatly moved, thanked the pontiff for his support of the children of the Central empires, so many of whom, he said, had been saved from certain death by the pope's interest.

CHAPLAIN OF O.M.I. CADETS SENDS LETTER OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT

TO LADIES' AUXILIARY
A letter of acknowledgment from Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain of the O.M.I. Cadets, was read at the regular meeting of the 101st Ladies' Auxiliary, held last evening at the Community club, with Mrs. William H. Merritt, the president, in the chair.

The letter thanked the auxiliary for contributions made to the cadets. Contributions have also been made to the Pawtucketville memorial fund. Arrangements were made for a party to be held in the near future.

SEEDS OF A NEW WAR?

Some of the shrewdest students of international affairs see in the Ruhr affair and the French occupation of Frankfurt and Darmstadt a situation which may lead to another outbreak of war in Europe. Germans and French have both violated the peace treaty. German troops entered the neutral Ruhr mining district ostensibly to quiet the riots; French troops occupied Frankfurt and Darmstadt ostensibly to insure withdrawal of the Germans. Behind these moves, however, may be deeper motives. The Germans want to keep the "neutral zone" along the Rhine; the militaristic school in France, headed by Marshal Foch, never did give up hope of eventually holding the Rhine bank despite the peace treaty. And in these troubled days, both sides may think possession more than nine points of the law.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW

Rep. Achin Leads Successful Fight Urging Congress to Enact National Law

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 3.—Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., of Lowell was successful in his fight in the house yesterday for adoption of a resolution reported by the federal relations committee, of which he is chairman, urging congress to enact a national daylight saving law.

"This house has already gone on record in favor of daylight saving, both as a national proposition and as a state proposition," said Rep. Achin. "If the governor should sign the bill before him, I believe it entirely proper to adopt this resolution and forward it to congress, so that the national legislature may be informed of the sentiment of this state, and so that they will have no doubt that it is the desire of the people of Massachusetts that the benefits of the daylight saving law be extended all over the country."

Rep. George P. Webster of Hoxford spoke against adoption of the resolution, contending that the action of the legislature in passing the bill would be sufficient evidence to congress of the attitude of Massachusetts on the subject.

The house sided with the Lowell legislator and adopted the resolution, the vote being 59 to 21.

Without a dissenting vote, the house admitted under suspension of the rules and referred to the ways and means committee a resolve providing that Emilio Gill of Lowell, father of the late Edmund J. Gill, shall receive the balance of salary that would have been due him had he lived through the present year. Edmund J. Gill was for many years one of the most popular of the legislative messengers, and every member will be proud to vote for the pending resolve. HOYT.

GERMANS IN ENGLAND
HAVE HARD ROW TO HOE

LONDON, April 2.—Large numbers of German and other undesirables who were deported from England in the war have managed to make their way back to London, but have encountered warm receptions when their identity has been discovered. They managed to cross from the continent by working their way as sailors on tramp steamers to northern English and Scottish ports.

These Germans who have come back to England to take up business again find it a hard row to hoe, says the Evening Standard. One German business man gave it up and returned to his fatherland after being refused admission to five London hotels. He found rooms in a Bloomsbury boarding house, but two days later the other boarders discovered him, and notified the manager they could not live under the same roof with a German; and he was turned out.

A German butcher in a London suburb was prevented by his neighbors from reopening his old store the other day, although he had lived in England for 40 years, and there are many similar cases.

Neither captain nor crew of the steamer Spica, the first German cargo ship to enter the British ports since August, 1914, were allowed ashore at Methyl and, in deference to local feeling, the vessel did not display the German flag.

On the other hand, a revival of "Tannhauser" at Covent Garden Opera recently drew a crowded and appreciative audience of society people. The cast, however, was wholly English.

ELECTRICAL DISPLAY
AT THE K. OF C. BALL

One of the big features of the annual ball to be given by the local council of the Knights of Columbus in Associated hall next Tuesday evening, will be an electrical decorative display such as has rarely been seen in Lowell. The committee in charge of decorations has spent considerable time and money in preparing this novel feature. Invitations have been sent to many prominent officials to attend the affair, including Gov. Coolidge, Gen. McCall, Mayor Thompson and various high officers of the order. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the ball is open to the entire public and not alone to members of the council and their friends. The grand march will begin at 9 o'clock.

A tall slender woman has more lee-

way in the choice of hats than a short stout woman.

A hat with a broad drooping brim will lessen the height while a hat with a brim rolling up on one side seems to increase it.

A short stout woman should choose a hat with a crown higher on one side, as this will increase the height. The same effect is had by placing the trimming toward the back of the hat.

THE INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT

The Interchurch World movement, which embraces a gigantic survey of the Protestant faith, was launched in Lowell last night, when a score of people met at the Y.M.C.A. to form the nucleus of an organization to carry on the work here. The dates of the drive are from April 25 to May 2 inclusive.

It is planned to form two distinct organizations in Lowell. There will be a united campaign committee composed of one man and one woman from each co-operating church. This organization will secure a committee to actively push the drive. An executive committee of laymen also will be formed as well as a number of sub-committees.

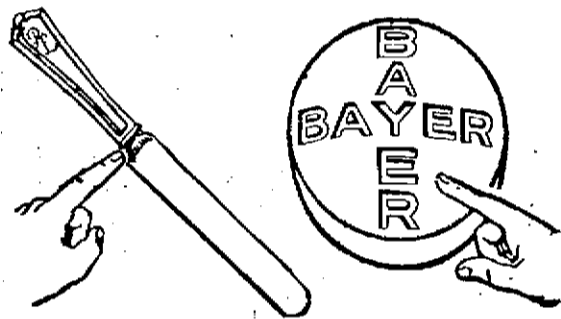

The executive committee took shape last night when the following men were named: Samuel H. Thompson, Otis Butler, Abel R. Campbell, Rev. C. G. Zierk and R. R. Gumb. Others will be added at a meeting to be held soon.

Simply wonderful

I find RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women simply wonderful. They have strengthened my constitution, improved my complexion, and made me take on flesh at a time when I was fairly run-down through Anaemia. Before taking RED PILLS, I had been under the care of a physician, who was unable to do me any good. That is why my confidence is so firmly established in RED PILLS, and I intend to take them again as soon as I notice that a good tonic is needed. I recommend them highly to all other women who are weakened and exhausted, as they are the best remedy I have ever known.

—Mrs. J. DESMARAIS,
Wareham, Conn.

Weak and nervous

I am now forty-one years of age and the mother of several children. I have known RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women for years, and I always keep them on hand. They have proven a boon to me under circumstances when I was excessively weak and nervous. Although I have been compelled to work very hard at all times, I am today fortunate enough to be enjoying good health, and I attribute this to the fact that I have always kept my strength up by the regular use of RED PILLS. My daughters also take them, so as to keep themselves fit and strong.

—Mrs. ETIENNE LANGLAIS,
215 Vliet Street, Cohoes, N. Y.

Exhausted and suffering

Two years ago I started taking RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, as I was run-down and exhausted and suffering from pains in the side, caused by prolonged hard work. One of my friends having noticed that I was gradually failing, advised me to try this remedy. I was really surprised at the good results obtained almost immediately on starting to take them. Twenty boxes were needed to effect a lasting recovery. Now when my friends ask me the secret of my good health, I am happy to reply that it is RED PILLS which helped me so.

—Miss ALDEA LEFEBVRE
93 Foundry Street, Central Falls, R. I.

Stronger every day

Through repeated hard work, I had become weakened. As my means were rather limited and I could not afford to spend much money on physicians, I was becoming rather discouraged. One day, while reading the newspapers, I came across the wonderful recoveries effected through the use of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. There and then I decided that I too would try this remedy, and was delighted to note that I was gradually getting stronger every day. Now, I take them from time to time, as I do not want to let myself get run-down again.

—Mrs. ROSANNA TRUDEAU,
30 King Street, Central Falls, R. I.

VESPER COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Vesper Country club was held last night at the club house on Tyng's Island. In the absence of President Marble, Harry G. Pollard presided. H. Hutchins Parker, Judge John C. Leggat and Albert D. Milliken were chosen executive committee members to serve for three years. An excellent report was read by Treasurer Arthur J. Murkland and Secretary Andrew Eccles.

Swapp's report reviewed the club history for 1919 and held out an optimistic belief that the new addition to the golf links would be ready for play before the coming season ends. A recommended increase in dues was approved as well as a suggestion that hereafter the clubhouse will be closed each year during the months of January, February and March. After the business meeting and a substantial steak dinner, the Angelo Four entertained with musical selections and readings were given by Mr.

New York Evening Gowns Radiate Lovely Colors And Light From Silver Cloth and Satin

SATIN, RADIUM AND SILVER CLOTH WITH SEQUIN HEADS, MAKE THESE EVENING GOWNS

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, April 9.—Never, never was New York so gloriously gay—and I wish I could give an adequate picture of the wonderful gowns that are to be seen everywhere, morning, afternoon and evening, especially in the evening. They glitter and sparkle and radiate the most beautiful, color schemes imaginable. This gown in the center was imported by Gidding for one of New York's most popular society girls. I'd love to give you her name, but she forbids. It is of silver cloth, with a panther yoke tunic (which is very new) of finest silk net, embroidered all over with tiniest sequin beads that

look for all the world like water drops, prisms of light. In "Apple Blossoms" Florence Shirley wears another of these adorable frocks, long lines of opalescent beads, dropping from a plain little white satin dress that could easily be copied. This is shown at the left. At the right is Hazel Dawn, in a graceful gown of orchid radium, with a bit of lace and bunch of Spanish daisies as sole trimming. Long girle ends and a panel drop of the material distinguish the gown. One sees so many hats with evening costumes. It's the thing now—large hats of lace, gold or ceru or black with crown of taffeta or soft straw, or horsehair hats, one color lined with another; small hats, flower toques or hats fashioned of the gown material. They are even more fetching than head-dresses to which American women do not take so very kindly.

With genuine reluctance on the part of all those present or in any way connected with the sessions the Americanization classes of the Colburn Evening School held the closing exercises last evening. The exercises marked the conclusion of a very successful and gratifying season and were under the direction of Miss Gertrude Hession and Miss May Cowell. The program was as follows: Portuguese national anthem, pupils of Miss Cowell's room; recitation, "Love of Country," Sarkis Vartekian; song, Sophia Fernandes and George Hayen; violin and piano selection, Jaquin Perlaudo and Miss Hession; reading in Portuguese, Manuel Santos; "America," by the entire school.

A compilation of the physical measurements of the men in the United States service during the war shows there was an average gain of 3.33 pounds in weight and 23 inches in height during the period of service.

TO LOSE ONE TOOTH, IS TO LOSE A VITAL ELEMENT OF GOOD HEALTH

To expect part of a set of teeth to perform thorough mastication, is like trying to run a piece of machinery minus a cog. Food instead of being ground, is pushed into the opening made by lost teeth, hence it must go to the stomach in a manner that makes digestion difficult. Stomach diseases begin, and you begin paying doctor bills that could have been saved by a small sum to repair your teeth.

To improve health, begin with bad teeth. Patients get an appreciation of usefulness from their teeth after they have had my attention. That is worth more than the fee they leave at my office. If you delay your call, it will mean a lost tooth.

HOW WILSON MET

JOSEPH TUMULTY

Who's got to listen to the bores
Who oze in through the White House
And hear all of the kinks and roars?
Tumulty.

Who's got to open all the mail
And answer letters without fail
And send regrets out by the hale?
Tumulty.

Who's always got to be polite
From early morn till late at night
And never lose his temper quite?
Tumulty.

Who's got to read the proofs on all
Of Woodrow's speeches, great and small
And bear the brunt of every squall?
Tumulty.

Joseph Tumulty was born in Jersey City, N. J., May 3, 1872. His "people" were well-to-do folk, his father a veteran of the civil war in the Union army. The son was to be trained as a lawyer, with a side squint at politics. He was graduated from St. Peter's college in Jersey City in 1899 and immediately started in to read law. By 1902 he was ready to hang out his shingle and practiced for eight years.

He ran for the legislature and was elected, serving from 1907 to 1910, when Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, appointed him private secretary and retained him in this confidential capacity when he came to Washington as president of the United States.

And here is how Mr. Wilson came to "take him on":

Peed Klesam, known far and wide in Jersey, was in charge of the Democratic Speakers' bureau in the state campaign of 1910. Klesam was working tooth and nail for the election of Woodrow Wilson as governor over Vivian M. Lewis.

On Friday Klesam received a telephone message from Wilbur Heecroft, former sheriff of Monmouth county, asking him to get a speaker for a meeting to be held at Lakewood that very night. "Get me a good speaker," Heecroft urged. "Wilson is going to speak, but he will be here late and we must have a good speaker to hold the crowd until he comes. Don't send me any dubs."

Klesam had scheduled Joe Tumulty at West Hoboken that night. Joe was going strong on the stump. He was handing out the language the boys could understand, and he kept his crowds in good humor with his dialect stories. He was full of fire and "pep" and had never let an audience get away from him until he was through and started the exit procession himself.

So down came Joe and Klesam met him at the station and took him to the hall where all the chivalry and beauty of Lakewood was assembled to hear Mr. Wilson. Likewise "the gang" was all there. Joe mounted the platform, gave the crowd the once over, beamed that fish smile upon them, which met with instant response, and then started in to give the republican party "unshirred hell."

He warmed up as he went along and was in full stride, carrying the crowd along with him with cheers and laughter, when Mr. Wilson came to the door. Just as he stepped across the threshold Joe had loosed away at the republicans with a high-explosive shell of great velocity which exploded with a crash that attracted the attention of Mr. Wilson, who paused in the operation of shucking his overcoat and listened for several minutes before proceeding to enter the hall.

"That's Joe Tumulty, from Hudson ed Mr. Wilson.

"That's Joe Tumulty, from Hudson county," replied State Chairman Nugent, who had come down with Mr. Wilson from Tony's River. Mr. Wilson made a few other inquiries about him. "Um," he said. "Bring him around to the hotel after the meeting. I want to talk to him."

After the "speaking" was over Nugent took Joe around to the Laurel House and introduced him. They talked until way into the night.

Klesam had booked Tumulty to speak at Long Branch Saturday night, but Saturday morning he received a telephone message from Mr. Wilson telling him to cancel all of Joe's engagements. He wanted Joe to go along with him. And Joe has been going along with him ever since. He finished the campaign with him, and his knowledge of affairs and of political conditions in the legislature was of incalculable value to the candidate. When Mr. Wilson was elected governor he asked Joe to come with him as private secretary.

sion regarding the extension of half-hour service to the Vesper Country club on the Tyngsboro line by having the cars run to that point instead of only to Wood's corner. The matter was broached by Mr. Carney, Manager Lees said that some of the track on the Tyngsboro line was in such condition that the public service commission had limited the speed of cars there to eight miles an hour and that, of course, interfered somewhat with the running schedule. However, Mr. Lees was confident that the company would see its way clear to have the tracks fixed in the near future and regular half-hour time to Tyngsboro again established.

The petition from patrons of the High street line, asking for the privilege of remaining on the High street car until it reached Dutton street without paying an extra fare, was then considered. Mr. Lees explained that he had sent a copy of the petition to the assistant general manager of the company and the latter had replied that he appreciated the argument of the petitioners but that if the privilege they asked were granted on the High street line, patrons of other lines would want the same privileges until the zone limits now established would be entirely wiped out.

It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until such time that the company is able to afford to extend such privileges to the patrons of all lines.

Following an informal discussion of the reports of the company for the months of January and February, bringing out the fact that the Lowell district had the best car service of the entire system during the past winter, the committee adjourned at 5:35 until Thursday, April 22, at 4 p. m.

SAYS PARAGUAY LAND OF WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR NORTH AMERICANS

BUENOS AIRES, April 9.—Paraguay is a land of wonderful opportunity for North Americans, says W. L. Schurz, United States trade commissioner who has just completed a 7 months' investigation of its resources. Ten million dollars in American money has thus far been invested in the little republic but in the opinion of Mr. Schurz, millions more of American capital would find a profitable return there.

Nearly the size of the state of Missouri and with less than 1,000,000 inhabitants, Paraguay has untouched resources of amazing variety and possibilities, Mr. Schurz told a correspondent of the Associated Press.

"Over half the country is forested with the finest hard woods in the world," he said. "Its soil and climate are capable of raising anything under the sun, including wheat and bananas. Experiments have proved that more cotton to the acre can be raised on Paraguayan soil than on any other soil where cotton is cultivated at present. It is good for tobacco and sugar, it is good for anything."

"Oranges in Paraguay grow wild. You would not believe that only one out of every 100 oranges produced in Paraguay ever is eaten. But it is so. Billions of oranges lie on the ground and rot."

"There are deposits of manganese and iron of unknown extent that have not been worked since the Paraguayan war ended in 1870. It is waiting for a railroad to be built to it. There is also copper."

"The American investments in Paraguay at present are in cattle, meat packing plants and quebracho. There are less than 100 Americans in the whole country. They are popular with the natives who think a lot of the United States."

10,000 GERMAN ARMY HELMETS CRUSHED INTO MUD AT SALVAGE DEPOT

CROYDEN, Eng., April 9.—Ten thousand German army helmets have been crushed into the mud at a salvage depot here to make a pathway for captured German guns and other heavy traffic. It would have cost more to sell them as souvenirs than would be derived from the sale.

GERMAN MUSIC IN BRITAIN
LONDON.—German music is returning to England without arousing protest or hostility. Strauss' work was heard here for the first time since 1914 when his "Don Juan" was placed last on the program in Queen's hall recently with the idea that those who did not want to hear it need not remain. Some members of the audience left the hall when it began but there was no other manifestation of disapproval.

TO SAIL AROUND WORLD
TOKIO, April 9.—A Japanese millionaire is planning to send an exhibition ship around the world to introduce Japan's products to foreign lands. The steamer is to be a 10,000-ton vessel reconstructed so as to afford room for exhibition shelves and rooms for entertainments, and is to start some time this month.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

WILL "RISING SUN" EVER "SET" IN RUSSIA?

Japanese forces have occupied Vladivostok, shown here with a view of the harbor. Japan has long been eager to "expand" in Siberia. Even since the beginning of the peace conference she has been angling for a foothold. Now, with allied troops practically gone, and with the Japanese flag flying over the great eastern gateway, the allies anticipate a man-size job convincing the Japs they ought to leave.

France, and it is considered the action of Belgium, supporting the policy of France, hardly compensates for it.

"Fertinax," the political editor of the Echo de Paris, writes an unusually savage article attacking Premier Lloyd George, whom he calls a "demagogue." He says in conclusion:

"Mr. Lloyd George never has forgiven the policy adopted by France since January of being independent within the entente. He has bided his time, as he thinks it is now come. We count on the clear-sightedness of our friends across the channel and the deep friendship we have found with them, to bring the chief of the Downing street cabinet back to an interpretation of the Anglo-French alliance from which he should never have departed. Such an evolution was to be expected of him. He has taken up and dropped every doctrine, and could the entente cordiale escape under this rule? The English people well know how to force him to make an exception in this case."

St. Brice of the Journal, with other foreign specialists, is more impartial and blames all of the allies of France in more measured terms. He incidentally declares:

"It is shown that false reports were spread by some American newspaper correspondents in Germany, and one of these, the rumor that President Wilson had sent an ultimatum to France, provoked the Frankfurt incident."

FRENCH ADVANCE IS CON-DEMNED BY ALLIES

LONDON, April 9 (By the Associated Press).—After a long conference which the French ambassador, Paul Cambon, had with Premier Lloyd George yesterday and a full discussion of the French-German incident by the cabinet council, at which the French view was explained fully to the British ministers, an authoritative statement was issued to the effect that France acted entirely on her own initiative in deciding to occupy German towns; that Great Britain, the United States, Italy and Belgium all were opposed to the plan and that France's action had caused a delicate situation.

The matter is under discussion of the British and French governments and the hope is expressed that the situation may be eased.

Expedients Suggested

The statement recites various expedients suggested for dealing with the Ruhr situation, among others the sending of allied officers with German troops to supervise the German withdrawal. Another alternative was that the decision should be left with the German government, with the stipulation that unless the status quo was restored sufficiently the allies themselves would occupy German points to enforce their demands. The statement proceeds:

Germany Precipitate

"The German government appears to have acted precipitately and France to have responded by adopting a plan which was only intended as a last resort method and even then to have been the affair of the allies and not of any one of them singly."

Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and the United States, it is declared, all felt that the task of restoring order should lie with Germany, and all were opposed to their regular forces being called upon, except as a last resort, to undertake what are virtually police duties. It is pointed out that France feared some ulterior motive on the part of Germany and doubtless acted in good faith, but, adds the statement, "the immediate result is that the responsibility for her action cannot be shared by the allies as a whole and, there certainly is no intention on the part of the British government to allow British soldiers to act as police between hostile German factions and incur all the odium of such a position, to say nothing of its risks."

No Help Now

The statement concludes: "If, and when France's suspicions of Germany's ulterior motives and deliberate flouting of the terms of the peace treaty become accomplished facts, the allies would doubtless be prepared to act instantly and vigorously in concert to vindicate the position and respect for the provisions of the treaty. But for the time being it may be taken that no British soldier will participate in the occupation of German cities in the neutral zone."

Anglo-French Crisis

LONDON, April 9.—The London Times says that a crisis has arisen in Anglo-French relations and that, contrary to assurances that the difference of opinion between the allies regarding the violation of the neutral zone by German troops were about to be composed by a friendly understanding, it appears that the British government yesterday took steps to emphasize their disagreement with the policy of France.

The Times adds that during the day M. Cambon, the French ambassador, had a long interview with Earl Curzon.

"Soon afterwards," continued the paper, "one of the premier's private secretaries, Philip Kerr of Bullitt fame, invited the representative of the provincial press to Downing street and informed them of Mr. Lloyd George's standpoint. Simultaneously a private communication on similar lines was addressed to the London press, and various worded communiques were issued for publication through the news agencies. These statements are understood to have been on the same lines as Earl Curzon's representations to the French ambassador."

"In official quarters last evening it was alleged that a note had been despatched to the French government through the British ambassador at Paris."

"The substance of the premier's argument is that by her occupation of German towns in the neutral zone France has acted against her views and the wishes of the allied statesmen and without consultation with them. Italy, Belgium and the United States are alleged to have been opposed to the French plan. As regards Belgium, the Brussels Telegraph shows this statement to be incorrect."

London Comment

LONDON, April 9.—The keynote of all the editorials in the London morning newspapers with regard to the divergence among the allies over the French move into Germany is anxiety as to the effect of the situation upon Anglo-French relations. The opinions differ, however, in apportioning the blame for the crisis. The anti-government press severely scores the Lloyd George cabinet. Some of the newspapers are more or less on the fence and one at least implies that France is chiefly culpable.

The Times and the Daily Mail are pronounced in their criticism of the British official attitude. The Morning Post demands that the government explain why it proclaimed to the world and especially to Germany, that there is a rift in the concord of the entente and it raises the question as to whether the house of commons will "tolerate the desertion of an ally at a critical moment." The Daily Telegraph expresses the view that the best outcome of the trouble would be the withdrawal of General von Watter's trespassing forces, which would certainly be followed, it says, by the withdrawal of the French. The Daily Chronicle says:

"The public will suggest that the government is insisting upon the country's right to be heard and consulted in any action against Germany, but the same time it attaches paramount importance to our connection with France and expects every effort to be made to keep it close and cordial."

The Daily News says:

"France precipitated a singularly unfortunate situation. Making every allowance for France's special grounds for apprehension, it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that she counted on presenting the allies with an accomplished fact which they would be constrained to accept, rather than reveal openly a difference of opinion within the alliance. They have not been prepared to adopt that course, and it is not desirable that they should. The first essential is to heal the breach as quickly and completely as possible, but that is not to be done by the majority of the allies yielding to a minority of one."

The newspaper contends that the withdrawal of the German regulars in the Ruhr region and the consequent withdrawal of the French is the one way out of the difficulty, but that this way cannot be taken immediately if it would result in increasing the chaos and disintegration in Germany.

FLETCHER SAYS NAVY PREPARED

Made Plans for War Against
a "Central Power" Two Years Before U. S. Entered

Plan Covered Every Phase of Naval Operations Under Assumed Conditions of War

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Two years before the United States joined the allies in the world war, the navy general board prepared a comprehensive plan for war against a "central power" of Europe, Rear Admiral F. F. Fletcher today told the senate investigating committee. He was replying to the charge that when the United States entered the war, the navy department had no "well considered" plans or policies for fighting Germany.

Many such plans had been made in the past, Admiral Fletcher said, but the plan referred to "covered every phase of naval operations under the assumed conditions of war." It dealt, he said, with the mobilization, organization and composition of the fleet, its disposition and employment, protection of the coast, bases of supplies on the United States coast in the West Indies, routes across the Atlantic and the enemy's forces and probable courses of action, and comprised nearly 300 typewritten pages.

Admiral Fletcher was a member of the general board during the war, but was engaged for the most part with his duties as a member of the war industries board, the priorities board and the council of national defense.

Explaining that he wished to comment on certain specific charges made by Admiral Sims before testifying regarding his duties as a member of these various boards, the witness first took up Sims' criticism that the navy was not prepared for war in April, 1917.

No navy ever was or ever will be fully prepared for war in the eyes of everyone, the admiral declared, but the American navy when it entered the war was "just as well prepared as any other navy in the world when the great war burst forth," he asserted.

Admiral Sims' declaration that the navy department should have immediately sent all available destroyers and small craft abroad to fight submarines, sounded "plausible and convincing," the witness said, but such course of action would have left the coastlands and ports full of invaluable vessels and cargoes open to attack by German submarines that had demonstrated in 1916 their ability to cross the ocean, menace the United States coast and return to Germany unaided. Such an attack, he asserted, would have caused great alarm in this country and would have prevented sending any small vessels to the war zone.

Admiral Fletcher characterized the work of the war industries board as one of the greatest achievements of the war, and declared that the members of the board complimented highly the efficiency with which the navy department conducted the business end of its participation in the war.

No loss of shipping or failure of the navy to transport troops to France prolonged the war for a single day, the admiral asserted. Admiral Sims' assertion that "the navy department is responsible for the loss of two and a half million tons of shipping, the prolongation of the war for four months, fifteen billion dollars of debt, and the loss of 500,000 lives" was based upon assumption and had no foundation in fact, the officer declared.

"The whole conclusion reached in the accusation is built up on the flimsy foundation of a hypothetical condition and is wholly without value," he said.

CHILD BADLY BURNED

While endeavoring to light a piece of paper in a stove at her home, 48 Elm street, shortly before 11 o'clock this morning, little Mary Zavazo, aged about 2 years, was painfully burned about the hands and arms. The child was playing near the front of the stove and pushed a piece of paper so near the fire that it ignited, the flames spreading to her clothing. The cries of the baby attracted the mother, who after putting out the fire summoned the ambulance and the child was removed to St. John's hospital.

Trotechau-Cornier

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Francis Trotechau and Miss Blanche Cornier were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. The bride wore a brown traveling suit and carried a bouquet of roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. Charles Cornier, while the groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Lambert.

At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents in Moody street. The couple left later on a honeymoon trip and upon their return Saturday they will be tendered a reception at the home of the groom's mother in Orleans street. They will make their home in this city.

In many parts of England it is a belief among the women that rosemary worn about the body strengthens the memory and adds to the success of the wearer in anything she may undertake.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

George F. Avels to Be Secretary-Manager — Barbour Changes His Mind

William H. Barbour of Pottsville, Pa., with whom the Lowell chamber of commerce believed it had completed negotiations regarding the secretaryship of the local organization, has reconsidered his apparent intention of coming here and has accepted the offer of a similar position in Carbonate, Pa.

The Lowell chamber, however, feels particularly fortunate and well satisfied to announce that it has secured the services of George F. Avels, now secretary of the Jamesville, Wis., chamber of commerce and formerly assistant secretary-manager of the Buffalo, N. Y., chamber, to take over the managerial reins of the local organization.

Mr. Avels telegraphed President W. N. Goodell today that he plans to leave for Lowell on the 15th of this month, next Thursday, and it is fair to assume that his active duties will commence this week beginning April 13. He came to Lowell a few days ago to confer with a special committee of the local board of directors and today wired his acceptance of the offer made him. He comes highly recommended and with a splendid record of accomplishment in chamber of commerce work, both as an organizer and director.

IMPORTANT MEETINGS

Called to Discuss Prescott Street and Grade Crossing Problems

Two important committee meetings are scheduled to be held today in the chamber of commerce rooms. Abutters and property owners in Prescott street have been asked to appear before a special committee on streets and highways to discuss the proposal of making that street a one-way thoroughfare. A great deal of opposition is expected from merchants doing business there, practically all of whom have signified a desire to be present.

At 8 o'clock this evening the special committee on the abolishment of the Middlesex grade crossing will meet to organize and informally discuss this question, which has been agitated from time to time and in various phases for several years.

LOWELL'S SHARE IN MARNE MEMORIAL

Lowell may well feel that she has more than fulfilled her obligations toward the Marne Memorial fund which will be used for the erection of a monument on the banks of the Marne, as a gift of appreciation from this country to France.

The city originally was assigned a quota of $100, but this was later increased to $200, to offset a seeming lack of support from the city of Cambridge. At the present time there is on deposit in local banks $267.30, with at least $75 more in sight, representing collections made at the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

It is believed that when the final tabulation is made for Lowell and Middlesex county, this territory will show a total far in excess of the assigned quota of $200. Lowell alone will be represented by approximately $400, donated by nearly 1500 contributors.

This is as planned, for the national organization in charge of raising the fund, expressed the desire that it be secured in small contributions, in order that as many people as possible might feel that they had an actual part in the memorial and thus making it a gift from the people of this country to France.

forward in the matter of efficient police protection will have been made.

One of these officers would cover day routes, two would be assigned to the evening shift and the fourth to the early morning shift. Supernumeraries would handle the theatre work of the transferred men.

This project would mean an additional expense to the police department, as the salaries of policemen on theatre duty are now paid by the theatres.

His second suggestion, the chief said, and one which he believes will soon be adopted, is the purchase of two additional motorcycles and sidecars for police duty—one to be used in the Highlands and the other in the Bleachery district. This would make five machines of this type in the service of the department, and would enable the motorcycle squad to cover much more territory than at present.

Referring to charges that the Highlands are not adequately policed and that there are only two policemen on duty in the entire district, made last evening at a meeting of the Men's club of the Grace Universalist church, the chief stated that Patrolman Fanning, who, before his recent illness, was on duty in the Highlands, will be reassigned to that section in the very near future. This will give the district three men, one of whom will be a member of the motorcycle squad if the requested machines are purchased.

Commenting on the fact that at least one local insurance firm has advertised that its rates are to be increased as a result of the epidemic of burglaries in the city during the past two months, the chief declared that he is convinced that the breaks are the work of one man. Plain clothes men have been detailed to various parts of the city where the thief has recently operated successfully, the chief said, and are now working on a clue which they believe will bring results within a few days.

TRY THIS FOR ECONOMY

"Conserving," "Economy" and "Thrift" are the present-day watchwords and well they may be! Are you conserving your health? Are you economical in buying treatment for disease? You should be! If your stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood are not right in every sense, you should at once begin a treatment to restore good, healthy conditions. Sulpher Tablets in a sugar-coated form, called Sulpher Tablets, is the surest relief that is economical. Get them in sealed tubes from druggists. Sulpher is the name—not "sulphur." Mrs. J. J. Devlin, 518 W. 162nd St., New York City, writes: "I would also like to say I find your Sulpher Tablets O. K. and am very much pleased to recommend to all my friends, etc."

is the result of jealous care at every stage of the milling of Larabee's Best Flour.

Only the finest of wheat is selected for "Larabee's Best." The Larabee mills are the equal of any in the world, and experts control, and chemists supervise, every process.

The result is a distinctive richness of flavor in breads and biscuits made of "Larabee's Best"—to say nothing of the assurance of purity and quality natural to this careful milling.

If "Larabee's Best" does not please you on the first trial, return the unused portion of the sack and the grocer will give you back your money.

Increases: Portland, 10,625, or 18.1 per cent. over 1910. Biddeford, 925, or 5.4 per cent. Quincy, 14,964, or 45.9 per cent. Lancaster, Ohio, 14,708, increase 1913, or 12.3 per cent.

BACK FROM THEIR EASTER VACATION

Sessions at the Rogers hall school were resumed today after the annual Easter vacation and activities immediately began to swing into the usual stride of regularity. Now that all the students have returned their attention will be turned towards the attempt of the school to raise a fund of $200.00 for the erection of a new recreation building and general improvement of the grounds, as previously announced in the Sun.
The first social affair was given this afternoon for the entertainment of alumni and friends of the school. The afternoon program opened at 2.15 with a bridge party with guests utilizing 50 tables, which was followed by a swimming exhibition by some of the girls in the gymnasium tank. Tea was served at bridge.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BRIEF MEETING

George H. Brown, former member of the local city government, has petitioned the municipal council for reimbursement to the extent of $400 for attorney's fees contracted some five or six years ago in a suit brought by the Knox Automobile Co. against the city in connection with the purchase of motor fire apparatus.
The petition was received at this morning's meeting of the council and was immediately referred to the mayor and city solicitor. Mr. Brown had previously asked the council to reimburse him for $2400 for attorney's expenses in connection with the same case but, owing to the unfavorable attitude of the courts on the matter, Mr. Brown says in his present petition the claim has not been pressed further.
Mr. Brown explains that he did not enter a claim for the $400 before, but later he was sued for that amount and believes that he has a just claim against the city.
There was little other business of importance transacted at today's meeting. The council met at 11.15. Mayor

Thompson and Commissioner Salmon were absent and Commissioner Marchand presided.
The bonds of Katherine B. McAleer, Joseph Farrell, 3511th McPherson and Stephen Flynn, approved by the city solicitor, were accepted.
Maurice W. Mulcahy was granted a license to conduct a luncheon on the southern side of Jackson street.
The petition of Maximo Poirier for a garage license at 18 Gardner avenue and James L. Rudolph for a gasoline license at 14 E street were referred for hearings on April 27.
Alphonse Illoire petitioned for a sewer in Denton street and the matter was referred to Commissioner Murphy.
The claim of Dennis W. Heslin for compensation for personal injuries, alleged to have been sustained in Gorham street, between St. Peter's school and St. John's church on Feb. 22, was referred to the law department.
Adjourned at 11.25 until tomorrow at 11 a. m.

FIRST DISORDER IN R. R. STRIKE

Switchmen Who Proposed Men Return to Work Shot—Others Slugged

Sabotage Urged by "Rebel" Organizer—Tells of Wrecking Trains

CHICAGO, April 8.—One switchman was shot and several were slugged at meetings of the striking railroad men last night, police learned today. John Kratz, a striker, who proposed that the men return to work, was shot in the chest. He was taken away in an ambulance by friends.

Trouble developed at two meetings of the newly formed Chicago Yardmen's association when members suggested a return to the ranks of the established brotherhoods.

"Proud to Be Rebel" Sabotage was advocated by one of the speakers, E. O. Eddy, a C.Y.C. organizer, who participated in the Gary steel strike and several labor disturbances here. "They call me a rebel," Eddy told the strikers. "I'm proud to be a rebel. In 1910, I had charge of a railroad strike in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The men all went out and stayed out."

"I went down to the I.W.W. headquarters and got some help. Then one day four passenger trains were wrecked. The next day seven freight trains were wrecked. Then we sent word to the railroads that if they didn't come across we would tear down the roundhouse. They didn't answer—we did. The roundhouse was torn down."

"Then the railroads begged for mercy and asked to meet us. We told them to come to us. There was a meeting. The union drew up a contract and the railroad refused it. The next day we blew up a bridge. That night an ice jam formed in the river and tore down the feet of the bridge, so they don't know to this day who did the job. But we won the strike."

"I did 90 days in jail for blocking the mails. I got out light because I told the judge I didn't know the law. But, of course, I knew it then as well as I do now."

SPEEDSTERS BEWARE!

Police Supt. Opens Vigorous Campaign Against Over-speeding

A vigorous drive against over-speeding has been instituted by Supt. Welch of the local police department in connection with the safety first campaign which is being waged here during the first two weeks of April in an effort to minimize motor vehicle accidents in this city, which last year caused the deaths of 22 persons and resulted in injuries to fully 200.

Plain clothes men have been assigned to all of the thickly settled districts of the city to see to it that the motor vehicle laws relative to over-speeding are strictly observed, and violators of these regulations will be brought before the local court and summarily dealt with.

The regulations of the Massachusetts highway commission provide that motorists and motorcycle operators must conform to the following rules: Fifteen miles an hour in the thickly settled districts of a city; 20 miles an hour in suburbs and eight miles an hour when passing interesting streets.

Many complaints have been received in the past few days in connection with over-speeding in the Highlands, the chief stated. Young men operating grocery and market trucks are said to be the principal offenders.

Safety First Campaign

Several well known public speakers will make brief addresses to the local theatres early next week in connection with the presentation of "Careless America," the accident prevention film which has been secured by Supt. Welch to bring home to the people of Lowell the frightful penalty which carelessness exacts from its victims.

The services of these speakers have been secured through the co-operation of the Community Service club, which, with the chamber of commerce, has put its shoulder to the wheel in an effort to send the campaign across.

Supt. Welch, the general director of the campaign, will himself speak at some of the theatres where the picture is being shown this evening and will point out the best methods of preventing street traffic accidents.

The chief spoke at three theatres last evening in the interest of the movement—the Strand, Jewel and Crown. He pointed out that motor vehicle accidents in Lowell and throughout the country are mainly caused by the failure of pedestrians and drivers to exercise due caution, and stressed the importance of a strict observance of traffic regulations.

BOY ARRESTED—CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO SHOE SHINE PARLOR

Accused of breaking into a shoe shine parlor on Fletcher street and stealing $20 in cash, 15-year-old Raymond Foot was arrested last night by Patrolman O'Neil. It is believed that the boy recently escaped from the Middlesex County Training school and the officials of the school have been notified of his arrest. The break occurred shortly after midnight.

WANT CHAUFFEURS' LICENSES

Thirty-three applicants for chauffeurs' licenses were examined at city hall today by Inspectors Hubbell and Hardy of the state highway commission.

WANT MORE POLICEMEN

Residents of Highlands to Appeal to Mayor for Better Police Protection

Residents of the Highlands who attended the meeting of the Men's club at the Grace Universalist church last night expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the amount of police protection being given property in that section and instructed the city committee of the club to conduct a thorough investigation of the matter and forthwith present the issue to Mayor Thompson, with a plea for more protection if such be needed.

Although the action taken was the direct result of the breaks last Saturday night at the homes of Dr. Rodger and Edward F. Woodward in Cascade avenue, it was evident that the feeling of dissatisfaction had been smoldering for some time. Several house breaks were spoken of which have never been made public.

It was the consensus of opinion that the stretch of territory between upper Chelmsford street and upper Middlesex street is altogether too large to be adequately covered by two patrolmen in the night time and while the meeting did not instruct its special committee along definite lines, or make any suggestions as to a method of getting better protection, it was plainly evident that the members assembled were of the unanimous belief that something must be done in their behalf.

The business meeting was preceded by a supper of usual excellence, served in the parish house. A snatch of music by William E. Potter created a happy feeling.

The address of the evening was given by Prof. David D. Vaughn of Boston university, on "American Ideals." It was a forceful and clear exposition of the needs and opportunities of the country today in an era of reconstruction. The speaker subdivided his talk under the headings: Truth, freedom, justice and service and garnished his address with interesting and humorous anecdotes in illustration of point.

Speaking of the need of humane justice, Prof. Vaughn compared employment conditions in regard to minors in Massachusetts and some places in the west and said the employment laws in this commonwealth might well serve as a pattern for other states. He said justice falls short of any human standard when it allows a child to become an industrial slave at 10 years.

As during a previous address given in this city, Prof. Vaughn used the life of Thomas Edison as an illuminating example of true service to humanity and then spoke of the sacrifices of soldiers and sailors as typifying another phase of service to mankind and country.

The speaker conducted an informal forum at the end of his talk, inviting and answering any number of questions.

Mayor Underpaid

$3600 a year and ranks next to Lowell for small mayoralty remuneration. Her superintendent of schools, however, receives $1900 per year or $100 more than the superintendent of schools in this city. The salary of the superintendent in the downriver city was increased $100 last February.

The city of Worcester pays her mayor $5000 a year or $2000 a year more than Lowell. Her superintendent of schools is one of the highest paid in the state, receiving $6000. There have been no recent increases for either official.

The city of Lynn pays her mayor $2500 a year, the same amount as paid the Lawrence chief executive. Her superintendent of schools receives only $2800 a year, or $1000 less than Supt. Molloy of this city. There have been no salary changes in the past year but a referendum is to be held this fall as to whether the mayor's salary shall be increased to $5000 per year.

The city of New Bedford has an exceptionally high paid mayor, his salary being $7500 a year, or more than twice that which Mayor Thompson receives for administering the details of a municipality of the same character. The New Bedford superintendent of schools receives $5000 per year.

Springfield, over in the western part of the state, pays her mayor $4000 per year and her superintendent of schools $5500, each official getting $1000 a year more than those in Lowell. There have been no recent increases in that city.

The mayor of Fall River also receives $4000 a year and the superintendent of schools $4700 a year. The mayor is allowed $1 per day in addition to his salary for the use of his automobile. The mayor has been receiving this salary since Jan. 1, 1917, but the salary of the superintendent of schools was increased on March 1 of this year from $3500 to $4700.

From these figures, including the salaries paid to Lowell officials, it is found that the average mayor's salary for the seven cities is slightly more than $4357. Mayor Thompson's salary of $3600 is $1357 below this amount.

has been given great prominence throughout New England. He is thoroughly familiar with every aspect of this important question which now is concerning the minds of thousands of people in every community in the country.

While Rev. Mr. Robinson's address will be the high light of the meeting, a most interesting and closely allied program is announced. Two-minute talks concerning the co-operation of the various departments of the city organization with the recreation work of Lowell, will be given by Commissioner George E. Marchand, representing the council; Thomas B. Delaney, chairman of the school committee, and Clarence M. Weed of the park commission.

Greetings from the Middlesex Women's club will be given by Mrs. Harry Present Graves and Miss Emily Skilton will briefly outline Lowell's need of opportunities for community dancing.

Community singing will also form a feature of the meeting. It will be led by Miss Inez Field Linnon, who recently came to the Lowell Normal school as instructor of music, after enjoying unusual success in musical work in Schenectady, where she was supervisor of music in the public schools.

Entente Powers to Confer On Whole Subject of Action With Regard to Germany

PLAN DIPLOMATIC CONVERSATION

Action Follows British Attitude Regarding French Seizure of German Cities

France to Ask Great Britain if She Intends to Stand by Treaty

PARIS, April 9.—The British attitude regarding the French occupation of Frankfurt will cause the opening of a diplomatic conversation between the powers of the entente concerning the whole subject of action with regard to Germany. It was said today in official circles.

In this conversation the French attitude will be based first on maintenance of the entente, and second on strict execution of the treaty of Versailles.

The French, although declaring themselves not satisfied with some of the terms of the treaty, accepted it as finally signed and now consider it sort of a charter as regards relations with Germany. Great Britain, it is thought here, considers it rather as a sort of elastic basis of settlement of European affairs which is capable of diverse modifications.

Conciliation of these viewpoints will be the object of the ensuing conversations, during which France, it is stated, will probably ask Great Britain whether it stands for execution of the treaty.

It is recalled that articles 42, 43 and 44 of the Versailles treaty defined actions by Germany which might be regarded as calculated to disturb the peace of the world and it is pointed out that such action by Germany was accomplished when the reichswehr penetrated the Ruhr district.

In provision for such violation of the treaty by Germany, Great Britain and the United States, which their representatives in Paris, it is noted, agreed in separate treaties to support

LOWELL'S MAYOR IS UNDERPAID

This Fact Disclosed by Cancellation of Seven Representative Cities

School Superintendent's Salary Below Average, Despite Recent Increase

The salary being paid to the mayor of the city of Lowell is $1357 below the average being paid chief executives of seven representative Massachusetts cities and the Lowell executive is the lowest paid mayor of these seven cities.

Furthermore, only two of these cities are paying less salaries to their superintendents of schools than Lowell. The local superintendent is receiving $200 a year less than the average salary of school superintendents of the cities in question, despite his recent increase of $50 per year.

Since the recent action of the school committee in increasing Supt. Hugh J. Molloy's salary to $1500 per year, there has been considerable discussion as to the comparative salaries being paid to mayors and superintendents throughout the state. Supt. Molloy is today the city's highest paid official, receiving $1500 a year more than Mayor Perry D. Thompson, whose salary still stands at $3000.

In order to furnish some idea of how other cities judge the comparative worth of their mayors and superintendents of schools, The Sun made a canvass of six representative municipalities in various sections of the state and found that Lowell is paying her mayor less money than any of those cities canvassed. However, most cities incline to the belief that the superintendent of schools is deserving of greater remuneration than the chief executive for in only one city, New Bedford, is the superintendent getting less than the mayor.

The city of Lawrence pays its mayor

LOWELL'S MORTALITY FOR FIRST QUARTER OF 1920 HIGHER THAN 1919

Lowell's mortality for the first quarter of 1920 was slightly higher than that for the corresponding period in 1919, according to figures available at the office of the board of health.

During the first three months of 1920 there were 555 deaths reported while in the same period in 1919 there were but 563. There was, of course, one more day in the first quarter this year than last, February 29.

Deaths for January, February and March in each year were as follows: January, 1919, 233; February, 167; March, 163; total, 563. January, 1920, 143; February, 238; March, 207; total, 588.

ABANDONED HER BABY

Woman Who Left Baby on Doorstep Surrenders to the Police

The mystery surrounding the finding of a healthy three-week-old baby boy, apparently abandoned, on a doorstep in the Highlands last week is a mystery no longer.

A woman who described herself as Mrs. Mary Gleason, giving her present address as Wilton, N. H., visited Lowell police headquarters this afternoon accompanied by her father, and after declaring herself the mother of the baby, voluntarily surrendered herself on a charge of abandoning her child.

She told the police that her husband, Benjamin Gleason, deserted her two months ago. She came to Lowell shortly afterwards and was living in West Sixth street when the baby was born. A physician attended her at the time, she said.

Discouraged because of the desertion of her husband and unwilling to appeal to her parents for aid, she left her three-week-old baby on the doorstep of a house in the Highlands, where it was afterwards found and taken to the Chelmsford street hospital. Then she returned to her home.

The police say that she will be arraigned in the municipal court tomorrow on a charge of abandonment.

POLICE CHIEF TALKS

Says City Will Be Well Protected if Mayor Adopts His Suggestions

That the city of Lowell will have ample police protection if suggestions made by him recently to Mayor Perry D. Thompson are adopted was the statement made today by Supt. Welch in discussing the criticism levelled at the local police department in the past weeks in which it has been alleged that some sections of the city, particularly the Highlands district, are at present inadequately policed and that local insurance firms are to increase their rates as a result of the activities of thieves and burglars in the city.

These suggestions, the chief said, were as follows:

First, that four members of the department who were recently appointed and have not yet been assigned to any specific duties other than theatre work—the expense of which is borne by the management of the theatres—shall be assigned to cover the routes left more or less unguarded during the regular patrolman's "day off"—which is at present one day or night in every fifteen.

Under the existing system it is customary, when a patrolman has time off, for the two men on immediately adjoining routes to "double up" in an attempt to cover the territory left unguarded, thus making it almost impossible to give the entire district adequate protection.

By assigning the four men now on theatre duty to cover these routes when the regular patrolman is off duty, the superintendent believes that a long step

LOWELL FIRE HAZARDS

Discussed in Boston—Mayor Thompson Opposed to State Interference

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 9.—Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Commissioner John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection in Lowell, appeared before the ways and means committee of the house today to discuss a resolve introduced by Senator Frank H. Putnam of Lowell which directs the state fire marshal to make an investigation of fire hazards in Lowell with particular reference to the Highlands section.

Mayor Thompson told the committee that in his opinion there is no serious fire hazard in Lowell which would justify an investigation by state officials. During the period of severe weather in the past winter, he said, when it was particularly difficult for fire apparatus to get about, two or three fires occurred in the Highlands, but he believed that under ordinary conditions the fire danger in that section is no greater than in other residential sections.

Commissioner Salmon said that three new pieces of motor-driven apparatus had been ordered and that two would be placed in the Highlands.

Mayor Thompson at the conclusion of the hearing assured the committee that the city government would welcome any investigation made in an advisory, co-operative spirit, but that it is not willing that radical changes be enforced by the state authorities.

America's Attitude on New Situation Created by French Advance

Officials Consider Situation Serious But Not Yet "Delicate"

WASHINGTON, April 9.—America's attitude toward any adjustment of the new situation created by the entry of French troops into the Ruhr district of Germany will continue to be more that of an observer than an interested participant, from what can be learned in official circles here. It is known the state department was in communication with London and Italy as well as France up to the time the French army moved forward from the Mayence bridgehead, and there has been no indication here of any change in the position taken more than a week ago when the state department announced that this government knew no reason why German troops should not be sent into the troubled district if it were clearly understood they would be withdrawn once order was restored.

While recognizing the seriousness of the situation created by the independent action by France, officials here

THEY'RE ENGAGED

These little Albanian youngsters, who applied at Red Cross headquarters for clean clothes, are engaged. That's the way the Albanians do it. The bridegroom-to-be is five years old and his wife-to-be is a bit younger. When they reach 15 years of age she will be his honored "best wife." Later, if the husband needs more help about his farm he can buy a second wife and even a third wife. One wife costs two goats and one lamb under the 1920 price. The "pay" goes to the wife's father.

ENLISTS TO FIGHT UNDER 4TH FLAG IN 4 YEARS

WARSAW, April 9.—Major Joseph C. Stehlin, a 22-year-old aviator, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who already has fought in three armies, has gone to Riga to enlist under the Lettish flag in the war against the Russian Bolsheviks. If his services are accepted he will have served under four flags in four years. The colors of France, America, Poland and Lettish, in turn, have won his allegiance.

Since last fall Major Stehlin has been fighting in the aviation branch of the Polish army and in that service took part in the Polish drive which threw the Bolsheviks out of Dvinsk.

Stehlin, who was formerly a life guard at Sheephead Bay, Brooklyn, went to France in January, 1917, and joined the French Flying Corps where he won two citations and was promoted to be sergeant for aiding fellow aviators attacked by German planes.

When the American army came over to France Stehlin transferred his allegiance to the American flag, received a commission as first lieutenant of aviators and took part in action in the Champagne, Verdun and Soissons sectors. After the armistice he returned to the United States and is said to have joined the aviation section of the New York police as a captain.

Last September he joined the Polish forces recruited in New York, was commissioned as captain, came to Poland and was assigned to duty on the northeastern front. He spent four months with a Polish flying squadron, the only American with the Poles on that particular front, and participated in all the aviation work preceding and during the Polish attack on the Bolsheviks in the region of Dvinsk.

Stehlin has down over parts of France, Belgium, Spain, Russia, Poland, Lithuania and the United States

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Food Taste Good

Creates an appetite, aids digestion, purifies the blood, promotes assimilation so as to secure full nutritive value of food, and to give strength to the whole system. Nearly 50 years' phenomenal sales tell the story of the remarkable merit and success of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just the medicine you need this season.

and has hopes soon of seeing Lettish and Riga from the air in his service with the Letts.

Major Stehlin says he has no idea what vocation he will take up if the war should end over here but he feels certain that he can never go back to the prosaic duties of a life guard at the beach. That game is not exciting enough for a man not yet 21 who has fought under four flags.

MARRIAGE LAWS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

LONDON, April 9.—A Russian wife is required to support her husband if she be able to do so and he is unable to work and in need of her support, under the marriage laws of Soviet Russia. A copy of this code, translated into English has just reached London from the Russian people's commissariat of justice.

It provides that married persons shall be expected to support each other. Should one refuse and the other be what is classed as a "needful" unit to work, the latter has the right to apply to the department of social security to compel the husband or wife, as the case may be, to pay support.

Mutual consent of husband and wife or merely the desire of one of them to be freed from the other may be considered as grounds for divorce. Local judges are authorized to hear divorce cases but their decisions are subject to appeal.

The matrimonial age is fixed at 18 for men and 16 for girls. Both must be of sound mind and mutually desirous of marriage. Differences of religion or vows of celibacy are no impediment. Married persons may choose to bear the surname of the bride or of the bridegroom or their joint names. Marriages contracted in accordance with religious forms are not binding unless the union is registered under the prescribed form of civil or socialist marriages. Old forms of marriage law or, as it is termed, "the legalized forging together of men and women" are abolished.

Under the laws of succession in the Soviet code, none but the "needful" and the state may inherit property. The estates of emigrants and of rebels are subject to confiscation by the state.

Argentina's sugar crop of 1919 amounted to 270,000 metric tons, the largest yield since 1911.

THE FLAMINGO One of America's Most Distinguished Bird-Citizens

It's some argument which is America's most distinguished bird-citizen—the eagle, the robin or the flamingo. But if the flamingo could endure the chill blasts that occasionally make the northern summer bluish, you may be sure he would be champion. A giant red bird, standing sometimes over six feet tall from toe to beak, he easily discounts other landscape effects in the borders of the gulf and the lower Atlantic. Look for him where there is

FLAMING—FLAMES ON THE WINGS OF THE WIND—THAT'S YOUR FLAMING-O

Plenty of good, juicy mud. Florida especially knows him, and there are great colonies in the Bahama islands, which are only a few miles off the Florida coast. The flamingo has a rather small, goose-like body, long spindle legs that trail along behind when he flies, and an extremely long neck and beak which, in flight, he sticks out straight before him as if he were intent on plucking a star out of the firmament.

The neck has 18 bones, and each bone is remarkably long. The nose of him is so Roman as to out-Roman the Romans. Starting in the middle, the beak rounds out and turns downward, the upper part overlapping the lower, just like the human one occasionally see whose long upper lip carries down over his lower lip. This, reinforced by a tongue set with horny spines, makes it easy for him to hold crabs, water bugs, small fish, worms and other eats that his web feet rake out of the mud.

When it comes time to have a family, Ma Flamingo scrapes a lot of mud together into a heap. In a few hours the water drains away, and then she rounds out a hole in the top of it and lays two white eggs in the bare nest. But it is the bird's wonderful red color that is his greatest attraction. Imagine witnessing the flight of a hundred or two of six-foot red birds!

MORE OF SISTER MARY'S OWN RECIPES

In the kitchen of her own home Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university.

Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

While one hates to wash and boil dishcloths with tablecloths and napkins it is just as essential to have clean water for these humdrum hard-worked and stained pieces of linen as for the fine and snowy table linens.

It is a good idea to wash the dish towels all by themselves. A dish towel comes in direct contact with the same spot that our food is served on. And on the condition of the dish towel depends the condition of the dish. Dish towels carefully washed in hot soap suds, rinsed and boiled in clear water and dried in sunshine mean easily wiped dishes and healthy families.

Menu for Tomorrow

Breakfast—Stewed figs, cooked cereal with top milk, toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Toasted vegetable sandwiches, baked custard, cake, tea.
Dinner—Chicken loaf, sweet potato apples, creamed onions, cabbage salad, lemon ice, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Stewed figs make a change for breakfast and are a valuable food. The black figs are a bit richer and sweeter for stewing, but are rather more difficult to get. If allowed to soak for several hours and cooked slowly in a double boiler and served with the syrup in which they were cooked, the figs are delicious. Sugar and lemon juice are added to the syrup after the figs have been removed and the syrup is then boiled for 10 minutes.

BAKED CUSTARD

3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
4 tablespoons strawberry preserves
2 tablespoons pulverized sugar
Beat yolks of eggs with sugar and salt till light. Scald milk and pour over eggs. Fill custard cups half full of mixture and bake in a pan of hot water.

3-Grain Cadomene Tablets Absolutely Restore Vigor, Vitality, Strength to Weak Men and Women. Sold by All Druggists.

water till set. Do not let the water boil. When set put a spoonful of preserves on each cup and cover with a meringue made of the whites of 1 egg beaten till stiff and dry with the pulverized sugar. Let the meringue brown slightly in the oven.

CHICKEN LOAF

1 chicken
1 loaf stale bread
Butter
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Salt
Pepper
Chicken broth
Boil chicken till tender. Remove from broth and pick the bones. In a buttered baking dish put a layer of bread crumbs. The crumbs should be very coarse, the bread pulled in pieces with the fingers. On the crumbs dot generously bits of butter. Add a layer of chicken. The chicken should not be chopped, but prepared in thin slices. Add bread crumbs and chicken alternately until all is used. Pour over the whole 2 cups of chicken broth. The chicken should be cooked in as little water as possible and the broth reduced after the meat is removed to 2 cups.

Because you pay high prices for some cuts, such as steak, you may think food is terribly high. YOU CAN LIVE just as well, if not better, by eating different cuts, such as chuck roasts for pot roasts, corned beef, and fresh thin ribs and sticker pieces for different dishes. These cuts are very much cheaper, and are delicious when properly cooked. Be economical and cut out the "quick to get" foods and you will be surprised at the money you save.

SAVED FROM ELECTRIC CHAIR

Teregno Sentenced to Die
Granted New Trial by Judge Brown

Verdict Set Aside Because
of Conduct of Jurors and
Deputy Sheriffs

BOSTON, April 9.—With the death by electrocution less than 36 hours away, Antonio Teregno was last night given a stay of execution by Judge Nelson B. Brown. The verdict against Teregno was set aside and a new trial ordered.

Judge Brown made this finding at 7.30, after two hours and a half of deliberation on the testimony which was presented yesterday afternoon by Frank Zottoli, Teregno's tireless attorney.

Mr. Zottoli brought witnesses to show that during Teregno's trial one juror was permitted to leave the jury while it was out for a walk and to go into his house all alone; another was allowed to spend much of his evenings riding in an elevator at the hotel and chatting with the girl operator; still another had been noticed sitting on the back stairs of the hotel and talking with a chambermaid; and a fourth constantly visited his fiancée, who was staying in the hotel with her aunt, and even took other jurors up to call.

To this was added testimony that one of the deputy sheriffs in charge of the jury, Harry B. Hartley, said to a juror that Mr. Zottoli, Teregno's lawyer, was "no damn good" and that "every one hated him."

Judge Brown refused to consider whether these things had created prejudice in the minds of the jurors, so that they were unable to give a fair trial; when the fact was established, he granted a new trial on that much.

How Teregno Heard the News

Warden Shattuck, Attorney Zottoli, Hon. Lewis R. Sullivan of the governor's council, and two or three newspapermen went up into the detention room where Teregno was waiting, attended by Joseph Seminare, the court interpreter, who had stuck to him all the afternoon.

Mr. Zottoli shouted as he ran into the little anteroom, and Teregno rose, his round face flushing. The two men clasped each other in a strenuous embrace, and kissed on both cheeks. Then came Mr. Martinelli, Mr. Zottoli's associate. Finally it was the turn of Councillor Sullivan, who has been indefatigable in Teregno's behalf.

Mr. Sullivan was as visibly moved as the prisoner himself. He has had the case much at heart and is famous for his warm-heartedness. When the prisoner embraced him and kissed him, the mixture of honest emotion and surprise on Mr. Sullivan's face was worth going far to see.

Unique in This State

The whole proceeding was unique in the history of criminal procedure in this state, so far as the memory of any man present went. Never before has a prisoner under sentence of death been brought out from the "death house" in Charlestown state prison and taken into court for a hearing on the motion for a new trial.

It came as the climax of an extraordinary story. The homicide for which Teregno was sentenced to be electrocuted was done upon Raffaele Camerota of Westfield, Mass., on January 30, 1918. The trial began September 23, 1918, and lasted two and a half weeks. Sentence was not pronounced until Dec. 22, 1919, the interval being occupied by fighting for the exceptions saved by the defense during the trial.

Zottoli Tried Everything

Mr. Zottoli had used every weapon known to his profession. He did not give up when his client was sentenced, but appealed for a writ of habeas corpus. He tried the supreme court of Massachusetts and the federal court which denied him the writ on the ground that it did not have jurisdiction. He went to Gov. Coolidge asking for clemency or for a stay and a chance to try for a new trial.

Up to Monday of this week, the very week set for the execution, he had no success. Then he found this new evidence of laxity in the care of the jurors and went to Judge King to ask for an order on Warden Shattuck for a stay of execution. The judge told him he did not need an order and that fixing the actual moment for the electrocution lay wholly in the warden's hands.

Warden Granted Reprieve

Mr. Zottoli went to Warden Shattuck with his plea, and though the execution had already been fixed for

Tuesday morning, shortly after midnight, and the notice to the official witnesses had been sent out, Mr. Shattuck was humane enough to give Teregno every chance in the world for his life. He postponed the execution.

Mr. Zottoli next took the affidavits he had secured to Salem, where Judge Nelson P. Brown was sitting, and asked for a hearing. Judge Brown granted the request, and yesterday's hearing was the result.

An interesting point is that it was the Hampden county superior court which sat yesterday in the Suffolk court house. It was Judge Brown also who sentenced Teregno.

Story of the Crime

The story of the crime as told to the newspapermen by the attorneys for the defense, was that Teregno was, during 1917, a boarder in Camerota's house, and that Camerota's wife made love to him and won him. Teregno finally moved away, and had come back on January 30 to get some of his clothing, which was still in the house.

The man was asleep in the house at the time—which was in the evening. Mrs. Camerota leased Teregno for one last embrace, and the husband woke and attacked his former boarder with an axe. Teregno was chased round and round the room, and caught up a revolver which was lying on a table, firing four bullets into Camerota. Then he escaped, and Mrs. Camerota took the axe and struck her husband also stabbed him many times.

The defense even claimed that it was not from bullet wounds but because of the injury with the axe that Camerota died. But Teregno was convicted and the woman was also convicted as an accomplice and sentenced to Sherborn, where she now is.

HIGH SCHOOL BATTALION NIGHT

This evening the customary battalion night of the high school regiment will be held in the drill shed of the annex and the occasion will be marked by novel features. The usual individual competitive prize drill will be held, however, with thirteen young cadets, who were chosen from the elimination contest held last Tuesday, competing. The following young men will drill for the prize: Foster Brown, Karl Marshall, Fred Ordway, Thomas Delaney, Philip Payton, Leo Leclair, Francis Leary, John Boyle, Louis Rheault, Eugene Labrie, Daniel Hanson, Leslie Atkinson, and Frank McDonough. Two squads from Companies A and B respectively will compete for the honors usually awarded to companies. These two squads have been selected as the best.

PARK LABORERS GET WAGE INCREASE

The wages of laborers in the park department were increased from $4.02 to $4.50 per day by the park commissioners at their regular monthly meeting at city hall last evening. The increase was granted to bring the park department men on the same schedule as laborers in other departments.

The commission failed to take any action on the appointment of a life guard for the new bath house off the boulevard although several applications for the position were at hand. Action was delayed until the certified civil service list is secured.

Other business consisted chiefly of tree petition hearings. The petitions of Graham R. Whidden, 4 Wyman street; Mark J. McCann, 447 Merrimack street; and Joseph E. Hurley, 75 Durant street, for tree removals, were granted with the understanding that the petitioners should bear the expense.

The petitions of Alice M. Kinsman, 10 Grove street, and Dr. Maurice Fishman, 450 Bridge street, for tree removals were denied. There were many remonstrants to the Grove street petition. The petition of Dan O'Dea for the removal of a tree at 1 Colburn street was granted with the understanding that he pay the expense. The request of the same petitioner for the removal of a tree at 151 Moody street was denied. A petition from the United Polish Workers' bakery at 204 Lakeview avenue asked that three horse chestnut trees in front of its premises be removed, and it was voted to give the tree committee authority to have such removals made following an inspection.

Plans for the development and beautifying of numerous small parks were discussed and a program laid out. Tree planting will continue this summer with Victoria and Viola streets the next to be attended to. It was voted to grant the use of the South common to the Community Service authorities for a pageant on June 5.

SINGLE TAX WOULD TAKE ROMANCE OUT OF LIFE

NEW YORK, April 9.—"If they wish to take the romance out of life, let them try it!"

A tax on celibacy, applied to spinners and bachelors alike, would soon result in women extending the leap-year privilege to every year, and seeking and courting mates. Such a law would give women the right to propose, if for no other reason than to evade the tax! And marriage to evade taxation would certainly be little short of commercialism.

Such is the dictum of Jeanne Eagles, herself of French extraction, now starring in "The Wonderful Thing," on the report from Paris that the French government plans an indiscriminate celibacy tax to encourage marriages and hold up its sagging birthrate.

"No one could say what would be the far-reaching effects of a commercialization of marriage such as this celibacy tax would bring about," continued Miss Eagles. "When I marry, I want romance in my courtship. I do not want to be married in order that somebody shall not have to pay a miserable old tax! Why do legislators and parliaments always have so little imagination? The idea of taxing non-marriage to make marriage attractive! Nature can't be interfered with in any such way. It will be like the 'slacker-marriages' we had during the war. What bride could respect a man who married her in order to get out of going to war? And what bride could respect a husband who married her merely to get out of paying a few extra francs? They will destroy the beauty, the romance, the thrill of courtship and put it on a money basis."

WOULD TAX BOTH

PARIS, April 9.—The French chamber of deputies is discussing a measure placing a 10 per cent. tax upon celibacy. The measure is not limited to men, but includes both sexes, on the theory that women are just as much responsible as men for failure to marry.

It has been argued that celibacy amounts to taxable wealth. Furthermore, the low French birthrate makes a premium on marriage necessary, in

BOSTON

N.E.A. Staff Special

LONDON, April 9.—Members of the British parliament charge that the high prices of men's clothing and of women's serge and merino dresses are plain cases of "ramp."

"Ramp" is British slang for our word profiteering. It is pointed out that the government will have monopolistic control of the world's best wool supply until June 30 next. Also, that it expects to have on hand at the end of this year about 330,000 bales of wool, which is about one-quarter of the world's best annual clip.

Make Large Profit

It has been estimated that owing to its buying wool at controlled prices and selling for civilian purposes at market prices or something near it,

the British government has made a profit of $1,000,000,000.

The next step is in the sale by the middlemen of the merino "tops," or prepared and cleaned wool. The pre-war profit used to be about 1 cent per pound. Now it is claimed it is as much as 50 cents in some cases.

The spinner's profit on the worsted yarn jumped 2 to 6 cents per pound to 26 to 36 cents.

Prices Go Sky High

The cloth manufacturer is charging from 4 to 6 times his pre-war price and his profit is in even greater ratio. Indigo serge weighing 20 ounces to the yard and made of merino wool sold here in 1914 for $1.40 per yard. The manufacturers now get $7.50 to $8.75 per yard for some of it.

It is contended here that government control of wool has not contributed in any measure to the high prices of clothing in America. If all the wool had been free of control and sold in the open auction market, the demand would still have been so keen that American bidders would have been forced to pay very high prices.

Exported woolen cloths have increased fourfold in price compared with 1914. Furthermore, it is suspected that a very great amount of this cloth is going to Germany.

WHY SO MANY

GERMAN TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN

Force Which Crossed River Ruhr Withdrawn to Northern Bank of River

Great Excitement in Duesseldorf—General Strike Impending

BERLIN, April 8.—The German regular troops which had crossed the river Ruhr were withdrawn yesterday to the northern bank of that stream, it is announced here.

(The Ruhr passes just to the south
of Essen, in the northern central part
of the industrial district.)

The burgomasters of the cities of Barmen and Elberfeld, it is stated, requested the minister of defense not to allow the troops to enter those towns.

Great excitement prevails in Duesseldorf, in view of the threatened entry
of the regulars.

The majority socialist newspaper
Vorwaerts has advised from Duesseldorf which declares that a general strike is impending there in which all
the parties will unite. The town council has sent a petition to the minister of defense asking that the regular troops be kept out of Duessel-dorf.
Their entry would be inexpedient, the
petition declares.

The number of persons who have crossed the line from the Ruhr region
into occupied territory, is in excess of
a thousand, according to the British authorities.

Several of the Berlin newspapers
print the report that the American member of the inter-allied Rhineland
commission had informed the president of the commission that he refused
to participate in any decisions of the commission favoring the advance of the French into unoccupied Germany.
The Vossische Zeitung says that en-
voys already have arrived in the industrial region to supervise the evacuation of the neutral zone.

Faces Food Shortage city, affected by strikes of railroad marine workers, switchmen and freight yard employees, is threatened with a serious food shortage, according to a statement today by J. J.

Mantell, head of the railroad managers' organization. He added that during the night "sixty-five car loads
of milk were moved into the city to protect the infants" and railroad officials are now manning engines and switches in the Erie, West Shore and Pennsylvania yards.

"The yard switchmen, conductors
and brakemen in the freight terminals
on the Jersey shore are all out," said
Mr. Mantell.

Blames Railroads For Strike.
Absences were reported in the Harlem yards of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad of scale, however, declared that these gaps were not affecting operations and the men who failed to appear probably had been kept away by illness. Vacancies also were reported

in New York Central yards.

Several thousand railway strikers
held a party this morning in a hall
in Jersey City. They were joined by 200 employees of the Hudson and Manhattan Railway company, which operates the Hudson tubes. This action
of the tube workers, who previously
had held a separate meeting, served to increase fears that a strike might be called on the tubes during the day,
further inconveniencing commuters.

Workmen Dragged Out

Working with fellow officials in the Erie yards, Mr. Mantell expressed belief that "radicals are responsible for
the strike."

"These men got hold of our workmen and fairly dragged them out of
our yard, not even giving them a reason for the strike," he said. "The strikers have violated the rules of
their own brotherhood."

Strike Spreading

CHICAGO, Apr. 8.—Continued spread
of the insurgent strike of switchmen
and engineers on railroads throughout the country was indicated by reports today showing that
more than twenty thousand men had joined the strikers. Eight thousand insurgents were out in the Chicago district, where the strike had
its inception nine days ago, and reports from a score of cities from coast
to coast, in which walkouts have occurred, predicted additions to the strikers' ranks during the day.

Railroad brotherhood officials, who have denounced the new "rump"
unions and appealed to loyal union
men to assist in breaking the strikes,
declared, however, that the walkout
in the Chicago district had reached its maximum, and would be broken with-
in 48 hours and strikes in other parts of the country then would end. The spread of "strike fever" to other cities,
they insisted, was only an indication that the strike was running its natural course. They asserted that freight traffic was 10 per cent normal.

On the other hand, leaders of the revolving yardmen's union declared the strike was growing and that the men
would continue to remain out of the parent unions, ignoring notices from chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, threatening expulsion
unless contracts were respected.

1000 Strike Breakers Arrive

One thousand brotherhood men from other cities had answered the call for
strike breakers here, officials said.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 packing
house and stockyard workers had been thrown out of employment today
as the result of stoppage of cattle
shipments, packers announced.

Nearly 4000 employees of 23 railroads
entering Toledo, including switchmen, engineers and firemen, were reported
idle today.

In the St. Louis district, including
East St. Louis and Madison, Ill., freight
traffic was reported virtually at a standstill with yardmen of 21 roads on strike.

All railroads in Kansas City, Mo.,
operating under contracts with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen
were affected and the strike had spread to Kansas City, Kas., and Rose-
dale, an industrial suburb.

Points throughout the southwest reported that embargoes had been placed
on freight and cattle shipments to St.
Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, and
freight traffic between New Orleans
and Chicago on all lines was suspended.

Rail centres throughout California
felt the freight restrictions and along
the trans-continental lines, several terminals reported strikes.

Syracuse, N. Y., and Jersey City
were the furthest eastern points affected, according to reports here.

NURSE INDICTED ON MAN- SLAUGHTER CHARGE

DEDHAM, April 8.—Miss Margaret E. Coumans, a 22-year-old nurse of Newton, was indicted by the grand jury late yesterday for manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Mary E. Lotz of Malden, at a private sanitarium in Wellesley, on Nov. 10, 1919. It is alleged that Miss Coumans was in charge of Mrs. Lotz when the patient was given a bath that resulted in her being scalded to death.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatrical Press Agents)

THE STRAND
Locklear, the dardevil of the air, in his marvelous and thrilling photo-drama, "The Great Air Robbery," is winning the unquestioned approval of motion picture lovers who like daring, fearless action. It is the most unusual film story ever shown and can't help but please. Madeline Travers, charming and attractive as ever, in "The Hell Ship," is the other attraction for the week end that will give a full measure of enjoyment to all, to say nothing of the comedy and the Universal

Weekly. It's the biggest and best bill in town.

OPERA HOUSE

If you are in need of a laugh—or a long and hearty series of laughs—then we recommend your attendance at one of the remaining presentations by the Lowell Players at the Opera House of Mark Twain's delightful farce comedy, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." It's a riot of fun, with Miss Fields, Mr. Atchley and Miss Wilkes the chief contributors. If you have never laughed before you will surely laugh at this. And the Players are presenting it in a most commendable manner. Tickets are selling fast, so it's advisable to order early and avoid possible disappointment. Box office open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Beloved Mark Twain lives again in "Huckleberry Finn," which has been presented on the screen for the millions who have laughed over the humorous works of the great American humorist. This picture is being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow and those who have come to know Mark Twain through the printed page now have an opportunity to see his characters enacted in color and sound. Not only has every character been selected with the utmost care by the directors of the production with a view to adhering strictly to every type associated with the "one and only" Huck, but the Mark Twain atmosphere is carried out in every detail. Other features of the current program are "A Roaring Love Affair," a new comedy, the Holmes travel pictures and the International News.

H. P. GENTLE THEATRE

Lots of kick and comedy to the present week's bill at the H. P. Gentle theatre, in fact one's funny bone is continually tickled. A travesty on a historical subject, called "When Caesar's Horatius," is admirably presented by James and Sadie Leonard, with Richard Anderson. It is unusual and it tickles the fancy of everybody. Jimmy Duffy and Mr. Sweeney, Russian entertainers, are very different in their comedy offering. It is indescribable, but very funny, and Larry Crane, a Lowell product, is there with his wacky, tickle-ford and his supporting company were well received. Our little friend Wesley Barry and his dog got the usual laughs. It's a wonderful production, and a great supporting cast. Offered this time at the usual prices. It might be said that the theatre as everybody who didn't see it the first time it played here will certainly

THE OWL THEATRE

There can absolutely be no doubt of the tremendous drawing power of the "Daddy Long Legs," which opened yesterday for the week end attraction at the Owl theatre. Capacity audiences were the rule at all performances and Mary Dickford and her supporting company were well received. Our little friend Wesley Barry and his dog got the usual laughs. It's a wonderful production, and a great supporting cast. Offered this time at the usual prices. It might be said that the theatre as everybody who didn't see it the first time it played here will certainly not want to miss it now, and those who saw it before will have no objection of sitting through it again. The plot and production is entirely apart from the average production. The "Lost City," Selig's masterpiece, was thrilling and novel. Every grownup will enjoy it, but above all don't let the children miss it. Herbert Rawlinson in the "Silent Banknote," the first of the Win. J. Flynn detective series, was very interesting. There is enough action in the three reels to make an average five-reel feature. These stories will be released at intervals of about six weeks. Fourth and last feature, Mrs. Joe Martin, the human mink, in the "Good Ship Rock and Rye" was as wonderful as ever, the grownups laughing heartily while the children have the time of their young lives. Continuous performances daily, starting at 1 p. m. are the rule. Night patrons arriving before 11 p. m. see the main features of the big bill.

REAL OPERA WILL BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Real Opera is what the people of Lowell and vicinity will hear when the Boston English Opera company comes to the Opera House next Monday night and Tuesday afternoon and night. And the best of all is they will not be forced to pay fabulous prices for their seats. The company and the productions are in every way the highest, but the prices are the lowest. With an orchestra of 20 pieces, a chorus of 10, and a double cast of principals, the performances of "The Trovatore," "The Bohemian Girl," and "The Merry Widow" will excel any production of these operas ever before given in this city. The list of leading singers includes Joseph P. Sheehan, Stanley Deacon, Harold Gels, Leonard Sanford, Hazel

Edon, Elaine de Sellen, Alice May Carley and May Barron.

AGREEMENT ON WAGE ADVANCE FOR CUTTERS

BOSTON, April 8.—An agreement recommending wage advances for granite workers has been drawn up by the national committee of Granite Manufacturers and a committee representing the Granite Paving Cutters' Union of the United States and Canada. The agreement was made public today by James J. Tobin, representing the manufacturers, following a joint conference here of the committee.

Wage increases recommended include an advance on May 1 of $3 per thousand blocks and a similar advance on July 1; a day rate of not less than 75¢ an hour, and $3 per thousand for durax blocks.

The recommendations are to be submitted to locals of paving cutters in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. If accepted the agreement will extend for one year from May 1.

CUBA TO HOLD SEIZED SHIPS

HAVANA, April 8.—Enemy ships seized during the world war will remain Cuban property, according to an official statement issued following today's session of the cabinet.

A committee composed of members was named to arrange for the leasing of such vessels, at public auction, to private companies. They must be used in Cuban commerce and fly the Cuban flag.

STEAMER CALLAO ARRIVES

RIO JANEIRO, April 8.—The steamship Callao, the first of the large steamers formerly owned by Germany to be placed in the regular passenger service between the United States and Rio Janeiro and Buenos Aires, arrived here today.

TO PRESENT DEMANDS TO ALL RAILROADS

CHICAGO, April 8.—Wage demands of five groups of railroad employees, numbering 350,000, will be pushed immediately as the result of the spread of unauthorized strikes of switchmen and engineers, G. A. Worrell, general chairman of the railway clerks' organization of the Chicago & Northwestern system, said today.

Railway clerks, telegraphers, signal men, maintenance of way employees and stationary firemen and others, the groups involved, will present demands to every railroad in the United States within a week, Worrell said. Wage increases of 20 cents an hour and reduction of the pre-war differential wage scale will be demanded and 15 days of leave granted for compliance of the companies, he said.

"The men are at the end of the rope," said Worrell. "President Wilson promised to increase the wages if in six months the cost of living was not materially reduced. The living costs are just as high, if not higher. We cannot live on our present wages."

ENTERTAINMENT IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

Before a large assemblage of the younger students, the members of the senior class of the evening high school presented a very elaborate entertainment program last evening in the school hall. The presentation of the program was in accordance with the plan of giving one or more socials for the enjoyment of the students during the evening school term. After the program the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed to 11 o'clock with music furnished by the Ladies' Leontine orchestra. The program, which included recitations, songs, musical selections and fancy dancing was published Wednesday in The Sun.

CRESCENT A. C. DANCE
Attended by a large crowd of Low-

all's young people, the annual dancing party by the Crescent A. C. staged in Lincoln hall last evening proved one of the most successful events of the after-Lenten season. The decorations were handsome and appropriate, the music excellent, and everyone found real enjoyment in the splendid program arranged by the committee in charge. During an intermission teas were served. The officers of the dance were: Samuel McDonald, general manager; Thomas Higgins, assistant; John Brooks, floor director; Thomas Quinn, assistant; Stephen Shugrue, chief aid, and Edward Blah, treasurer.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

BY MILTON BRONNER

European Manager N.E.A.

LONDON, April 8.—The flower girls of London, celebrated in song and story for centuries, still flourish here. The other day one of these "girls" died after having sold flowers at one corner for 40 years. And her mother had the same post before her. Any morning in January, February or March they may be seen coming from Covent Garden market with their fairy freight of violets, jonquills and primroses done up in willow baskets.

In spite of Fussfoot Johnson, English brewers are not above reciting humorous verses. Not long ago Col. G. Winch, of a famous brewing firm, gave a dinner to his tenants and recited the following lines:
George Winch, the brewer, lies buried here,
In life he was both (h) ale and stout;
Death brought him to his bitter bier here!
Now in heaven he hops about.

A South African colonist told me a funny one about two self-made millionaires down there—Sir Abe Bailey and the late Sammy Marks. Bailey had entered politics and took himself very seriously. "Well, Abe," said Marks one day, "they say that the political mantle of the great Cecil Rhodes has fallen upon you."
"They do say so," assented Bailey.

Marks then said:
"Take the tip of a fellow who has dealt in old clothes. Second hand garments never fit!"

The latest from Russia shows how a priest turned the laugh upon Lunatschski, the Bolshevik minister of education. The latter attended a lecture by the priest on the subject of Christian Doctrine. Wishing to embarrass the clergyman, he said: "Is your argument that all authority is ordained of God?"

"Yes," replied the priest, adding after a pause, "even our present government is of God . . . It has been sent us by God . . . for our sins."

Recently when Gaby Deslys died it was stated she used to take a coop of hens on board ship to provide fresh eggs for her table when she crossed the Atlantic. This recalls the fact that the great South African statesman, Cecil Rhodes, used to do the same thing on his frequent trips between London and South Africa. Another great South African millionaire was asked why he did not do likewise.

"Why bother?" said he. "I just tip the boatswain who looks after Rhodes' hens and I get the eggs."

What strikes one about London crowds is their eminent sense of fair play. Take this matter of buses, for instance. A man will be waiting at one of the regular stops for his bus. Another man will come along wanting that same bus. He will just naturally, as a matter of course, fall in line behind the first comer. First thing you know there is what London calls a "queue." Can you imagine a New York crowd doing that?

CALL WASTING TIME BY WORKERS "CRIME"

LONDON.—The Russian soviet government has threatened to put the workshops of the northern railways under martial law to put an end to what it calls the "crime" of the workers in wasting time in holiday making, according to a wireless message from Moscow. The government asserts that 1000 working days were thus lost in one month and that "the railway men are arranging to have two days of idleness each week at a time when millions of people are hungering and when it is impossible to transport bread, owing to lack of railway engines." It notifies the idlers that they will either have to make up for the time "of which the republic has been robbed" or receive full penalty under martial law.

The message issued by the government is headed "Shame, comrades!" and declares that Russia cannot await salvation from foreigners but must fight her own internal blockade in order to "end the ruinous condition of things, conquer hunger and save the soviet republic."

TANGO HAS CALL OVER JAZZ IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES.—The Argentine has retained its affection for his national dance, the tango, despite the introduction of American "jazz" music and syncopated melodies in the programs of Argentine balls and dances. This was shown during the balls held in a recent carnival when tango tunes outnumbered the fox-trot and one-step in a proportion of three to one. Several American waltzes, however, are very popular. The Argentines call the syncopated music "Tanguito" tunes.

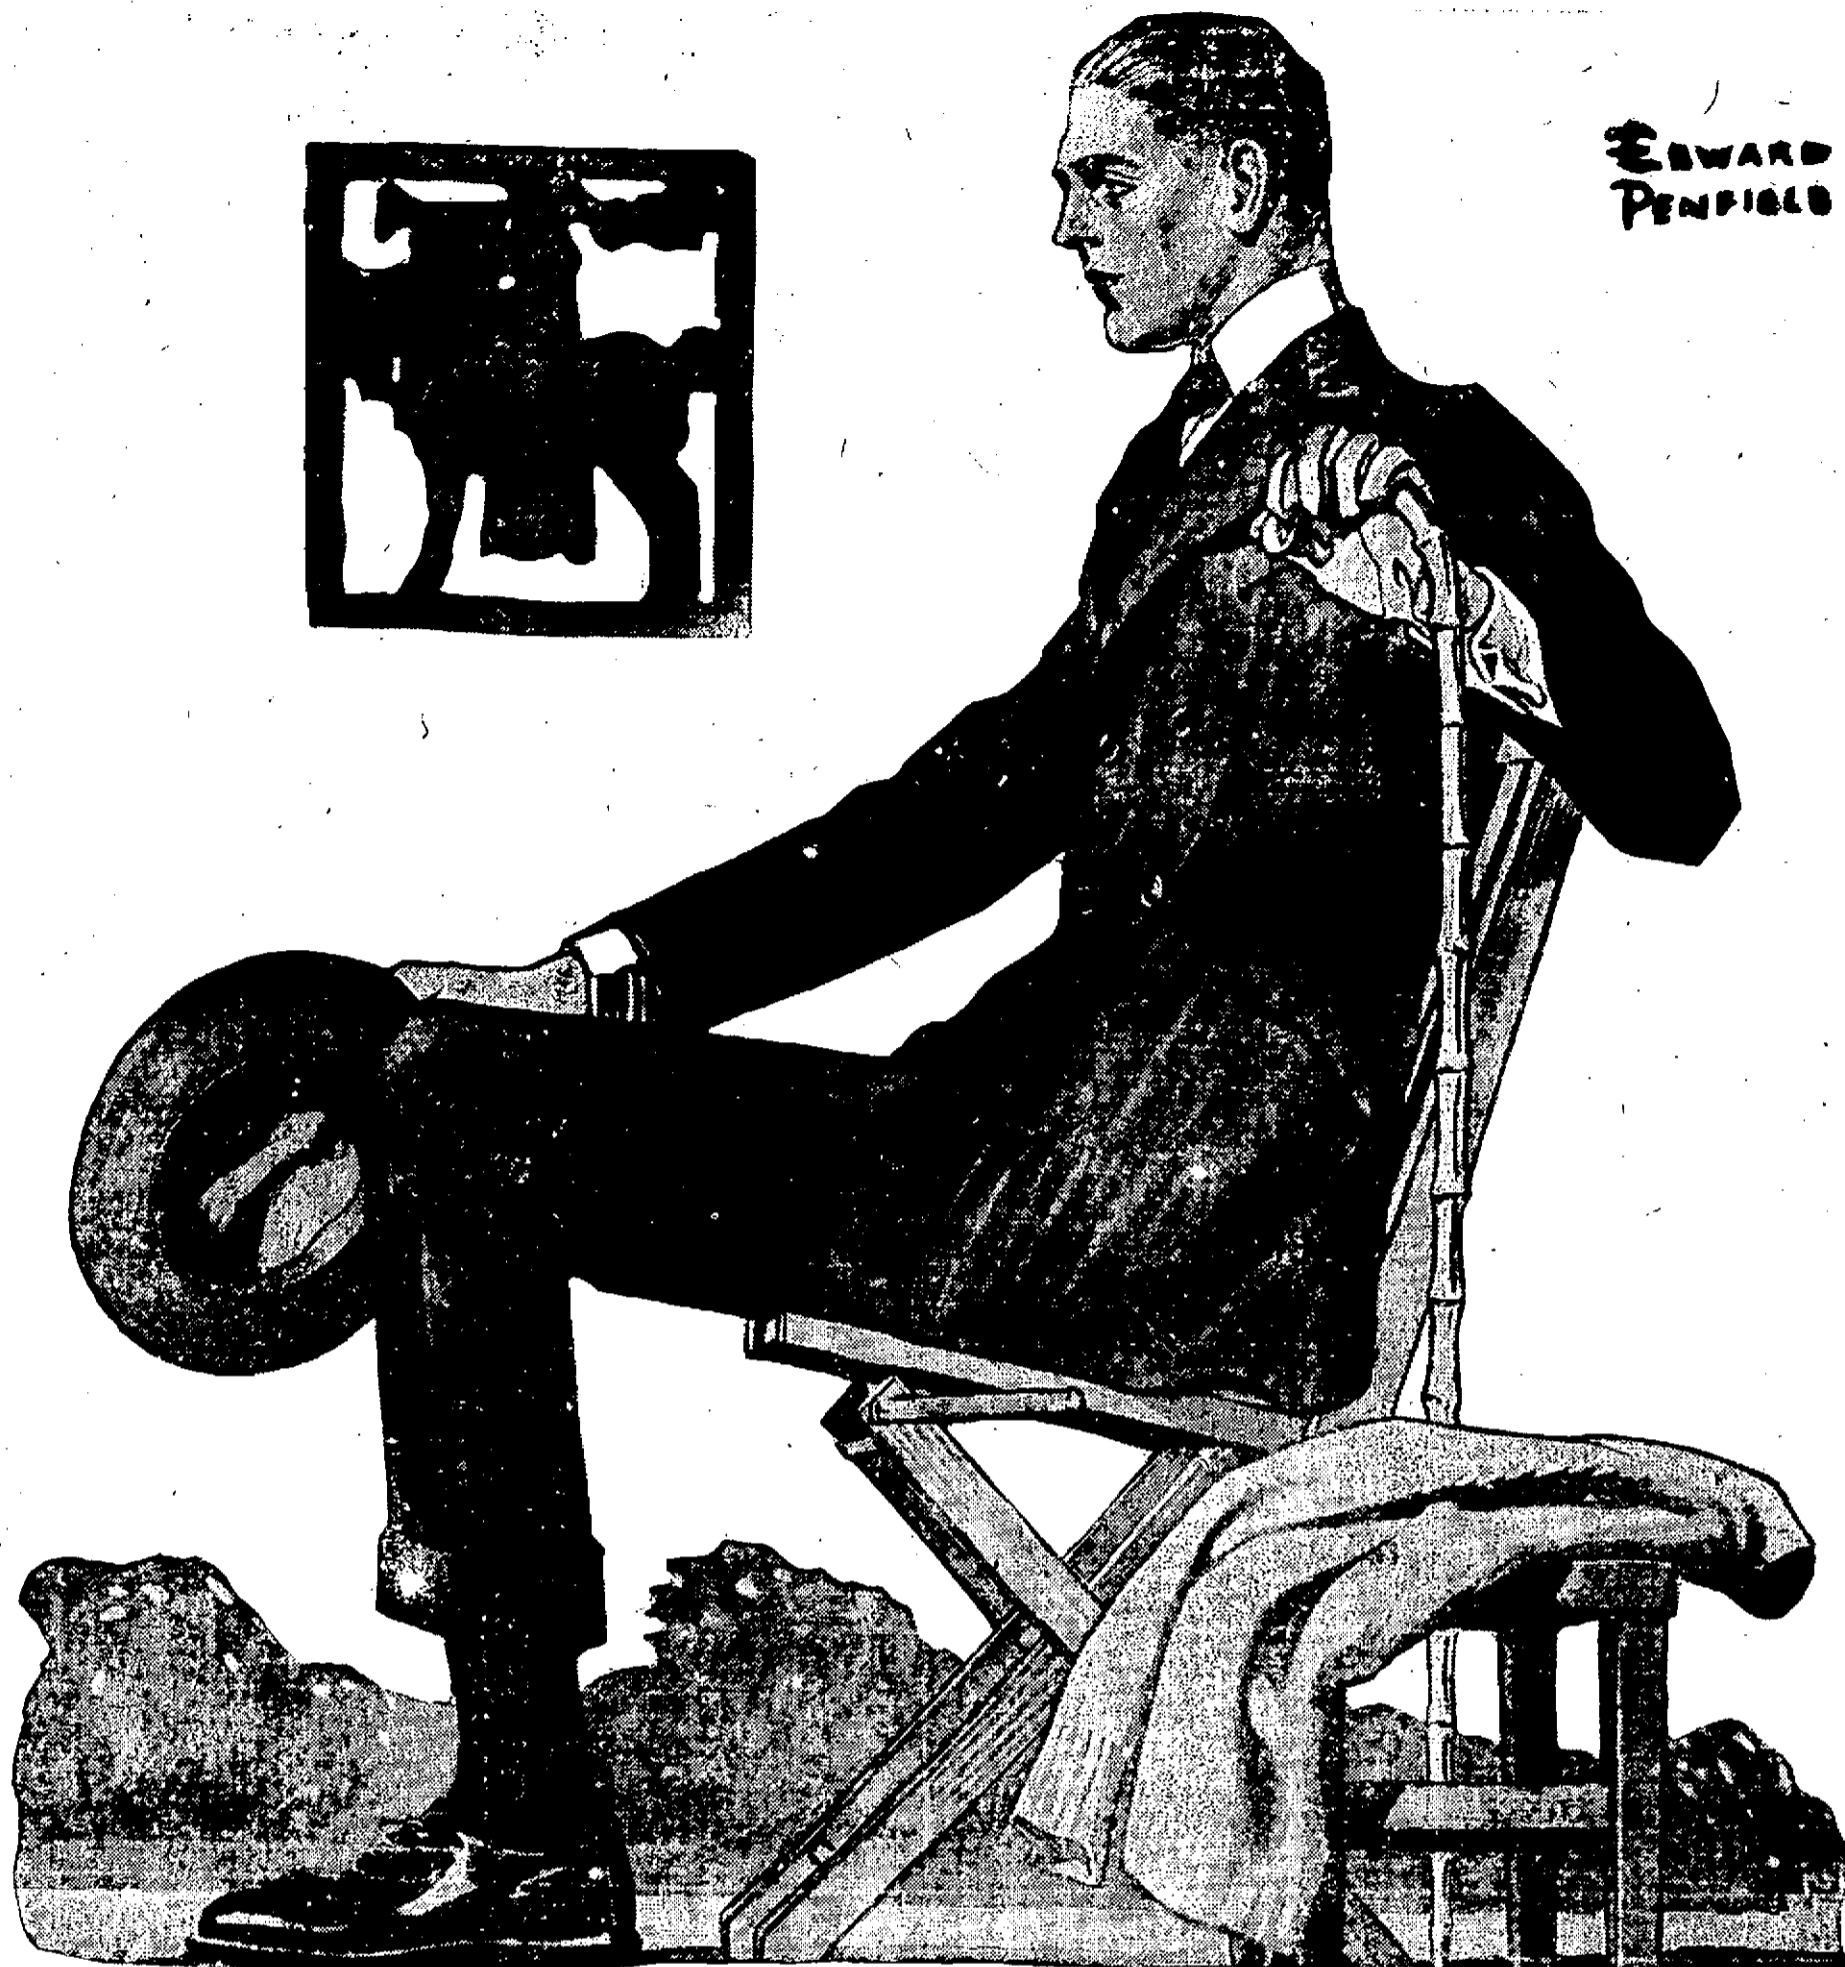

Some native musicians have grown rich composing tangos. One of the most popular here is called "Pan y Agua" (Bread and Water). The title of another is translated as "Flower of the Mud."

BARNEGAT LIGHT TO BE TORN DOWN

PHILADELPHIA.—Barnegat light, one of the oldest lighthouses on the Atlantic coast, which has afforded a great deal of material for fiction writers, is to be torn down, because its foundation is being undermined by the sea.

The lighthouse bureau at Washington has decided it would cost too much to save the structure, and it will be replaced, probably, by a lightship and a beacon light in the mouth of Barnegat bay.

LATER CAR SERVICE

Street Railway Home Rule Committee Considers Matter at Meeting

Agitation for later car service in all parts of the city on week nights and the discussion of transfer privilege extensions on various lines featured yesterday afternoon's regular semi-monthly meeting of the street railway "home-rule" committee.

Manager Thomas Lees of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. agreed to try out midnight service on various lines on Saturday nights to see how much business it would bring but he pointed out that doing this every night in the week would mean a complete re-arrangement of schedules which in itself would take two or three weeks.

A petition from residents of Belvidere, patrons of the High street line, asking that they be allowed to remain on the High street car until it gets to Dutton street without paying a ten-cent fare was not looked on with favor as it would involve if granted, Manager Lees said, the possibility of residents on other lines in the city wanting the same privileges. The petition was laid on the table at the suggestion of John B. Sullivan until the railway company finds itself able to afford universal transfer extension privileges.

The meeting was called shortly after 4 o'clock in the Aldermanic chamber with Chairman John J. O'Rourke presiding. Abel R. Campbell was absent.

Secretary John B. Curtin reported for the sub-committee appointed at a previous meeting to investigate the establishment of a waiting room in Merrimack square and said that Samuel McCord of Carter & Sherburne's store in the square had been interviewed and that Mr. McCord was told that unless the waiting room could be located in the square the committee would be forced to look elsewhere for a location.

"This seemed to impress Mr. McCord," said Mr. Curtin, "and he asked that he be given more time to look into the matter."

Mr. Regan, the proprietor of a former saloon in the square near the old waiting room, had also been interviewed on the proposition, it was reported, and had expressed himself favorable toward the idea of having his place used as a waiting room in conjunction with a confectionery or book store, but the nature of his lease would not permit.

Mr. Ricard said that he did not believe that the waiting room was as important now as some other matters, owing to the fact that good weather was coming. On motion of Mr. Sullivan it was agreed to delay further action on the matter until the Carter & Sherburne people were again heard from.

Mr. Sullivan, discussing the new time schedule recently put into effect by the railway company, said that it provided for later Sunday night service but not for later week night cars.

"It's pretty tough," he said, "when a community of 115,000 or 120,000 inhabitants can't get car service later than 11:30 p. m. People expect at least midnight service. In the olden days the last cars didn't leave the square until 12:30."

He referred to a number of people who take late trains from Boston and who are forced to walk home after they arrive in Lowell.

Mr. Lees said that even though the company should get several cars full of people as a result of operating later, the revenue from these wouldn't pay the cost of operating some 15 cars to cover the entire city. He pointed out that beyond the convenience that would be furnished the few people coming up from Boston there would be little other justification for later service.

Mr. Ricard agreed that it wouldn't be a business proposition for the street railway company. Manager Lees said that a good way to judge the proposition would be to observe the business being done on last trips now.

Mr. Carney asked if it would be very expensive to have just one car at the station to meet one of the late trains and have that car connect at the square with other lines. Manager Lees admitted that such a scheme would be feasible.

Mr. Burke said that it often takes as long to get from the railroad station to one's home as from Boston to Lowell.

It was finally voted to ask Manager Lees to do all in his power to establish 12 o'clock service on week nights and the latter agreed to try it out on Saturday nights.

There followed considerable discussion.

April 24 is proclaimed Arbor Day, which should be observed by planting trees, shrubs or vines, or perhaps laying out the lines of a vegetable garden. Unfortunately Arbor Day is allowed to pass like many of our holidays, with little attention to its real meaning or purpose.

Our exports have shown a decline in February as compared with January, owing undoubtedly to the low rate of foreign exchange. The countries whose money has depreciated do not want to buy from us if they can get what they want elsewhere.

The value of the pound sterling has recently advanced from $3.19 to $4.00 or more than half the way towards par, which is $4.86. This indicates that production in Great Britain is gaining so fast that prices have begun to tumble. It indicates speedy recovery from the effects of the war.

Congress is going to end the war, but is afraid that President Wilson will block its efforts, just as the senate blocked the president's efforts in that direction by refusal to ratify the treaty. (The constitution may also be brought into the controversy to prove that congress is overstepping its powers. It is certain that the country longs for official peace that will stand the test of constitutionality.

It is alleged now that the republic can party in congress plans to offer a $2,000,000,000 bonus to the soldiers all at one gulp, so to speak. They plan to raise the money by a tax on consumption, or in other words upon purchases, say at the rate of one cent or over on every dollar's purchase. The direct taxes are too high already. The people should not be called upon to meet such heavy imposts while the other war taxes are still in force.

The immigrants coming to our shores are chiefly women, many of them widows. They are needed; but it is estimated that 4,000,000 men would barely relieve the present labor shortage. They cannot be found. If such men come to our shores, they should not be barred because of inability to read and write English. In the work for which men are most needed it makes slight difference whether they can speak English, if they can only understand the orders given them. For the purposes of citizenship later on, it will be necessary for them to be able to read English.

McKNIGHT'S BILL

There is much surprise at the action of the state senate in refusing to offer Attorney General J. Weston Allen further power to investigate shady stock transactions and investment securities by which many people are being swindled at the present time. A substitute measure has been proposed but the attorney general should know what he wanted and what is necessary to protect the public against these investment sharks.

President McKnight of the senate has not strengthened public confidence in his good judgment by putting forward his own plan instead of that of Mr. Allen. Yet if his measure passes it will help to combat the evils of which the attorney general complains.

VIRGINIA WOMEN

Old Virginia which has furnished seven presidents of the United States, has some distinguished women who, after they get the vote, are likely to cut a wide swath in politics. One of these is Miss Bertha Gray Robinson who prides herself upon the fact that she has owned and edited a democratic newspaper for thirty-two years. This does not mean that Miss Robinson is not still on the sunny side of fifty and ready to go on the stump if necessary in the interest of democracy and her favorite candidates.

In addition to running her paper, Miss Robinson has been a leading member of the Virginia Press association, the history of whose activities during twenty-four years of growth she has written with a wealth of interesting tales and political reminiscences. Miss Robinson regrets that her state has failed to be recorded on the side of suffrage for women but she is confident that some other state will have the gallantry to put the capstone on the suffrage arch which the nation is building for women. In this let us hope she will not be disappointed.

in the high school lot, while Contractor Drapau is making progress in leveling and grading the site of the auditorium. Several mill buildings are in progress of construction and the prospect is, that this will be one of the greatest building years in the history of the city. In spite of the great scarcity of dwellings, however, it is already apparent that very few will be built during the coming season.

The cost of labor and material is practically prohibitive. Those who desire to build have come to the conclusion that they cannot do so without incurring financial loss. To build at present prices, they would be obliged to charge rents which would be much higher than the people would be willing to pay. Besides, when production shall have caught up with the demand, prices will take a tumble and the owners of buildings constructed under present conditions are likely to lose on their investment. It is this outlook that prevents the building of dwellings. Otherwise, the building prospects for the season are excellent. The only factor that can interfere with them is the difficulty of getting material and the uncertainty of having all the building trades remaining continuously at work. It is to be hoped, however, that all arrangements will be completed before May 1st for steady work during the entire season.

Only the other day a Chicago judge resigned because he said he was tired listening to the tales of infidelity in the divorce court. He had almost lost faith in the ability of men and women to adhere to their marriage vows. In this respect he was a pessimist and it is probably well for the court that he resigned.

He expressed the opinion that it was idleness that led most of the women astray. The married women who keep busy in their homes are not the ones who get into the divorce court. Many divorces are granted for incompetency of lecher, a very elastic cause which can be made to suit almost any case. Mesalliance, non-support, desertion, cruel and abusive treatment, are causes frequently set up in court when the real cause is a desire to be free in order to make another venture in the matrimonial market.

The free love advocate finds his or her "soul affinity" and puts forward the claim of ardent attachment for another as a legitimate cause for annulling the marriage tie. The great trouble with those who resort to the divorce court is that they never at any time regarded the marriage tie as binding, and never pretended to comply with its obligations. When divorced persons get married a few weeks after securing the decree, it is reasonable to infer that the divorce was sought merely to remove the legal obstacle to a second marriage and that the causes, therefore, were merely trumped up from circumstances which with well intentioned people would never occur.

Easy divorce that permits remarriage is little better than legalized polygamy.

KILLING OLD TYPHOID

It is fine news that control of the scourge of typhoid has reached such a satisfactory point that the certain elimination of the disease from these United States is in sight.

Since the opening of this century one city after another has taken up the attack on typhoid, until now there is no city of any size which is not campaigning against it through the water supply and by means of sanitation. For several years past the Journal of the American Medical Association has presented an annual survey of typhoid mortality to the physicians of the country. The survey for 1919 is now announced, and the figures are nothing less than amazing.

The honors go to the cities of Chicago, New York, Boston, and Cleveland, in order. The average deaths from typhoid per 100,000 population for the period 1905-19 in Chicago were 15.8; in 1919 the average was 1.2. In New York, 1905-19, average deaths per 100,000 were 13.5; in 1919 the record stood 2. Boston reduced the mortality from 16 to 2.2 in 1919. Cleveland reduced from 15.7 to 2.4 in 1919.

There are other cities where the mortalities are as low or even lower—for example, Spokane, without a single death but the honor cities have very large populations, with great numbers coming in and going out every day, making control of any disease difficult. In Chicago the value of the great engineering work of taming sewage away from Lake Michigan is beginning to tell. The drinking water of Chicago is today probably the purest of any city in the world. In Cleveland the great results are mostly due to water filtration and liberal use of chloride of lime.

There are some interesting exhibits from other cities. Ten years ago the average typhoid mortality in Columbus, O., per 100,000 was 40. In 1919 it was 3. Louisville, Ky., was 52.7; now 11.2. Pittsburg was 65, but Pittsburg has cleaned it down to 6.2. Scranton, Pa., was 21.5, but is now next to Chicago with only 1.3. The worst place in 1919 was Memphis with 58.4, an increase of 23.1 over ten years ago.—N. E. A.

CONGRESSIONAL JOY RIDES

A real congressional "joy-ride" to the orient is what has been planned by members of congress for the coming summer. It will be the most extended jaunt of the many made by the members of the present congress.

The tour is to be "unofficial," which means that the government will not pay the entire expense. A government transport will be furnished and each member of the party will be required to pay $1.25 per day for subsistence which is somewhat below the hotel rates in our leading cities. The transport Mr. Vernon will be used for the purpose, starting from San Francisco early in June, and visiting Hawaii, the Philippines, China and Japan. The entire trip is to last about sixty days, if not prolonged. Many of the congressmen will bring along their families and private secretaries to enjoy the delightful voyage.

Criticism of the various expensive trips made by members of the present congress does not seem to have changed the policy of the leaders, although that policy does not accord with their avowed efforts to promote economy. The republicans have had a continuous series of junkets since they came into control; but with the exception of that to the orient the tours were projected for the ostensible purpose of investigating government extravagance and other abuses. Already delegations have visited practically every state, traveling in special cars and enjoying all the luxuries of the day at the expense of the government.

It is now proposed that investigating committees shall visit all the Indian reservation, Alaska, France and Hawaii. One party has been to the Virgin Islands and another to the Panama Canal. These junkets may explain why congress has done so little in the line of constructive legislation. The republican leaders will find it difficult to show any compensating benefit derived from the widespread investigations. Thus far, it appears they have not found the evidence of graft and fraud for which they have been hunting.

Whether or not we save daylight, let us not waste any of it.

O you April bride! You're one of the surest signs of spring.

It's better to forfeit a little "retro-active" salary than to give back some already received.

Why not exercise the new one-man cars on Fletcher street? They wouldn't be in the way there, surely.

May we expect another burst of coal prices now that the handlers have returned to work with a wage increase?

We admit that a steam shovel has its purpose in the world, but surely it will never win a prize for graceful poses.

Central bridge is beginning to creak and groan, Mr. Commissioner, and we're right in the midst of a Safety First campaign.

It hasn't occurred to the daylight savers that they may accomplish all they seek by getting up in time to do their self before going to work.

Squire Abner Harrington believes there'd be more happy marriages if love was as blind after the honeymoon as it was in the courtship days.

The first street car is not the only thing that can't be properly used. The city would do well to acquire by seizure, to its term, by the way, is not so heartless as it sounds.

A Milwaukee man sued for divorce because his wife talked too much, and an Arkansas husband wants a divorce because his wife wouldn't talk to him at all.

An Honest Jeweler

Jones was very much surprised to see a lot of quite nice looking clocks displayed in a window, marked $5 each.

He went inside and asked to see

"I don't know how you can do it at the price," he remarked. "It must cost that much more than this."

"It does," replied the jeweler. "Then where does your profit come from?" asked Jones in amazement.

"In repainting them," the jeweler informed him bluntly.

Age of the Sun

Here is a new calculation of the age of the sun. M. Perrenet read it recently to the French Academy of Sciences. On the principle that the mean temperature of a star remains approximately equal to the surface temperature it had when first formed, and giving the sun an internal temperature of 12,000 deg. C., or double that of its surface, and calculating its mass to be 2x10.30 kilograms, the sun cannot have been formed more than between two and six millions of years ago. A star with a surface temperature of 600,000 deg. C. would have been formed from a nebula in 300 days and one with 6,000,000 degrees in seven hours.

Footing the Farmer

Old Farmer Turnout went to London for a visit, and on a friend's advice, stayed at a quiet hotel in Bloomsbury. On his return to the village this friend asked how he had got on.

"Bottom!" retorted the old chap shortly.

"Why, weren't they nice to you at the hotel?" asked his friend in surprise.

"Nice!" Old Turnout's tones were withering. "Well, if you call it being nice to foot a man because he comes from the country, they were. Why, the very first night that I stayed there they gave me a big bottle to take to bed, and when I unscrewed the stopper there weren't nothing in it but hot water."

His Lesson

Some days the way appears so dark That life most useless seems. It takes so long to reach a faith, In which the sunshine gleams, That hope will almost fly away. And leave us in despair. While life appears so very hard; And often so unfair.

We wonder why it thus must be, And lift our hearts in prayer. Then when we comfort seek from God He drives away our care. And sends sweet sunshine in our souls To bring us brighter days. And show how sorrows only come To teach us wiser ways.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A friend of mine has a most perplexing telephonic problem he is trying to solve and inasmuch as his predicament is entirely novel to me, at least, I'll chance it and outline the tangle without attempting to unravel it. A little over a week ago "friend" moved from one house to another. In the new house was and still is a telephone in good working order, and it had a party line number. The folks who moved out of the house "friend" moved into had a telephone installed in their new home. These facts led up to the tangle, or in fact, created it.

"Friend" now sits in his office and endeavors to call his home. He gives the number originally assigned to that instrument and the operator sweetly says, "That number has been changed to such and such" and proceeds to ring the phone at the new home of the folks who used to occupy the house now owned by "friend." "No, no," frantically calls "friend." "I don't want the new number, I want the original one." And he can't get it. He has a sort of a one-way phone and when he attempts to explain to supervisors and chief operators he runs up against the "rules." "Friend" swears, literally so, and also swears he will take the problem to the United States supreme court unless he can have that telephone working from both ends. We might suggest that the next time the operator asks "Number, please," that he ask: "What numbers have you?"

The Middlesex street railroad station is the setting of many a happy scene these April days with brides passing through its confines almost every hour of the day and early evening. I happened to be at the station about 5:15 the other afternoon and two bridal parties were then waiting for a Boston-bound train. Each group seemed to be rivaling the other in the amount of interest it was attracting for there are very few men or women who do

MIL RUBADUB FINDS HELP

This was Nancy's plan, and she told it to the fairyman right away. "We'd love to help you, Mr. Rubadub. If you'll let us, shouldn't we, Nick? If you'll let us what you want done, we can help you to scrub up the birds and paint the flowers. I'm sure. Once I painted a tulip in my painting book at home, and it looked so real. Daddy said he could almost smell it. And Nick painted the cat's tail pink, one time, too."

"Is that so?" beamed the fairyman.

"This is what I call luck. Maybe you came true because I waved my wand this morning. I was beginning to think it must be worn out because nobody appeared, and I intended to ask the fairy queen for another one the next time she came around."

"Yes, I do need help very much," he went on, "but the work is easy to

Monkeys, like humans, are susceptible to the attacks of influenza. Under the direction of Major F. G. Blake and Major R. L. Cecil, the Army Medical school of Washington, D. C., recently completed tests with 23 monkeys to determine the effects of influenza on the ape family.

The monkeys were inoculated with B. influenza by swabbing the upper respiratory tract with a culture of the disease germ, isolated from a case of influenza pneumonia, which had developed in a man. The virulence of the disease was subsequently raised.

not instinctively gather around a bridge and bridge room at a railroad station. Confetti was being showered without stint and the station floor looked as though a healthy snow storm had just descended on it. Later in the evening upon my return to the station there was another trail of confetti out on the platform, the memento, I suppose, of another happy couple's send-off.

RECEIVED BY POPE

Dr. Renner Thanks Pontiff for Saving Children

ROME, April 8.—Dr. Karl Renner, chancellor of the Austrian republic, was received in private audience today by the pope, who showed great interest in the present state of affairs in Austria, and anxiously inquired as to the condition of the Austrian population, especially the children. He also expressed pleasure at the recovery and well being of the Austrian children who have been brought to Italy so that they might receive better care.

Dr. Renner, greatly moved, thanked the pontiff for his support of the children of the Central empires, so many of whom, he said, had been saved from certain death by the pope's intercession.

The period of incubation embraced from three to six hours.

The experiments indicated that influenza exercised the same influence on monkeys as on the human family with respect to its behavior, symptoms, complications and pathology. The medical directors described the action as "an acute self-limited respiratory disease, identical with influenza in man." Similar results were obtained when pursuing a different method of inoculation, intratracheally, with the exception that one monkey evidenced no signs of infection.

Nine of the group of 23 monkeys used in the tests developed pneumonia. None of the animals succumbed to the disease.

The latter thanked the auxiliary for contributions made to the cadets. Contributions have also been made to the Pawtucketville memorial fund. Arrangements were made for a party to be held in the near future.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind, Bring Out Ugly Spots. Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-Face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

SONG RECITAL IN COLONIAL HALL

Miss Hazel E. Wirt of this city gave a song recital in Colonial hall last evening, assisted by Jacques Hoffmann of Boston, violinist, and Miss Mary B. Rellly, pianist. Too seldom does a Lowell audience have the extreme pleasure of hearing one of its own sons or daughters and as the city may rightly and proudly lay claim to Miss Wirt, her concert was heard with unusual interest.

This gifted soprano has progressed rapidly during the past few years and, although her friends have not had the opportunity to accurately gauge her advancement along musical lines, it was known that constant training and study had placed her at the very threshold of prominence. It may be truly said that Miss Wirt "arrived" last evening and actually thrilled her audience with her technique and brilliancy of voice.

She chose to sing a program which made stringent demands upon her ability, and that she adequately met its every requirement was a source of deep satisfaction to her friends.

Mr. Hoffmann and Miss Rellly added much charm to the program, which ran as follows:

Nymphs et Sylvas	Bemmerz
Si mes vœux des ailes	Hahn
Les Filles de Cadix	Delibes
Menuet	Miss Wirt
Berceuse (E flat)	C. Cul
Russian Airs (alto Russian)	Wienlawski

As you will see by reading the above list of names, the Lowell Morris Plan Company is controlled by prominent business men of unquestioned integrity and ability. The business was founded three years ago to check the usurious practices of loan sharks by loaning money at reasonable rates to salaried people, professional men, merchants and all persons of good character. As they repay such loans in 12 monthly or 50 weekly installments, our capital is not tied up for long periods, but is quickly available whenever needed to redeem outstanding certificates. That's why there is not a safer investment in America than these certificates of indebtedness—the money to redeem them is always ready.

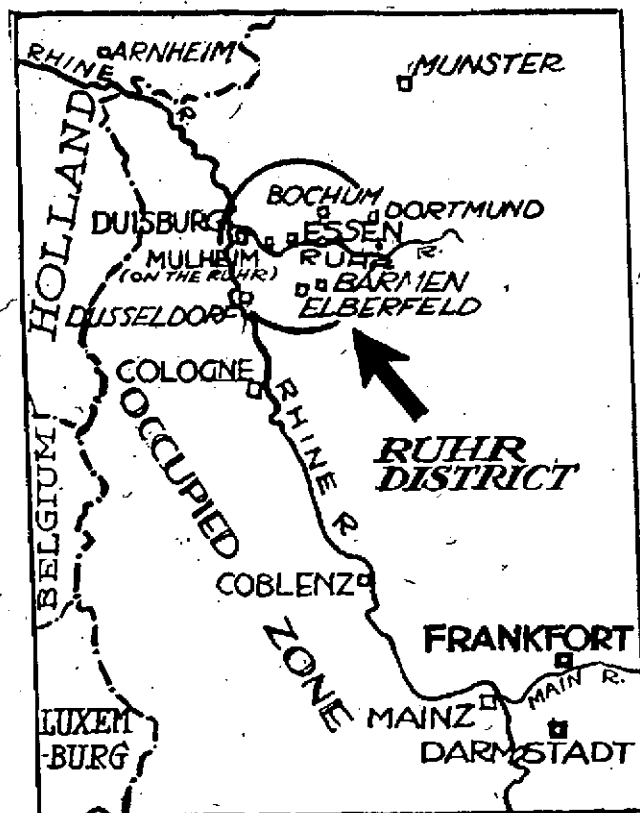

The certificates are issued for any sum from $50 to $5000, yielding 5 per cent. (paid semi-annually) and do not fluctuate in value. We cash them on demand with interest to date.

Your money is therefore not only absolutely safe, but you can always get it if you happen to need it.

SEEDS OF A NEW WAR?

Some of the shrewdest students of international affairs see in the Ruhr affair and the French occupation of Frankfurt and Darmstadt a situation which may lead to another outbreak of war in Europe. Germans and French have both violated the peace treaty. German troops entered the neutral Ruhr mining district ostensibly to quiet the riots; French troops occupied Frankfurt and Darmstadt ostensibly to insure withdrawal of the Germans. Behind these moves, however, may be deeper motives. The Germans want to keep the "neutral zone" along the Rhine; the militaristic school in France, headed by Marshal Foch, never did give up hope of eventually holding the Rhine bank despite the peace treaty. And in these troubled days both sides may think possession more than nine points of the law.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW

Rep. Achin Leads Successful Fight Urging Congress to Enact National Law

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 5.—Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., of Lowell was successful in his fight in the house yesterday for adoption of a resolution reported by the federal relations committee, of which he is chairman, urging congress to enact a national daylight saving law.

"This house has already gone on record in favor of daylight saving, both as a national proposition and as a state proposition," said Rep. Achin. "If the governor should sign the bill before him, I believe it entirely proper to adopt this resolution and forward it to congress, so that the national legislature may be informed of the sentiment of this state, and so that they will have no doubt that it is the desire of the people of Massachusetts that the benefits of the daylight saving law be extended all over the country."

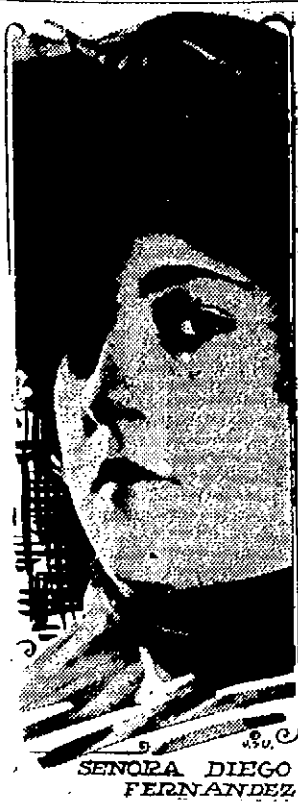

Rep. George P. Webster of Boxford spoke against adoption of the resolution, contending that the action of the legislature in passing the bill would be sufficient evidence to congress of the attitude of Massachusetts on the subject.

The house sided with the Lowell legislator and adopted the resolution, the vote being 55 to 21.

Without a dissenting vote, the house admitted under suspension of the rules and referred to the ways and means committee a resolve providing that Edmund J. Gill, father of the late Edmund J. Gill, shall receive the balance of salary that would have been due him had he lived through the present year. Edmund J. Gill was for many years one of the most popular of the legislative messengers, and every member will be proud to vote for the pending resolve. HOYT.

GERMANS IN ENGLAND HAVE HARD ROW TO HOE

LONDON, April 9.—Large numbers of German and other undesirable who were deported from England in the war have managed to make their way back to London, but have encountered warm receptions when their identity has been discovered. They managed to cross from the continent by working their way as sailors on tramp steamers to northern English and Scottish ports.

These Germans who have come back to England to take up business again find it a hard row to hoe, says the Evening Standard. One German business man gave it up and returned to his fatherland after being refused admission to five London hotels. He found rooms in a Bloomsbury boarding house, but two days later the other boarders discovered him, and notified the manager they could not live under the same roof with a German; and he was turned out.

A German butcher in a London suburb was prevented by his neighbors from reopening his old store the other day, although he had lived in England for 40 years, and there are many similar cases.

Neither captain nor crew of the steamer Spica, the first German cargo ship to enter the Firth of Forth since August, 1914, were allowed ashore at Methil and, in deference to local feeling, the vessel did not display the German flag.

On the other hand, a revival of "Tannhauser" at Covent Garden Opera recently drew a crowded and appreciative audience of society people. The cast, however, was wholly English.

YOU ARE SHOOTING DICE WITH DEATH

And you can't afford to do it when Health is the stake. When you neglect a cough, cold, catarrh, bronchitis, stomach and bowel trouble, or any other catarrhal disease, you are gambling.

Catarrh, in any form, reduces the resistance to disease. The sore and inflamed membranes afford a fertile field for the growth of all germ disease, with the result that you are more liable to take on Influenza, Pneumonia or other contagion.

PE-RU-NA

A Reliable Preventive and Protective Medicine

The best, possible, defensive remedy is of tonic properties, acting upon and enriching the blood, quieting the nerves and soothing to the mucous membranes.

On account of its long, well-known record in the treatment of catarrhal diseases, PE-RU-NA, naturally, recommends itself as the logical and sensible medicine at this time.

It will stimulate your digestion, aid elimination, purify and enrich the blood, soothe the inflamed and congested membranes.

Thousands, in the last fifty years, have taken PE-RU-NA with the most satisfying success, and there is every reason to believe you can do the same.

Backed by half a century of success as the greatest of all defensive medicines. Don't gamble. Catarrhal diseases soon become chronic.

ELECTRICAL DISPLAY AT THE K. OF C. BALL

One of the big features of the annual ball to be given by the local council of the Knights of Columbus in Associated hall next Tuesday evening will be an electrical decorative display such as has rarely been seen in Lowell. The committee in charge of decorations has spent considerable time and money in preparing this novel feature. Invitations have been sent to many prominent officials to attend the affair, in-

MEXICO, TOO, IS UP ON TOES OVER COMING ELECTION

Ygnacio Bonillas, ambassador to the United States, and candidate for the presidency of Mexico, received great welcomes during his trip from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City. Great crowds besieged his train and the reception given him at Mexico City was the biggest of the kind since the welcome accorded President Madero in 1911.

STATES WITH MOST WOMEN VOTERS

When the suffrage amendment is ratified, 26,500,000 new voters will join the ranks, according to estimates based on the 1910 census, making no allowance for aliens.

New York state leads the country in the number of women 21 years of age and over, with a figure of 3,033,273. Next is Pennsylvania, with 2,325,405 women. Following in order are Illinois, with 1,724,240; Ohio, with 1,538,175; and Massachusetts, with 1,181,932.

HATS INCREASE OR LESSEN THE HEIGHT

A tall slender woman has more lee-

way in the choice of hats than a short stout woman.

A hat with a broad drooping brim will lessen the height while a hat with a brim rolling up on one side seems to increase it.

A short stout woman should choose a hat with a crown higher on one side, as this will increase the height. The same effect is had by placing the trimming toward the back of the hat.

THE INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT

The Interchurch World movement, which embraces a gigantic survey of the Protestant faith, was launched in Lowell last night when a score of people met at the Y.M.C.A. to form the nucleus of an organization to carry on the work here. The dates of the drive are from April 25 to May 3 inclusive.

It is planned to form two distinct organizations in Lowell. There will be a united campaign committee composed of one man and one woman from each co-operating church. This organization will secure a committee to actively push the drive. An executive committee of laymen also will be formed as well as a number of sub-committees.

The executive committee took shape last night when the following men were named: Samuel H. Thompson, Otis Butler, Abel R. Campbell, Rev. C. G. Zierk and R. R. Gumb. Others will be added at a meeting to be held soon.

LOWELL LODGE, K. OF P.
Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 34, K. of P., which was held last night and arrangements were made for a social and dance to be held in the near future. The attendance was large.

Let their experience guide you

Simply wonderful

I find RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women simply wonderful. They have strengthened my constitution, improved my complexion, and made me take on flesh at a time when I was fairly run-down through Anaemia. Before taking RED PILLS, I had been under the care of a physician, who was unable to do me any good. That is why my confidence is so firmly established in RED PILLS, and I intend to take them again as soon as I notice that a good tonic is needed. I recommend them highly to all other women who are weakened and exhausted, as they are the best remedy I have ever known.

—Mrs. J. DESMARAIS,
Waukegan, Conn.

Exhausted and suffering

Two years ago I started taking RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, as I was run-down and exhausted and suffering from pains in the side, caused by prolonged hard work. One of my friends having noticed that I was gradually failing, advised me to try this remedy. I was really surprised at the good results obtained almost immediately on starting to take them. Twenty boxes were needed to effect a lasting recovery. Now when my friends ask me the secret of my good health, I am happy to reply that it is RED PILLS which helped me so.

—Miss ALDEA LEFEBVRE
93 Foundry Street, Central Falls, R. I.

Weak and nervous

I am now forty-one years of age and the mother of several children. I have known RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women for years, and I always keep them on hand. They have proven a boon to me under circumstances when I was excessively weak and nervous. Although I have been compelled to work very hard at all times, I am today fortunate enough to be enjoying good health, and I attribute this to the fact that I have always kept my strength up by the regular use of RED PILLS. My daughters also take them, so as to keep themselves fit and strong.

—Mrs. ETIENNE LANGLAIS,
245 Vliet Street, Cohoes, N. Y.

Stronger every day

Through repeated hard work, I had become weakened. As my means were rather limited and I could not afford to spend much money on physicians, I was becoming rather discouraged. One day, while reading the newspapers, I came across the wonderful recoveries effected through the use of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. There and then I decided that I too would try this remedy, and was delighted to note that I was gradually getting stronger every day. Now, I take them from time to time, as I do not want to let myself get run-down again.

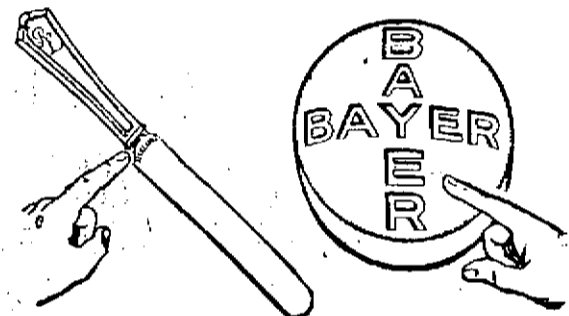

—Mrs. ROSANNA TRUDEAU,
30 King Street, Central Falls, R. I.

VESPER COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Vesper Country club was held last night at the club house on Tyng's Island. In the absence of President Marble, Harry G. Pollard presided. H. Hutchinson Parker, Judge John C. Leggat and Albert D. Milliken were chosen executive committee members to serve for three years. An excellent report was read by Treasurer Arthur J. Murkland and Secretary Andrew Booles.

Swapp's report reviewed the club history for 1919 and held out an optimistic belief that the new addition to the golf links would be ready for play before the coming season ends. A recommended increase in dues was approved as well as a suggestion that hereafter the clubhouse will be closed each year during the months of January, February and March. After the business meeting, a substantial steak dinner, the Angelo Four entertained with musical selections and readings were given by Mr. Booles.

MINOR ACCIDENTS

There were three minor accidents late yesterday afternoon and all were treated at the Lowell Corporation hospital. William Melancon of 31 Ash street was slightly injured when kicked by a horse; Leo Lookosylik of 165 Lakeview avenue received a cut in his right hand, and Richard Clark of 37 Lyons street had a couple of fingers of his left hand crushed while at his work at the Hamilton Mfg. New York Evening Gowns Radiate Lovely Colors And Light From Silver Cloth and Satin

SATIN, RADIUM AND SILVER CLOTH WITH SEQUIN BEADS, MAKE THESE EVENING GOWNS

BY GORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, April 9.—Never, never was New York so gloriously gay—and I wish I could give an adequate picture of the wonderful gowns that are to be seen everywhere, morning, afternoon and evening, especially in the evening. They glitter and sparkle and radiate the most beautiful color schemes imaginable. This gown in the center was imported by Gidding for one of New York's most popular society girls. I'd love to give you her name, but she forbids. It is of silver cloth, with a pannier yoke tunic (which is very new) of finest silk net, embroidered all over with tiniest sequin beads that

a bit of lace and bunch of Spanish daisies as sole trimming. Long girle ends and a panel drop of the material distinguish the gown.

One sees so many hats with evening costumes. It's the thing now—large hats of lace, gold or even black with crown of taffeta or soft straw, or brachial hats, one color lined with another; small hats, flower toques or hats fashioned of the gown material. They are even more fetching than head-dresses to which American women do not take so very kindly.

With genuine reluctance on the part of all those present or in any way connected with the sessions the Americanization classes of the Colburn Evening school held the closing exercises last evening. The exercises marked the conclusion of a very successful and gratifying season and were under the direction of Miss Gertrude Hession and Miss May Cawell. The program was as follows: Portuguese national anthem, pupils of Miss Cawell's room; recitation, "Love of Country," Sarkis Varian; song, "Sophia," Fernandes and George Hoyer; violin and piano selection, Jaquin Portado and Miss Hession; reading in Portuguese, Manuel Santos; "America," by the entire school.

A compilation of the physical measurements of the men in the United States service during the war shows there was an average gain of 3.32 pounds in weight and 2.3 inches in height during the period of service.

TO LOSE ONE TOOTH, IS TO LOSE A VITAL ELEMENT OF GOOD HEALTH

To expect part of a set of teeth to perform thorough mastication, is like trying to run a piece of machinery minus a cog. Fool instead of being ground, is pushed into the opening made by lost teeth, hence it must go to the stomach in a manner that makes digestion difficult. Stomach diseases begin, and you begin paying doctor bills that could have been saved by a small sum to repair your teeth.

To improve health, begin with bad teeth. Patients get an appreciation of usefulness from their teeth after they have had my attention. That is worth more than the fee they leave at my office. If you delay your call, it will mean a lost tooth.

HOW WILSON MET

JOSEPH TUMULTY

Who's got to listen to the hoers
Who ooze in through the White House
And hear all the kinks and rous?
Tumulty.

Who's got to open all the mail
And answer letters without fail
And send regrets out by the bale?
Tumulty.

Who's always got to be polite
From early morn till late at night,
And never lose his temper quite?
Tumulty.

Who's got to read the proofs on all
Of Woodrow's speeches, great and small,
And hear the brunt of every squall?
Tumulty.

Joseph Tumulty was born in Jersey City, N. J., May 3, 1879. His "people" were well-to-do folk, his father a veteran of the civil war in the Union army. The son was to be trained as a lawyer, with a side squint at politics. He was graduated from St. Peter's college in Jersey City in 1899 and immediately started in to read law. By 1902 he was ready to hand out his shingle and practiced for eight years.

He ran for the legislature and was elected, serving from 1907 to 1910, when Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, appointed him private secretary and retained him in this confidential capacity when he came to over, became that Irish smile upon Washington as president of the United States. And here is how Mr. Wilson came to "take him on":

Fred Kissam, known far and wide in Jersey, was in charge of the Democratic Speakers' bureau in the state campaign of 1910. Kissam was working tooth and nail for the election of Woodrow Wilson as governor over Vivian M. Lewis.

On Friday Kissam received a telephone message from Wilbur Beecroft, former sheriff of Monmouth county, asking him to get a speaker for a meeting to be held at Lakewood that very night. "Get me a good speaker," Beecroft urged. "Wilson is going to speak, but he will be here late and we must have a good speaker to hold the crowd until he comes. Don't send me any dubs."

Kissam had scheduled Joe Tumulty at West Hoboken that night. Joe was going strong on the stump. He was handing out the language the boys could understand, and he kept his crowds in good humor with his dialect stories. He was full of fire and "pep" and had never let an audience get away from him until he was through and started the exit procession himself.

So down came Joe and Kissam met him at the station and took him up to the hall where all the chivalry and beauty of Lakewood was assembled to hear Mr. Wilson. Likewise the "pep" and "fire" of Joe Tumulty mounted the platform, gave the crowd the once through and started the exit procession himself.

And then started in to give the republican party "unshirred hell."

He warmed up as he went along and was in full stride, carrying the crowd along with him with cheers and laughter, when Mr. Wilson came to the door. Just as he stepped across the threshold Joe had loosed away at the republicans with a "high-explosive shell of great velocity which exploded with a crash that attracted the attention of Mr. Wilson, who paused in the operation of shucking his overcoat and listened for several minutes before proceeding to enter the hall.

"That's Joe Tumulty, from Hudson county," replied State Chairman Nugent, who had come down with Mr. Wilson from Tom's River. Mr. Wilson made a few other inquiries about him. "Umm," he said. "Bring him around to the hotel after the meeting. I want to talk to him."

After the "speaking" was over Nugent took Joe around to the Laurel House and introduced him. They talked until way into the night.

Kissam had booked Tumulty to speak at Long Branch Saturday night, but Saturday morning he received a telephone message from Mr. Wilson telling him to cancel all of Joe's engagements. He wanted Joe to go along with him. And Joe has been going along with him ever since. He finished the campaign with him, and his knowledge of affairs and of political conditions in the legislature was of inestimable value to the candidate. When Mr. Wilson was elected governor he asked Joe to come with him as private secretary.

sion regarding the extension of half-hour service to the Yonkers County club on the Tynghoro line by having the cars run to that point instead of only to Wood's corner. The matter was broached by Mr. Corney. Manager Lees said that some of the track on the Tynghoro line was in such condition that the public service commission had limited the speed of cars there to eight miles an hour and that, of course, interfered somewhat with the running schedule. However, Mr. Lees was confident that the company would see its way clear to have the tracks fixed in the near future and regular half-hour time to Tynghoro again established.

The petition from patrons of the High street line, asking for the privilege of remaining on the High street car until it reached Dutton street without paying an extra fare, was then considered. Mr. Lees explained that he had sent a copy of the petition to the assistant general manager of the company and the latter had replied that he appreciated the argument of the petitioners but that if the privilege they asked were granted on the High street line, patrons of other lines would want the same privileges until the zone limits now established would be entirely wiped out.

It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until such time that the company is able to afford to extend such privileges to the patrons of all lines.

Following an informal discussion of the reports of the company for the months of January and February, bringing out the fact that the Lowell district had the best car service of the entire system during the past winter, the committee adjourned at 5:35 until Thursday, April 22, at 4 p. m.

SAYS PARAGUAY LAND OF WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR NORTH AMERICANS

BUENOS AIRES, April 8.—Paraguay is a land of wonderful opportunity for North Americans, says W. L. Schurz, United States trade commissioner who has just completed a 7 months' investigation of its resources. Ten million dollars in American money has thus far been invested in the little republic but in the opinion of Mr. Schurz, millions more of American capital would find a profitable return there.

Nearly the size of the state of Missouri and with less than 1,000,000 inhabitants, Paraguay has untouched resources of amazing variety and possibilities, Mr. Schurz told a correspondent of the Associated Press.

"Over half the country is forested with the finest hard woods in the world," he said. "Its soil and climate are capable of raising anything under the sun, including wheat and bananas. Experiments have proved that more cotton to the acre can be raised on Paraguayan soil than on any other soil where cotton is cultivated at present. It is good for tobacco and sugar. It is good for anything."

"Oranges in Paraguay grow wild. You would not believe that only one out of every 100 oranges produced in Paraguay ever is eaten. But it is so. Billions of oranges lie on the ground and rot."

"There are deposits of manganese and iron of unknown extent that have not been worked since the Paraguayan war ended in 1870. It is waiting for a railroad to be built to it. There is also copper."

"The American investments in Paraguay at present are in cattle, meat packing plants and quebracho. There are less than 100 Americans in the whole country. They are popular with the natives who think a lot of the United States."

10,000 GERMAN ARMY HELMETS CRUSHED INTO MUD AT SALVAGE DEPOT

CROTHER, Eng., April 8.—Ten thousand German army helmets have been crushed into the mud at a salvage depot here to make a pathway for captured German guns and other heavy traffic. It would have cost more to sell them as souvenirs than would be derived from the sale.

GERMAN MUSIC IN BRITAIN

LONDON.—German music is returning to England without arousing protest or hostility. Strauss' work was heard here for the first time since 1914 when his "Don Juan" was placed last on the program in Queen's hall recently with the idea that those who did not want to hear it need not remain. Some members of the audience left the hall when it began but there was no other manifestation of disapproval.

TO SAIL AROUND WORLD

TOKYO, April 8.—A Japanese millionaire is planning to send an exhibition ship around the world to introduce Japan's products to foreign lands. The steamer is to be a 10,000-ton vessel reconstructed so as to afford room for exhibition shelves and rooms for entertainments, and is to start some time this month.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arborvitae, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

In this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arborvitae at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

WILL "RISING SUN" EVER "SET" IN RUSSIA?

Japanese forces have occupied Vladivostok, shown here with a view of the harbor. Japan has long been eager to "expand" in Siberia. Even since the beginning of the peace conference she has been angling for a foothold. Now, with allied troops practically gone, and with the Japanese flag flying over the great eastern gateway, the allies anticipate a man-size job convincing the Japs they ought to leave.

France, and it is considered the action of Belgium, supporting the policy of France, hardly compensates for it. "Perrinas," the political editor of the Echo de Paris, writes an unusually savage article attacking Premier Lloyd George, whom he calls a "demagogue." He says in conclusion: "Mr. Lloyd George never has forgiven the policy adopted by France since January of being independent within the entente. He has held his time, as he thinks it is now come. We count on the clear-sightedness of our friends across the channel and the deep friendship we have found with them, to bring the chief of the Downing street cabinet back to an interpretation of the Anglo-French alliance from which he should never have departed. Such an evolution was to be expected of him. He has taken up and dropped every doctrine, and could the entente cordiale escape under this rule? The English people well know how to force him to make an exception in this case."

St. Brice of the Journal, with other foreign specialists, is more impartial and blames all of the allies of France in more measured terms. He incidentally declares: "It is shown that false reports were spread by some American newspaper correspondents in Germany, and one of these, the rumor that President Wilson had sent an ultimatum to France, provoked the Frankfurt incident."

FRENCH ADVANCE IS CON-DEMNED BY ALLIES

LONDON, April 9 (By the Associated Press).—After a long conference which the French ambassador, Paul Cambon, had with Premier Lloyd George yesterday and a full discussion of the French-German incident by the cabinet council, at which the French view was explained fully to the British ministers, an authoritative statement was issued to the effect that France acted entirely on her own initiative in deciding to occupy German towns; that Great Britain, the United States, Italy and Belgium all were opposed to the plan and that France's action had caused a delicate situation.

The matter is under discussion of the British and French governments and the hope is expressed that the situation may be eased.

Expedients Suggested

The statement recites various expedients suggested for dealing with the Ruhr situation, among others the sending of allied officers with German troops to supervise the German withdrawal. Another alternative was that the decision should be left with the German government, with the stipulation that unless the status quo was restored sufficiently the allies themselves would occupy German points to enforce their demands. The statement proceeds:

Germany Precipitate

"The German government appears to have acted precipitately and France to have responded by adopting a plan which was only intended as a last resort method and even then to have been the affair of the allies and not of any one of them simply."

Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and the United States, it is declared, all felt that the task of restoring order should lie with Germany, and all were opposed to their regular forces being called upon, except as a last resort, to undertake what are virtually police duties. It is pointed out that France feared some ulterior motive on the part of Germany and doubtless acted in good faith, but, adds the statement, "the immediate result is that the responsibility for her action cannot be shared by the allies as a whole and there certainly is no intention on the part of the British government to allow British soldiers to act as police between hostile German factions and incur all the odium of such a position, to say nothing of its risks."

No Help Now

The statement concludes: "If, and when France's suspicions of Germany's ulterior motives and deliberate flaunting of the terms of the peace treaty become accomplished facts, the allies

would doubtless be prepared to act instantly and vigorously in concert to vindicate the position and respect for the provisions of the treaty. But for the time being it may be taken that no British soldier will participate in the occupation of German cities in the neutral zone."

Anglo-French Crisis

LONDON, April 9.—The London Times says that a crisis has arisen in Anglo-French relations and that, contrary to assurances that the differences of opinion between the allies regarding the violation of the neutral zone by German troops were about to be composed by a friendly understanding, it appears that the British government yesterday took steps to emphasize their disagreement with the policy of France.

The Times adds that during the day M. Cambon, the French ambassador, had a long interview with Earl Curzon.

"Soon afterwards," continued the paper, "one of the premier's private secretaries, Philip Kerr of Bullitt fame, invited the representative of the provincial press to Downing street and informed them of Mr. Lloyd George's standpoint. Simultaneously a private communication on similar lines was addressed to the London press, and various worded communiques were issued for publication through the news agencies. These statements are understood to have been on the same lines as Earl Curzon's representations to the French ambassador."

"In official quarters last evening it was alleged that a note had been despatched to the French government through the British ambassador at Paris. "The substance of the premier's argument is that by her occupation of German towns in the neutral zone France has acted against her views and the wishes of the allied statesmen and without consultation with them. Italy, Belgium and the United States are alleged to have been opposed to the French plan. As regards Belgium, the Brussels Telegraph shows this statement to be incorrect."

London Comment

LONDON, April 9.—The keynote of

all the editorials in the London morning newspapers with regard to the divergence among the allies over the French move into Germany is anxiety as to the effect of the situation upon Anglo-French relations. The opinions differ, however, in apportioning the blame for the crisis. The anti-government press severely scores the Lloyd George cabinet. Some of the newspapers are more or less on the fence and one at least implies that France is chiefly culpable.

The Times and the Daily Mail are pronounced in their criticism of the British official attitude. The Morning Post demands that the government explain why it proclaimed to the world and especially to Germany, that there is a rift in the concord of the entente and it raises the question as to whether the house of commons will "tolerate the desertion of an ally at a critical moment."

The Daily Telegraph expresses the view that the best outcome of the trouble would be the withdrawal of General von Watter's trespassing forces, which would certainly be followed, it says, by the withdrawal of the French. The Daily Chronicle says:

"The public will suggest that the government is insisting upon the country's right to be heard and consulted in any action against Germany, but the same time it attaches paramount importance to our connection with France and expects every effort to be made to keep it close and cordial."

The Daily News says:

"France precipitated a singularly unfortunate situation. Making every allowance for France's special grounds for apprehension, it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that she counted on preventing the allies with an accomplished fact which they would be constrained to accept, rather than reveal openly a difference of opinion within the alliance. They have not been prepared to adopt that course, and it is not desirable that they should. The first essential is to heal the breach as quickly and completely as possible, but that is not to be done by the majority of the allies yielding to a minority of one."

The newspaper contends that the withdrawal of the German regulars to the Ruhr region and the consequent withdrawal of the French is the one way out of the difficulty, but that this way cannot be taken immediately if it would result in increasing the chaos and disintegration in Germany.

FLETCHER SAYS NAVY PREPARED

Made Plans for War Against
a "Central Power" Two Years Before U. S. Entered

Plan Covered Every Phase
of Naval Operations Under Assumed Conditions of War

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Two years before the United States joined the allies in the world war, the navy general board prepared a comprehensive plan for war against a "central power" of Europe, Rear Admiral F. J. Fletcher today told the senate investigating committee. He was replying to Read Admiral Sims' charge that when the United States entered the war, the navy department had no "well considered" plans or policies for fighting Germany.

Many such plans had been made in the past, Admiral Fletcher said, but the plan referred to "covered every phase of naval operations under the assumed conditions of war." It dealt, he said, with the mobilization, organization and composition of the fleet, its disposition and employment, protection of the coasts, bases of supplies on the United States coast in the West Indies, routes across the Atlantic and the enemy's forces and probable courses of action, and comprised nearly 300 typewritten pages.

Admiral Fletcher was a member of the general board during the war, but was engaged for the most part with his duties as a member of the war industries board, the priorities board and the council of national defense.

Explaining that he wished to comment on certain specific charges made by Admiral Sims before testifying regarding his duties as a member of these various boards, the witness first took up Sims' criticism that the navy was not prepared for war in April, 1917.

No navy ever was or ever will be fully prepared for war in the eyes of everyone, the admiral declared, but the American navy when it entered the war was "just as well prepared as any other navy in the world when the great war burst forth," he asserted.

Admiral Sims' declaration that the "navy department should have immediately sent all available destroyers and small craft abroad to fight submarines," sounded "plausible and convincing," the witness said, but such a course of action would have left the American coasts and ports full of invaluable vessels and cargoes open to attack by German submarines, that had demonstrated in 1916 their ability to cross the ocean, menace the United States coast and return to Germany unharmed. Such an attack, he asserted, would have caused great alarm in this country and would have prevented sending any small vessels to the war zone.

Admiral Fletcher characterized the work of the war industries board as one of the greatest achievements of the war, and declared that the members of the board complimented highly the efficiency with which the navy department conducted the business end of its participation in the war.

No loss of shipping or failure of the navy to transport troops to France prolonged the war for a single day, the admiral asserted. Admiral Sims' assertion that "the navy department is responsible for the loss of two and a half million tons of shipping, the prolongation of the war for four months, fifteen billion dollars of debt, and the loss of 500,000 lives" was based upon assumption and had no foundation in fact, the officer declared.

"The whole conclusion reached in the accusation is built up on the flimsy foundation of a hypothetical condition and is wholly without value," he said.

CHILD BADLY BURNED

While endeavoring to light a piece of paper in a stove at her home, 48 Elm street, shortly before 11 o'clock this morning, little Mary Zavaro, aged about 2 years, was painfully burned about the hands and arms. The child was playing near the front of the stove and pushed a piece of paper so near the fire that it ignited, the flames spreading to her clothing. The cries of the baby attracted the mother, who after putting out the fire summoned the ambulance and the child was removed to St. John's hospital.

TROTECHAU—CORNIER

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Francis Trotechau and Miss Blanche Cornier were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. The bride wore a brown traveling suit and carried a white rose. She was given away by her father, Mr. Charles Cornier, while the groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Lambert. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents in Moody street. The couple left later on a honeymoon trip and upon their return Saturday they will be tendered a reception at the home of the groom's mother in Orleans street. They will make their home in this city.

In many parts of England it is a belief among the women that rosemary worn about the body strengthens the memory and adds to the success of the wearer in anything she may undertake.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

George F. Wells to Be Secretary-Manager — Barbour Changes His Mind

William H. Barbour of Pottsville, Pa., with whom the Lowell chamber of commerce believed it had completed negotiations regarding the secretaryship of the local organization, has reconsidered his apparent intention of coming here and has accepted the offer of a similar position in Carbonate, Pa.

The Lowell chamber, however, feels particularly fortunate and well satisfied to announce that it has secured the services of George F. Wells, now secretary of the Jamesville, Wis., chamber of commerce and formerly assistant secretary-manager of the Buffalo, N. Y., chamber, to take over the managerial reins of the local organization.

Mr. Wells telegraphed President W. N. Goodell today that he plans to leave for Lowell on the 15th of this month, next Thursday, and it is fair to assume that his active duties will commence this week beginning April 13.

He came to Lowell a few days ago to confer with a special committee of the local board of directors and today wired his acceptance of the offer made him.

He comes highly recommended and with a splendid record of accomplishment in chamber of commerce work, both as an organizer and director.

IMPORTANT MEETINGS

Called to Discuss Prescott
Street and Grade Crossing Problems

Two important committee meetings are scheduled to be held today in the chamber of commerce rooms. Abutters and property owners in Prescott at have been asked to appear before a special committee on streets and highways to discuss the proposal of making that street a one-way thoroughfare. A great deal of opposition is expected from merchants doing business there, practically all of whom have signified a desire to be present.

At 5 o'clock this evening the special committee on the abolishment of the Middlesex grade crossing will meet to organize and informally discuss this question, which has been agitated from time to time and in various phases for several years.

LOWELL'S SHARE IN MARNE MEMORIAL

Lowell may well feel that she has more than fulfilled her obligations toward the Marne Memorial fund which will be used for the erection of a monument on the banks of the Marne, as a gift of appreciation from this country to France.

The city originally was assigned a quota of $100, but this was later increased to $200, to offset a seeming lack of support from the city of Cambridge. At the present time there is on deposit in local banks $257.30, with at least $75 more in sight, representing collections made at the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

It is believed that when the final tabulation is made for Lowell and Middlesex county, this territory will show a total far in excess of the assigned quota of $200. Lowell alone will be represented by approximately $100, donated by nearly 1500 contributors.

This is as planned, for the national organization in charge of raising the fund, expressed the desire that it be secured in small contributions, in order that as many people as possible might feel that they had an actual part in the memorial and thus making it a gift from the people of this country to France.

forward in the matter of efficient police protection will have been made.

One of these officers would cover day routes, two would be assigned to the evening shift and the fourth to the early morning shift. Supernumeraries would handle the theatre work of the transferred men.

This project would mean an additional expense to the police department, as the salaries of policemen on theatre duty are now paid by the theatres.

His second suggestion, the chief said, and one which he believes will soon be adopted, is the purchase of two additional motorcycles and sidecars for police duty—one to be used in the Highlands and the other in the Bleachery district. This would make five machines of this type in the service of the department and would enable the motorcycle squad to cover much more territory than at present.

Referring to charges that the Highlands are not adequately policed and that there are only two policemen on duty in the entire district, made last evening at a meeting of the Men's club of the Grace Universalist church, the chief stated that Patrolman Fanning, who, before his recent illness, was on duty in the Highlands, will be reassigned to that section in the very near future. This will give the district three men, one of whom will be a member of the motorcycle squad if the requested machines are purchased.

Commenting on the fact that at least one local insurance firm has advertised that its rates are to be increased as a result of the epidemic of burglaries in the city during the past two months, the chief declared that he is convinced that the breaks are the work of one man. Plain clothes men have been detailed to various parts of the city where the thief has recently operated successfully, the chief said, and are now working on a clue which they believe will bring results within a few days.

FRENCH CABINET HOLDS MEETING

Premier Millerand Informs Ministers With Regard to German Situation

Also Presents Communication Received From Great Britain

PARIS, April 9.—A meeting of the French cabinet was held this morning. It was announced that the ministers would hold another session at 6 o'clock this evening.

Premier Millerand informed the cabinet with regard to the situation in Germany. He likewise made it acquainted with a verbal communication which had been received from Great Britain on the subject of the French occupation of Frankfurt, an official notification of the British position not having yet arrived in Paris.

OLD COLONY TRUST HIGHEST BIDDER

The Old Colony Trust Co. of Boston was the highest bidder on the $300,000, 4% per cent. "High School Loan Act of 1919 Bonds" placed on sale this morning by City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke on behalf of the city. There were 13 bids in all, indicating a healthy financial condition for the city. The Old Colony Trust Co. bid was $100,727.

Today's sale was the first conducted on high school bonds since it became known that the actual construction of the new school would take place. The bonds are issued in denomination of $1000 each, dated April 1, 1920, and payable $15,000 thereof on the first day of April in each of the years from 1921 to 1930, inclusive. The bonds are exempt from taxation and will be delivered by the city treasurer a week from today at the First National bank in Boston.

SALMON LEGISLATION

Legislation Urged to Prevent Taking of Salmon From Merrimack River

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 9.—Legislation to enable the division of fisheries and game of the state department of conservation to prevent the taking of salmon from the Merrimack river was urged today by Orrin C. Bourne, state game warden, at the state house.

During the past four or five years, Mr. Bourne said, the state has placed a large quantity of Chinook salmon in the Merrimack and it is feared unless there is stricter legislation the fish will be taken out before fully developed. The Merrimack river, he pointed out, was formerly an excellent breeding ground for salmon and the division of fisheries and game is anxious to restore the fish in large numbers and for that reason it is asked that the present experiment have an opportunity to justify itself.

USE OF MACHINE GUN ACCIDENT

French Officer Says Attack on Frankfurt Crowd Was Really a Mishap

French Soldier Fearing Crowd Intended to Rush Patrol Led to Tragedy

FRANKFORT, April 8. (By Associated Press.)—Assertion that there was no intention to fire a machine gun into a crowd here on Wednesday, and that the incident was really a mishap, is made by a French officer, who witnessed it. Fear on the part of a French soldier that the crowd intended to rush the patrol in the street led to the tragedy.

This man, it is declared, put a belt of cartridges into the gun for the purpose of firing one shot to disperse the crowd. The explosion of the gun, however, caused the soldier in charge of it to become excited and the whole belt was fired. It was explained by the officer that every care had been taken to prevent a repetition of the "accident."

Inspection of the 36 machine guns brought to Frankfurt by French troops has been made and it is said none of them was found defective or to show a tendency to fire upon the insertion of the cartridge belt. All of them were used during the war. Accounts of the incident have stated that the safety catch of a gun was defective and that began to fire automatically as soon as the belt was placed in position. Twenty of those who were hit during the fusillade were only slightly wounded and were able to walk to their homes.

French Proclamations

Two new French proclamations appeared here today, one denying yesterday's rumor that the troops would be withdrawn and the other forbidding the people to fear and agitate against the troops and instructing the citizens to obey all French military orders.

Inquiry has failed to obtain confirmation of a report given out at the mayor's office that a woman and girl were struck by revolver shots fired from the windows of the Imperial hotel, where the French have established their headquarters, last night. This report stated that a crowd gathered in front of the hotel, following the shooting in the Schillerplatz and made a hostile demonstration until dispersed.

Students Blamed for Trouble

Blame for Wednesday's tragedy is placed on German students by the French, who declare they tried to stir up the people. Discussing the presence of French colored troops in the city, a French officer told the Associated Press today he did not believe it would lead to trouble. He praised them highly for their stolid qualities, and said they were very amenable to discipline.

The ban on the publication of newspapers was removed this morning and several printed editions later in the day. Journals will not be subject to censorship, French officers declare, if they refrain from printing articles tending to incite the people to disorder.

A press bureau has been established by the French, and in it hung a picture of a ruined French village. This picture bears the caption: "Germany has ravaged France."

Total Deaths Seven

A steady rain falling this morning which kept the populace off the streets was hailed with delight by the French military authorities. They expressed relief that the night had passed quietly. No further disturbances were reported anywhere in the occupied region, and the tension which resulted from the Schillerplatz incident had marked relaxed, though the populace was still extremely nervous.

An additional division of French troops was brought into Frankfurt district today, but General De Metz, the commanding officer here, informed the Associated Press, that there would be no further extension of the occupied zone at this time.

People of Frankfurt, who arose early this morning were greeted by a poster signed by the municipal authorities, warning the population not to congregate in the streets nor to say anything which would lead to friction with the French troops.

A proclamation was posted by the French promising a searching investigation of yesterday's tragedy. The number of fatalities from the Schillerplatz shooting has reached a total of seven. Two persons were killed outright and five others later died of their wounds.

Act on French Demands

PARIS, April 9. (Havas.)—Demands that Germany disarm her army and retain only 200,000 men, presented at Berlin on Wednesday by Gen. Nollet, president of the inter-allied commission of control, have been sent to the governments of the various German states by the minister of the interior, says a Berlin despatch.

Shot to Death By French Patrol

BERLIN, April 8.—Heut. Count Kallin, who was killed yesterday near Nieder Wollstadt, 16 miles north of Frankfurt, was shot by a French patrol, according to a semi-official despatch from Frankfurt.

Insults to French Army

FRANKFORT, April 8. (By Associated Press.)—Complaint of the laxity on the part of the police force of this city and its failure to control crowds was made to the chief of police today by the commander of French troops here. The chief was given until Friday noon to communicate the results of his investigations and issue more stringent instructions.

CAUSE OF COLLISION

Crash in Which 24 Were Killed Due to Misunderstanding of Order

AUGUSTA, Me., April 9.—The primary cause of the collision on the Canadian Pacific Railway at Onawa on Dec. 20, by which 24 persons were killed and 33 received injuries, some of which were of a serious nature, was the misunderstanding of an order, received at Morikill, by the conductor and engineer and a brakeman of the freight train which collided with an immigrant train, according to a decision by the public utilities commission today.

REAL ESTATE

T. C. Entwistle Co., Purchases the Gates Property

What is known as the Gates property extending from the Community club building in Dutton street through Market street to Worthen street, which was owned by Joseph Marin, has been sold to the T. C. Entwistle Co. The amount involved in the transaction is not mentioned, but is said to be over $40,000.

This property was purchased by Joseph Marin a few months ago. It consists of a three-story brick building in Dutton street, a three-story wooden building in Market street and a four-story brick building in Market and Worthen streets. The assessed valuation for the entire property is $41,500.

The T. C. Entwistle Co., the purchaser, has been a tenant of the Market street and Worthen street buildings for a great number of years, the wooden building being used for the office and the brick structure for manufacturing purposes. The company will continue to occupy these buildings. No plans have as yet been made relative to the Dutton street building.

TO REBUILD CHURCH

A permit for the rebuilding of the Lawrence Street Primitive Methodist church, recently damaged by fire, was taken out today at the office of the building department by Rev. John Singleton, pastor of the church. The permit provides for the repair of fire damage and restoration of the building along its original lines. The estimated cost is $15,000.

COURT STENOGRAPHER TAKES OWN TESTIMONY

The action of contract in the sum of $2000 brought by Felix Albert against Nardisse Clairmont and which went to trial in the superior court here yesterday, was given to the jury shortly after the court re-convened today for the afternoon session.

An unusual event occurred during the morning session when Alexander M. Gilbert, court stenographer, was put on as a witness by plaintiff's counsel, to testify as to the contents of certain stenographic reports of evidence given at a previous trial of the case. Mr. Gilbert continued his stenographic work while on the stand, writing out questions of counsel and his own replies.

The next case on the list for trial is an action of contract brought by

Finlay Christholm against Lilla M. Baker. The plaintiff declares defendant owes him $210, loaned in varying sums during August and September, 1918. The defendant denies all allegations and further states that if the suit is on a bill or note, the same has been procured by fraud and calls upon the plaintiff to prove her signature. In the case of LeBlanc vs. Delany, whereby the plaintiff brought suit, charging the defendant with causing the death of his wife in an automobile accident on the Lawrence-Lowell road, and in which defendant defaulted, the jury has awarded damages of $5500.

AND THE JUDGE SAID "TWO MONTHS"

Louis Perault tried to get ahead of it high cost of living—but like many another he lost the decision. Louis has been employed for several weeks as bus boy at the Plaza lunch on Bridge street and since he became a member of the establishment various and sundry delicacies have been strangely missing.

A full-sized chicken, for one thing, vanished into the unknown—then, too, several cans of crabmeat, shrimps and sardines have also disappeared from view.

All of which didn't make much of a hit with the proprietors of the restaurant, Messrs. Nicholas and Elias Houple. So the two told the police of these uncanny happenings, and Patrolman Lee was ordered to take a hand in solving the problem.

Which brings us up to today's session of the municipal court where Louis was arraigned on a charge of stealing the delicacies aforesaid.

Louis said he didn't do it, but Patrolman Lee said differently, and after hearing the evidence Judge Enright said "Two months."

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 8.—An undercurrent of caution pervaded the stock market at the irregular opening of today's session. This was attributed in large part to the irregularities of the market, particularly the spread of the railroad strike and latest advices dealing with the Franco-German situation. There were indications of considerable short selling based on these factors. Changes were fractional in the main, although several of the leading stocks and equities gained from one to two points. A number of stocks rose at the end of the first half hour.

The early rally failed to hold, fresh selling being induced by reports that the railroad strike had caused partial suspension of traffic at western industrial centers. Reactions of one to three points were made by speculative issues and Stomberg last nine points but soon recovered most of its decline. Before noon another buying movement occurred, oils, shippings, and equipments leading the rebound with sugars, some of the latter making substantial advances. The volume of trading, however, was far below that of previous days of the week.

BIG POPULATION GAINS

Portland, Me., Shows Increase of 10,625, Quincy, Mass.,

Makes Gain of 14,964

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Population statistics announced by the census bureau today included:

Portland, Me., 49,196; Biddeford, Me., 18,008; Quincy, Mass., 47,611.

Increases: Portland, 10,625, or 18.1 per cent. over 1910. Biddeford, 925, or 5.4 per cent. Quincy, 14,969, or 15.9 per cent. Lancaster, Ohio, 14,709, increase 1013, or 15.3 per cent.

BACK FROM THEIR EASTER VACATION

Sessions at the Rogers hall school were resumed today after the annual Easter vacation and activities immediately began to swing into the usual stride of regularity. Now that all the students have returned their attention will be turned towards the attempt of the school to raise a fund of $300,000 for the erection of a new recitation building and general improvement of the grounds, as previously announced in The Sun.

The first social affair was given this afternoon for the entertainment of alumni and friends of the school. The afternoon program opened at 2.15 with a bridge party with guests utilizing 50 tables, which was followed by a swimming exhibition by some of the girls in the gymnasium tank. Tea was served at bridge.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BRIEF MEETING

George H. Brown, former member of the local city government, has petitioned the municipal council for reimbursement to the extent of $100 for attorney's fees contracted some five or six years ago in a suit brought by the Knox Automobile Co. against the city in connection with the purchase of motor fire apparatus.

The petition was received at this morning's meeting of the council and was immediately referred to the mayor and city solicitor. Mr. Brown had previously asked the council to reimburse him for $2400 for attorney's expenses in connection with the same case but, owing to the unfavorable attitude of the courts on the matter, Mr. Brown says in his present petition the claim has not been pressed further.

Mr. Brown explains that he did not enter a claim for the $400 before because he thought the bill was high, but later he was sued for that amount and believes that he has a just claim against the city.

There was little other business of importance transacted at today's meeting. The council met at 11.15. Mayor

Thompson and Commissioner Salmon were absent and Commissioner Marchand presided.

The bonds of Katherine H. McAtee, Joseph Farrell, Edith McPherson and Stephen Flynn, approved by the city solicitor, were accepted.

Maurice W. Mulcahy was granted a license to conduct a lunchcart on the southern side of Jackson street for a garage license at 15 Gardner avenue and James E. Rudolph for a gasoline license at 14 E street were referred for hearings on April 27.

Alphonse Hilsore petitioned for a sewer in Denton street and the matter was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

The claim of Dennis W. Heslin for compensation for personal injuries, alleged to have been sustained in Gosham street, between St. Peter's school and St. John's church on Feb. 23, was referred to the law department.

Adjourned at 11.25 until tomorrow at 11 a. m.

rejoice by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. The bride wore a blue suit and hat to match, and carried American Beauty roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Toney, who was attired in a brown suit and wore a hat to match and carried marguerites. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. John Powers. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was an emerald finger ring, and the groom's gift to the best man was a cameo ring. At the close of the ceremony a reception was given to immediate relatives of the couple at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Toney at 72 Lillie avenue. After an extended wedding tour, which will include New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Powers will make their home in Fort Hill avenue, this city.

FIRST DISORDER IN R. R. STRIKE

Switchmen Who Proposed Men Return to Work Shot —Others Slugged

Sabotage Urged by "Rebel" Organizer—Tells of Wrecking Trains

CHICAGO, April 9.—One switchman was shot and several were slugged at meetings of the striking railroad men last night, police learned today. John Kintz, a striker, who proposed that the men return to work, was shot in the arm. He was taken away in an ambulance by friends.

Trouble developed at two meetings of the newly formed Chicago Yardmen's association when members suggested a return to the ranks of the established brotherhoods.

"Broad to Be Rebel"
Sabotage was advocated by one of the speakers, E. O. Esly, a C.Y.C. organizer, who participated in the Gary steel strike and several labor disturbances here. "They call me a rebel," Esly told the strikers. "I'm proud to be a rebel. In 1910, I had charge of a railroad strike in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The men all went out and stayed out."

"I went down to the I.W.W. headquarters and got some help. Then one day four passenger trains were wrecked. The next day seven freight trains were wrecked. Then we went word to the railroads that if they didn't come across we would tear down the roundhouse. They didn't answer—we did. The roundhouse was torn down."

Blow Up Bridge
"Then the railroads begged for mercy and asked to meet us. We told them to come to us. There was a meeting. The union drew up a contract and the railroad refused it. The next day we blew up a bridge. That night an ice jam formed in the river and tore down the rest of the bridge, so they don't know to this day who did the job. But we won the strike."

"I did 90 days in jail for blocking the mails. I got off light because I told the judge I didn't know the law. But, of course, I knew it then as well as I do now."

SPEEDSTERS BEWARE!

Police Supt. Opens Vigorous Campaign Against Over-speeding

A vigorous drive against over-speeding has been instituted by Supt. Welch of the local police department in connection with the safety first campaign which is being waged here during the first two weeks of April in an effort to minimize motor vehicle accidents in this city, which last year caused the deaths of 23 persons and resulted in injuries to fully 200.

Plain clothes men have been assigned to all of the thickly settled districts of the city to see to it that the motor vehicle laws relative to over-speeding are strictly observed, and violators of these regulations will be brought before the local court and summarily dealt with.

The regulations of the Massachusetts highway commission provide that autos and motorcycle operators must conform to the following rules: Fifteen miles an hour in the thickly settled districts of a city; 20 miles an hour in suburbs and eight miles an hour when passing intersecting streets.

Many complaints have been received in the past few days in connection with over-speeding in the Highlands, the chief station. Young men operating grocery and market trucks are said to be the principal offenders.

Safety First Campaign

Several well known public speakers will make brief addresses in the local theatres early next week in connection with the presentation of the "Careless America" accident prevention film which has been secured by Supt. Welch to bring home to the people of Lowell the frightful penalty which carelessness exacts from its victims.

The services of these speakers have been secured through the co-operation of the Community Service club, which, with the chamber of commerce, has put its shoulder to the wheel in an effort to send the campaign across.

Supt. Welch, the general director of the campaign, will himself speak at some of the theatres where the picture is being shown this evening and will point out the best methods of preventing street traffic accidents.

The chief spoke at three theatres last evening in the interest of the movement—the Strand, Jewel and Crown. He pointed out that motor vehicle accidents in Lowell and throughout the country are mainly caused by the failure of pedestrians and drivers to exercise due caution, and stressed the importance of a strict observance of traffic regulations.

NOT ARRESTED—CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO SHOE SHINE PARLOR

Accused of breaking into a shoe shine parlor on Fletcher street and stealing $20 in cash, 15-year-old Raymond Foot was arrested last night by Patrolman O'Neil. It is believed that the boy recently escaped from the Middlesex County Training school and the officials of the school have been notified of his arrest. The break occurred shortly after midnight.

WANT CHAUFFEURS' LICENSES

Thirty-three applicants for chauffeur licenses were examined at city hall today by Inspectors Hubbell and Farley of the state highway commission.

Residents of Highlands to Appeal to Mayor for Better Police Protection

Residents of the Highlands who attended the meeting of the Men's club at the Grace Universalist church last night expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the amount of police protection being given properly in that section and instructed the city committee of the club to conduct a thorough investigation of the matter and forthwith present the issue to Mayor Thompson, with a plea for more protection if such be needed.

Although the action taken was the direct result of the break last Saturday night at the homes of Dr. Rodger and Edward F. Woodward in Cascade avenue, it was evident that the feeling of dissatisfaction had been smoldering for some time. Several house breaks were spoken of which have never been made public.

It was the consensus of opinion that the stretch of territory between upper Chelmsford street and upper Middlesex street is altogether too large to be adequately covered by two patrolmen in the night time and while the meeting did not instruct its special committee along definite lines, or make any suggestions as to a method of getting better protection, it was plainly evident that the members assembled were of the unanimous belief that something must be done in their behalf.

The business meeting was preceded by a supper of usual excellence, served in the parish house. A snatch of music by William E. Potter created a happy feeling. The address of the evening was given by Prof. David D. Vaughn of Boston university, on "American Ideals." It was a forceful and clear exposition of the needs and opportunities of the country today in an era of reconstruction. The speaker subdivided his talk under the headings: Truth, freedom, justice and service and garnished his address with interesting and humorous anecdotes in illustration of point.

Speaking of the need of humane justice, Prof. Vaughn compared employment conditions in regard to minors in Massachusetts and some places in the west and said the employment laws in this commonwealth might well serve as a pattern for other states. He said justice falls short of any human standard when it allows a child to become of industrial age at 10 years.

As during a previous address given in this city, Prof. Vaughn used the life of Thomas Edison as an illuminating example of true service to humanity and then spoke of the sacrifice of soldiers and sailors as typifying another phase of service to mankind and country. The speaker conducted an informal forum at the end of his talk, inviting and answering any number of questions.

Mayor Underpaid

$3500 a year and ranks next to Lowell for small municipality remuneration. Her superintendent of schools, however, receives $1000 per year or $100 more than the superintendent of schools in this city. The salary of the superintendent in the downriver city was increased $100 last February.

The city of Worcester pays her mayor $5000 a year or $2000 a year more than Lowell. Her superintendent of schools is one of the highest paid in the state, receiving $6000. There have been no recent increases for either official.

The city of Lynn pays her mayor $2500 a year, the same amount as paid the Lawrence chief executive. Her superintendent of schools receives only $2500 a year, or $1000 less than Supt. Molloy of this city. There have been no salary changes in the past year, but a referendum is to be held this fall as to whether the mayor's salary shall be increased to $5000 per year.

The city of New Bedford has an exceptionally high paid mayor, his salary being $7500 a year, or more than twice that which Mayor Thompson receives for administering the details of a municipality of the same character. The New Bedford superintendent of schools receives $5000 per year.

Springfield, over in the western part of the state, pays her mayor $1000 per year, and her superintendent of schools $3500, each official getting $1000 a year more than these in Lowell. There have been no recent increases in that city.

The mayor of Fall River also receives $1000 a year and the superintendent of schools $1700 a year. The mayor is allowed $1 per day in addition to his salary for the use of his automobile. The mayor has been receiving this salary since Jan. 1, 1917, but the salary of the superintendent of schools was increased on March 1 of this year from $1300 to $1700.

From these figures, including the salaries paid to Lowell officials, it is found that the average mayor's salary for the seven cities is slightly more than $4357. Mayor Thompson's salary of $3000 is $1357 below this amount.

The legislature had before it at its current session a bill to increase the salary of the mayor of Lowell to $5000 per year, but nobody appeared in favor of it and now came this week that it had been killed.

has been given great prominence throughout New England. He is thoroughly familiar with every aspect of this important question which now is concerning the minds of thousands of people in every community in the country.

While Rev. Mr. Robinson's address will be the high light of the meeting, a most interesting and closely allied program is announced. Two-minute talks concerning the co-operation of the various departments of the city organization with the recreation work of Lowell, will be given by Commissioner George E. Marchand, representing the council; Thomas B. Delaney, chairman of the school committee, and Clarence M. Weed of the park commission.

Greetings from the Middlesex Women's club will be given by Mrs. Harry Prescott Graves and Miss Emily Skilton will briefly outline Lowell's need of opportunities for community dancing.

Community singing will also form a feature of the meeting. It will be led by Miss Inez Field Damon, who recently came to the Lowell Normal school as instructor of music, after enjoying unusual success in musical work in Schenectady, where she was supervisor of music in the public schools.

There are at present 52 organizations connected with Lowell Community Service as associate members, with delegated representatives to the community council meetings. These or-
